DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

ALLEGED LIBEL.

WOMAN CHARGED.

(BEFORE MR. CUSSEN.)

The Attorney-General, at the suit of Inspector Beggs, brought a charge against Julia Mooney, whose address was given as 29 Parliament street, for having published a defamatory libel on April 21 concerning Mrs. Annie Masterson, in the form of a letter; also on April 24 concerning Sarah Masterson in a letter addressed, "Masterson, 12 Boyne street, Dublin"; also on April 27 publishing a defamatory libel concerning Sarah Masterson, in the form of a letter, with the same address.

Mr. D. O'Donovan, State Solicitor, prosecuted, and Mr. Liam T. McCarthy, solicitor, defended.

Mrs. Annie Masterson gave evidence of receiving the letters (produced), but she could not say on what dates they were received.

Cross-examined, the witness said that she had nothing against the defendant except that she was always "tormenting" her and her family. She admitted that, in respect of summonses and counter-summonses between the two families, she had been bound over.

Miss Sarah Masterson, daughter of the last witness, gave evidence as to the dates on which the three letters were received.

Inspector Beggs said that when he showed defendant the letters she suggested that they had been written by some member of the Masterson family. She protested her innocence. Defendant and her husband had resided in rooms over the Masterson family.

Captain Quirke, who compared the handwriting on the letters with defendant's handwriting, said that the documents were the work of the same person.

The case was adjourned until Saturday.

FAILURE TO STAMP INSURANCE CARDS.

(BEFORE MR. E. J. LITTLE, D.J.)

The National Health Insurance Commissioners sued Joseph Hyland Greenfields, Coolock, for failing to stamp the insurance cards of Margaret Reid for a period of fifty-three weeks, the amount being £1 10s. 11d.

Defendant explained that Reid had been engaged by his wife at 10s. per week and was to stamp her own cards. Nothing was stopped from her for stamps.

A decree for the amount was given and a fine of 1s imposed.

In a further case against the same defendant in respect of an employé named Sheehan, in whose case the amount was £3 9s. 4d., covering the period from January 7, 1930, to December 30, 1931,

Mr. O'Flaherty, of the Chief State Solicitor's Office, who prosecuted, said that as the result of the defendant's default Sheehan had lost benefit and did not get £2, which he otherwise would have received.

A decree for the amount was given, with £1 costs.

LIABILITY FOR ACCIDENTS.

PECULIAR SCHOOLS POSITION.

"If all the national schools of Ireland collapsed to-morrow, is there no one responsible for rebuilding them?" This question was asked by Judge Sheehy at Manorhamilton Circuit Court, in a claim by Francis McKeon, a minor, suing by his father, against the Very Rev. Francis Flynn, P.P., V.F., manager of Drumkeerin National School, for £300 damages for injuries alleged to have been received when the boy stepped into a hole in the school floor.

Mr. Smyth, for plaintiff, said that under the regulations of the Department of Education the manager was responsible for making arrangements for the repair of schools. Under the Education Act, 1902, the authorities responsible for school repairs were liable for damages for accidents arising from neglect in keeping schools in repair.

Mr. Pringle held that the plaintiff must establish that the manager was guilty of some breach of statutory duty.

Judge Sheehy said that in Ireland there must be some law analogous to that of the English Act.

Mr. Barra O'Brian disclaimed any liability on the part of the Department of Education and Board of Works.

The Very Rev. Francis Flynn, P.P., V.F., said he could not repair Drumkeerin School, owing to its bad condition. He had been in communication with the Department of Education, but no repairs had been done.

In reserving his decision, Judge Sheehy said that the case was giving him very anxious thought. Both the department and the manager denied liability, but someone must be responsible.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR.—Refiners not offering for near position, but August delivery reduced 1½d. per cwt.

GALWAY BILL IN SENATE.

MAYOR AS AN IRISH-SPEAKER.

QUESTION OF THE CONSTITUTION.

IN the Senate yesterday, Mr. O'HANLON moved the second reading of the Local Government (Galway) Bill, 1934, which seeks to incorporate the inhabitants of Galway as a municipal corporation.

Mr. BLYTHE said that he wished to point out that certain matters which were absent from the bill should be incorporated before it left the Oireachtas. About 46 per cent. of the inhabitants of Galway spoke Irish, and it was the only considerable urban area that could be made readily Irish-speaking. One of the great obstacles and handicaps in the way of preserving the language was that it was purely a rural language, and in even the smallest towns and villages the tendency was to speak English. If the town was honoured and privileged to be incorporated something ought to be done to improve the status of the Irish language in its municipal affairs.

There should be a provision in the bill providing that the minutes of the Corporation meetings should be written and read in Irish. There should be the further provision that the person elected to the office of Mayor should be an Irish speaker, so that if members of the Council wished to conduct the proceedings in the Irish language there would be no difficulties in the way. He would like also to see some provision inserted providing that after some reasonable period a person would not be eligible for election except he knew sufficient Irish.

THE CASE OF THE COURTS.

Mr. STAINES said that while he agreed that they must encourage Irish as far as possible, in the case of a man who did not understand Irish charged in the court with an offence, justice should come first. Of the present Urban Council staff, numbering 39, only 27 were Irish speakers, while of the 24 members only nine spoke Irish. If there was a corporation the men at present on the Urban Council would be elected, and was the Senate to deprive them of their positions?

Mr. COUNIHAN said that the proposal that no persons should be elected to the Mayoralty of Galway except Irish speakers was one with which no sane senator could agree.

Mr. COMYN, K.C., said that while he agreed with Senator Blythe, there would be some difficulty in regard to the method of determining whether a person was an Irish speaker or not.

THE CONSTITUTION.

Mr. BROWN said that in the Constitution English was also an official language. A constitutional question might arise if the promotors of the bill made Irish a qualification for the office of Mayor.

The second stage of the bill was agreed to.

On the motion of Mr. M. F. O'HANLON, Vice-Chairman of the Senate, seconded by Mr. R. WILSON, it was decided to refer the bill to a Joint Committee of both Houses of the Oireachtas.

DEFENCE FORCES BILL.

A NEW AMENDMENT.

When the Defence Forces (Temporary Provisions) Bill (No. 2) was received from the Dail, the Chairman intimated that the Dail had disagreed with the Senate amendment limiting the operation of the bill to the 30th November next.

Colonel MOORE moved that the Senate do not insist on its amendment, but substitute a new amendment extending the lifetime of the Defence Forces (Temporary Provisions) Bill to 31st March, 1935.

Mr. CONNOLLY formally seconded, and the amendment was agreed to without discussion.

POULTRY FEEDERS AND MAIZE MIXTURE.

On the report stage of the Poultry (Diseases) Bill,

Miss K. BROWNE said that the barley and maize mixture advocated by the Government had been responsible for mortality among the chickens. Several people had expressed their satisfaction at the protest that she had made on the matter during the previous discussion on the bill, and had told her what everybody with experience in this matter must know—that barley in any form was poison for young animals or poultry.

Mr. COMYN said that practical and scientific people had told him that a mixture of maize and barley suitably ground was a proper food, even for chickens. Miss Browne had attempted on all occasions to cast some sort of reflection on the policy of the present Government to foster tillage and agriculture in this country.

Mr. CROSBIE said that they had a dairy school of European fame in Cork, and he would like to know if they had tested out there these various mixtures. If the reports were published, Senators could then judge the value of the mixtures for themselves.

Mr. JAMESON asked the Minister to tell them something about this question of barley being fed to chickens. Very definite statements had been made to him by his people that the mixture of barley in the food for chickens was bad, and that the chickens died.

Dr. RYAN (Minister for Agriculture) said that experiments had been carried out in feed mixtures for many years, and the results had been published in the Department's journals. Every single experiment had shown that home-grown barley was equal to maize in some percentages and superior in others. He had informed opinion on his side in this matter. If there was a prejudice against barley, there was no necessity for any poultry feeder to use barley. There was an oats and maize meal mixture which could be got. There were chickens dying, and they had brought in this bill to deal with certain diseases.

The report stage was agreed to.

OLD MEN'S HOME, NORTHBROOK ROAD.

The monthly meeting of the Committee of Management was held at the Institution on the 11th inst., Arthur H. Scale, Esq., presiding. Also present:—Rev. Canon A. E. Hughes, Messrs. J. Vincent Bradley, T. St. John Bagnall, and Geo. M. Irwin.

Apologies received from Messrs. Wm. Montgomery and William R. Burgess.

The meeting opened with prayer.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read, confirmed and signed.

The reports of the Visiting Physician (Dr. Winter) and of the Monthly Visitors were submitted, and orders made thereon.

Messrs. A. C. Sibthorpe and A. H. Scale kindly consented to act as Visitors during ensuing month.

The accounts for the past month, previously examined by the Secretary and submitted to the Ladies' Committee, were laid before the Board and cheques in discharge thereof amounting to £111 0/7, were signed.

Other routine business having been disposed of, the Board adjourned.

The following subscriptions are gratefully acknowledged:—Mr. J. H. Cooper, £2 2/-; Messrs. T. Alfred Fannin and Parkes and Sons, £1 1/- each; Messrs. E. J. Beaumont Nesbitt and Arthur H. Scale, £1 each.

Further subscriptions and donations are earnestly solicited and will be thankfully received by the Hon. Treasurer, William B. Conyngham, Esq., 26 Belgrave square, Monkstown, Co. Dublin, or by the Secretary, at the Institution.

THE AMERICAN MARKETS.

SOARING WHEAT PRICES: STOCKS CLOSE IRREGULAR.

NEW YORK, Wednesday.

Contrary to the normal course of events, the decided strength of the Wheat Market had no special stimulus on the Stock Exchange to-day, the opinion being offered that the resultant higher prices for food may tend to reduce spending power in other directions. After some initial animation, operations became slow, and the final price changes were indecisive. Sales equalled yesterday's at 650,000 shares.

Business was dull in the afternoon. With the initial advances further reduced by profit-taking, the market assumed an irregular appearance, while bullish enthusiasm was restrained by the heaviness of "wet" stocks. The reason for the latter's weakness was attributed partly to the Government order extending to October 31 the period during which liquor may be imported to an unlimited extent. Brokerage sentiment, nevertheless, remained optimistic, though tempered with caution.

The market closed irregular.

WINNIPEG GRAINS.

WHEAT opened firm at 1¼c. to 1½c. dearer. Fair overnight export business, together with the strength abroad and of Chicago, resulted in a general buying movement, influenced by the prospects of a bullish Canadian Government report. Advices of serious damage by frost in Regina induced considerable buying and covering. The market closed strong, with prices 6¼c. to 6½c. higher. Opening options—July, 78; October, 80; December, 80¼. CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Wednesday.

On the grain market to-day accumulated buying orders absorbed the scattered offerings. Bullish foreign crop news, coupled with the fact that the Government report was considerably under private estimates and the prospects of a decidedly serious world grain situation, encouraged a broader outside speculative interest. As a result Chicago grains closed at the maximum limit of advances. Heavy profit-taking on the wheat market was readily absorbed owing to the figures in the Government report indicating tightness in the supply-and-demand situation. Although the general belief on the maize market was that the Government figures were too low, reports indicating that moisture was needed over wide areas and the strength of the cash market, together with the knowledge that the critical stages in the growing of the crop are still ahead, encouraged considerable buying and covering, and prices advanced in unison with wheat. Rye and oats both strengthened in sympathy with other grains.

WHEAT opened strong and 5c. higher. The close was strong, with values 5c. to 4½c. up.

MIDNIGHT RAID AT BALLINALEE.

THEFT OF POSTAL ORDERS.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONGFORD, Wednesday.

Before Mr. J. P. Kenny, D.J., here to-day, Joseph O'Donnell, alias Michael Joseph O'Donnell, was brought up in custody on charges of breaking and entering the Post Office at Ballinalee on the night of June 19 and robbing it of postal orders value £53 10s. 6d., also 8s. 9d. in coin and a post office date stamp. He was also charged with stealing two bicycles the property of Thomas McDowell and James Mullen, of the Ballinalee district, on the same date.

Mrs. M. A. Kiernan, postmistress at Ballinalee, gave evidence of finding the post office window broken, and the place littered, and the money, postal orders and date stamp missing.

Eugene Kiernan stated that he had picked the accused out of an identification parade as a man who had asked him in the post office managed by his mother if a telegram had arrived for an address which he gave. There was no such telegram.

Sergeant James McLoughlin, Granard, gave evidence of taking over the accused from the police at Dale street, Liverpool, on June 23, and receiving from them a sum of £29 10s. in Bank of England notes found in O'Donnell's possession, as well as the Ballinalee date stamp and postal orders stamped "Ballinalee, 20th June," to the value of £17.

A statement made by the accused man detailed at great length his movements on the night of the robbery, and described how he endeavoured to get into the post office at Ballinalee by cutting the glass. The glass cutter failed, and he procured a hack-saw in a forge in the village, broke the glass, entered by the window and took the postal orders, cash and date-stamp. He also took the bicycles to get away and reached Clones, and later that morning crossed the border, cashed several of the postal orders in Armagh, Lurgan, Lisburn and Belfast, took the evening boat from Belfast to Liverpool, and, having purchased clothing and a watch, cashed further orders in Liverpool.

The accused man was sent for trial in custody to Longford Circuit Court in October.

CLOSING DUBLIN SCHOOLS.

DEPARTMENT'S ATTITUDE.

The following statement was issued by the Government Information Bureau yesterday:—

"The attention of the Department of Education has been called to newspaper reports about the closing of national schools in Dublin at lunch-hour each day during the continuance of the heat wave, and in particular to the statement that if such a request were made by managers of schools it would be favourably considered by the Department.

"The Department is always ready to consider representations on matters affecting the schools, but in this case no representations were made by managers or teachers before the publication of the newspaper reports.

"Many of the schools in Dublin will close at the end of this week, and almost all of them will be closed by the 20th of the month. In these circumstances it is not considered necessary to depart from the regulations governing the work of the schools."

TONE AND COMMENT

DUBLIN IDLE.

INDUSTRIALS STRONGER.

The market on Dublin Stock Exchange yesterday was small and idle, but the tone was steady, and in the Industrial department prices showed a tendency to improve.

Free State Funds were practically unchanged, and Land Bonds lost 2s. 6d. War Loan again touched the 104 mark, and closed 2s. 6d. over that price.

Dublin Corporation 3½ p.c. rose 5s. to 94. Banks were passed over. Among Rails, Guaranteed Northern Debs. lost 10s., and Great Southern Debs. were unchanged. Dublin Tramway Debs. rose 10s.

Guinness Ord. and Pref. were both dealt in at the previous price, and Alliance Gas repeated 14. Burke Debs. and Irish Tanners Ord. and Pref. were all unchanged.

The Industrial market was small, but all changes, except one, were to higher levels. B.A.T. rose 1s. 3d., Imperial Tobacco 1½d., Dunlops 3d., Chemicals 4½d., and do. Pref. 9d. Lever 8 p.c. fell threepence.

The National Bank dividend is repeated at 6 p.c. for the half year.

LONDON FIRM.

AIRCRAFT ISSUES IN DEMAND.

Firm conditions characterised the majority of sections in the London Stock markets yesterday, and, taken as a whole, markets presented quite an animated appearance. Buying on a good scale was encountered in a number of departments, and, while markets were not entirely devoid of dull features, the bulk of the movements resulting at the close were in the right direction. A feature was the revival of activity in Aircraft descriptions, interest being stimulated by the news that expansion of the Royal Air Force is to start immediately, and under the impetus of strong buying quotations forged ahead in no uncertain fashion. Rubber shares were another active market in sympathy with the continued strength shown by the commodity, while there were many strong features among the Industrial issues. British Rails, however, closed on a somewhat irregular note, for, after improving further in the early hours, profit-taking developed, and the retrograde movement was accentuated by the traffic figures, which were considered somewhat disappointing.

There was another good business passing in the Gilt-edged department and quotations were raised fractionally in most instances. Foreign Government stocks attracted only a moderate volume of business, but, apart from the German descriptions, which were again rather severely handled, quotations were well maintained. Among Colonial and Foreign Rails, the Argentine issues lost fresh ground, but Americans were firmer.

The Industrial market as a whole received wider attention than recently and a generally firm tone ruled, Aviation issues being especially favoured, while a number of the Miscellaneous leaders returned improved values. Tillings, however, remained dull and Paton and Baldwins went off. In other directions Oils showed little material alteration. Mines we e quieter and easier inclined in a number of instances.

THE INDUSTRIAL MARKET.

GENERALS A GOOD SPOT.

A cheerful tone, despite the rather thin dimensions of orders, pervaded the Industrial and Miscellaneous markets yesterday.

The Griffiths Hughes Proprietaries' issue of £1,000,000 5½ per cent. Preference at 20s. 6d. was understood to have been subscribed for ten times, and the market idea is that dealings will start on the basis of 1s. 6d. premium. This will mean 22s. fully paid, which will give a yield of 5 per cent. on the initial market price. Lively trading is anticipated, and "stags" are hopeful.

Cables and Wireless were on the dull side, and Canadian Marconi lost the turn.

Among trans-Atlantics, Radio Corporation were good with a rise of 3/16, and Nickels improved ¼, but Tractions lost the turn.

Iron, Coal and Steel Descriptions made an irregular showing.

A revival of active interest in Aviation and allied descriptions resulted from reports that the Government has decided to increase the Air Force.

A feature was again provided among Motor shares by Leylands, which continued in keen demand, and further advanced to 35s. Standards put on another 1/16 at 3 5/16. Tillings continued dull, a further decline of 1/16 being shown at 4 11/16, with sellers still in evidence.

Generals were again a good spot among Electrical Equipments, the shares further rising 6d. to 44s. 9d.

Among Breweries changes were few and unimportant.

Tobacco shares had less business.

Among Textile issues J. and P. Coats continued in demand on a market short of stock, and rose further to 65s. Otherwise price movements were generally to lower levels.

Among Rayons support was again forthcoming for American Celanese, which improved to 5⅜. Courtaulds were out of favour, and although there was no selling pressure the shares looked tired, and the price fell further to 50s.

Departmental Stores issues were neglected, apart from Marks and Spencer, which rose another 1/16 to 11⅜, the "A" also improving to 11⅜. Woolworth had steady trade either side of 103s.

In the Miscellaneous group Dunlops were again in request, and rose further to 46s. with a good turnover. Chemical issues also showed improvement; the Ord. finished firm at 36s., with the Pref. slightly better at 32s. 7½d. In the Brick group a persistent demand for London Brick on trading reports raised their price 1s. 9d. to 93s.

OIL SHARES QUIET.

The firmer tone which has characterised leading Oil shares during the past few days continued in evidence in the early hours of yesterday, but with trading on a small scale little fresh improvement was shown in quotations.

There was again virtually nothing doing in international counters on Continental account, and local business had little influence on prices, so that, with a few minor exceptions, values remained at Tuesday's final levels.

RUBBER SHARES GOOD.

Interest in the Rubber Share market yesterday was stimulated by the further appreciation in the raw material, and dealings were carried through on quite an animated scale in a number of instances, while quotations continued to advance practically all along the line. A fair demand was evident in the commodity department, and firm conditions prevailed. Spot and July realised 7 7/16d. per pound, with August quoted at 7½d. per pound and September at 7 9/16d. per pound, while October to December, after opening at 7⅝d., strengthened to 7 11/16d. per pound.

LONDON "STREET" MARKET.

There was not a great deal of business in the American market last evening, and prices, after being steady, were inclined to have an irregular appearance. Tractions closed at 8 11/16. Nickels were bid for at 26, as were Hydros at 5. Radios offered at 7; Steels hardened to 40⅜, and Canadas were a shade higher at 14 1/16. "Emmies" closed slightly better at 29s., while Molasses finished around 19s. Among home Industrials, Courtaulds were a shade easier at 50s.

WHITE STAR LINE MEETING.

"534" A WILD CAT SCHEME.

Counsel's opinion that the suggested action against former directors would not succeed was cited by Mr. John W. Watts in his speech as chairman at the meeting of the White Star Line, Ltd., in London yesterday.

Mr. Watts recalled that at the last meeting a shareholder criticised the board for not instituting action against certain former directors of the company and the Oceanic Company and the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company. If any shareholder of the White Star Company was not satisfied and pressed for action to be attempted, it was competent for the board of the White Star Company to authorise any such action to be brought in the name of the company at the risk of those shareholders who desired it.

Mr. Pickwick, referring to the building of the "534," asked what benefit the shareholders of that company were going to get out of it. The building of those gigantic liners was a thing of the past. It was not a company's duty to finance schemes for Atlantic racing, and it was of no interest to shareholders for their ships to race those of another fleet. He described the "534" as a wild cat scheme, and said big ships half filled were no good to anybody.

The Chairman, replying, said that a great many people would support Mr. Pickwick's pertinent remarks about the "534," and, while it was irrelevant to the affairs of the White Star Company, he must say he agreed with the remarks. There was very great doubt whether those large liners were the economic success they might be.

LONDON MINING MARKET QUIET.

MOVEMENTS NARROW.

Although there was no great increase in the volume of trading in the Mining Market yesterday, the tone generally was rather firmer than on the preceding day. Kaffirs were mostly idle, apart from a few of the newer introductions, and neither the Cape nor Paris seemed inclined to take a hand.

There was very little doing in the Rhodesian department, and Chartered and the Gold shares were hardly mentioned.

Tin descriptions still claimed very little attention, the few changes recorded being irregular in character and insignificant in extent

In the Australian department South Kalgurli came into request. Closing prices:—

THE MONEY MARKET

RALLY IN SILVER.

The price of gold yesterday was fixed 1½d. lower at 137s. 11d. per ounce fine. About £146,000 was in the market, and was taken by the usual buyers. Credit was in plentiful supply and borrowers were offered accommodation until to-day at ¾ per cent. Discount rates were steady, fine three months' Bank bills being quoted at ⅞ per cent. and the "hot" Treasuries at 11/16 per cent.

Silver rallied ⅛d. on speculative buying to 20 11/16d. per ounce for spot, and 20 11/16d. for forward delivery.

Quiet conditions prevailed in the foreign exchange market yesterday, and movements of the principal rates were within narrower limits than earlier in the week. Early in the day the trend of the market was again rather adverse to sterling, but, as on the previous day, more support was forthcoming later in the day, and the £ was very little changed in relation to the gold currencies at the close. On the advance in the price of silver, higher rates were quoted on Far Eastern currencies. The Shanghai dollar was ⅛d. dearer at 16⅛d., while the Hong Kong dollar was a fraction firmer at 17 11/16d.

MAN KILLED IN FACTORY FIRE.

FIVE OTHERS SERIOUSLY INJURED.

One man has died, five were seriously hurt, and a number of others received minor injuries in a big fire yesterday in the cork factory at Washington, County Durham, chemical works. Had the fire broken out a few minutes later than it did many more men would have been in peril; for large numbers of workpeople were due to return from their dinner hour.

The man who died was Herbert Shaw, the assistant manager.

The men injured are George Bodley, James Cleus, David Urwin, Norman Robinson, and John Atkinson.

Cleus and Atkinson both received head injuries, and all six men were taken to the Royal Victoria Infirmary at Newcastle, where Shaw died.

Shaw, who was severely burned, was caught on a stairway by falling masonry, and Robinson was rescued by workmates, who found him pinned by the leg in a passage-way by débris.

It is stated that the fire began with a flash, and within fifteen minutes a corrugated iron roof had fallen in and flames were shooting across to a high tower of a gas-producing plant, which also took fire.

The works fire brigade and the Houghton rescue brigade quickly tackled the outbreak, but were faced with great difficulties. They had to lay a hose half a mile to a water storage tank, into which water was pumped from the River Wear.

The flames shot up to a tremendous height, and were watched by thousands of people along the river bank.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Griffiths Hughes Proprietaries.

The list for the issue at 20s. 6d. per share of 1,000,000 Five and a-Half per Cent. Cumulative Preference shares of £1 each of Griffiths Hughes Proprietaries closed at 9.5 a.m. The issue has been over-subscribed. The company has been formed to acquire the issued share capital of E. Griffiths Hughes, manufacturing chemists, owners of Kruschen Salts and other well-known medicinal and other preparations.

New French Loan.

A new Loan issue of 3,000,000,000 francs (about £40,000,000) by the French Government is announced for to-day. The Bonds, which will be issued at 95, will bear interest at 4 per cent. The object of the Loan, it is stated, is to ease the Treasury and to facilitate the reimbursement of the so-called Clementel 10-Year Bonds, issued in 1924, which will fall due next October. The Bonds will be issued in the denomination of 1,000 francs, repayable at 140 francs at the end of fifty years.

Taylors (Cash Chemists) Trust.

The accounts of this company has in previous years been made up to the 31st March, the annual meeting being held in July, but as the financial years of the company's main subsidiaries end on the 30th September the directors have determined to make up the accounts of this company to that date, and the same will be available towards the end of October or the commencement of November next. It is stated that the results of the company up to the 31st March, 1934, show an improvement on the results up to the 31st March, 1933.

Ariston Gold Mines (1929).

A circular to shareholders states that, owing to the accident in June, operations were temporarily disorganised, resulting in a decreased output for that month. A total of 3,708 tons were milled for a total revenue, including estimated premium, of £11,926, showing a working profit of £3,854. From July 1 the daily tonnage treated has been normal and continuous. The technical advisers report that the recent results at depth are of such importance as to justify an intensive development scheme being put in hand to coincide with the sinking of the new main shaft. The directors consider that the expenditure involved should be met out of capital, and have decided to issue the balance of the unissued capital—354,026 shares of 2s. 6d. each. Shareholders registered on July 17 will be entitled as of right to subscribe for one new share in respect of every 15 old shares held at the price of 7s. 6d. per new share. Forms of application will be posted on the 21st inst.

Austin Reed.

Ordinary shareholders of Austin Reed (clothiers) will on July 31 be asked to sanction an increase of the capital of the company to £900,000 by the creation of 200,000 new redeemable 5 per cent. Cumulative Preference shares of £1 each. It is stated that new freehold premises have been acquired and others are under consideration. The directors have entered into a provisional agreement for the new shares to be taken up at a price which will provide the company with a sum in excess of £200,000. When issued, shareholders may acquire some of these shares through their brokers.

Canadian Pacific Traffics.

Earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the seven days ended July 7 amounted to 2,342,000 dollars, an increase of 26,000 dollars, compared with the corresponding period last year. Aggregate traffics for 1934 to date are 59,552,000 dollars, an increase of 6,512,000 dollars.

London Traffic Receipts.

The London Passenger Transport Board receipts for the week ended July 7, before pooling with the main line railways, amounted to £552,100, which was an increase of £52,000 on the corresponding week last year. The receipts this year include receipts of 'bus and coach undertakings not absorbed by London Transport in the corresponding period of last year.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

Five catalogues were offered, totalling 8,035 bales, comprising 442 New South Wales, 1,104 Victorian, 233 South Australian, 3 West Australian, 24 Tasmanian, 2,708 New Zealand, 217 Kenya Colony, 101 Cape, 350 Punta Arenas, 1,216 Patagonian, 171 Peruvian, 37 Chilian, 1,409 English, 18 Jamaican and 3 Rhodesian. With only another day to go to complete the series, buyers were fairly well in evidence, and a steady clearance was effected, except for South American kinds, which were largely bought in. Prices were maintained, while slightly firmer for the lower grades of greasy crossbred.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

NATIONAL BANK.

The directors of the National Bank have declared a dividend of 6 per cent. (1s. 2 2-5d. per share) for half-year ended June 30, 1934 (same); £10,000 to contingencies (same); £10,000 to reserve (same); £35,355 forward, against £31,338 brought in.

BARCLAYS' DEPOSITS LOWER.

The statement of Barclays Bank, Ltd., at June 30 last shows that since the end of June, 1933, deposits have declined about £15,000,000—from £379,395,572 to £364,311,803. Bills discounted are about £20,000,000 lower at £40,744,485. Advances are almost unchanged at £156,281,811, and cash, at £43,913,519, compares with £44,517,285 a year ago. Investments total £108,308,636, against £106,480,786. The ratio of cash to deposits is 12.05 per cent., against 11.73 per cent., and of advances to deposits 42.90 per cent., against 41.28 per cent.

The statement is shown below, with those of 1933 and 1932:—

Anglo-Dutch Plantations of Java.—Sterling depreciation caused a loss on the exchange of £207,641, against a loss in the previous year of £216,913. The Java company's profit is given as £47,689, arrived at after charging the exchange loss, and £132,807, against £161,245, for depreciation. The Anglo-Dutch accounts, after incorporating the Java company's profit and charging Debenture interest, show a loss of £736, against one of £46,176 in the previous year, after taking £100,000 from the reserve. After crediting £85,075 brought forward, there is £84,339 to go forward to next year.

Assets Co.—Dividend of 2½ per cent., less tax, against 2 per cent.

Central Commercial Properties.—Final dividend for second half-year ended June 30, 1934, at rate of 12 per cent. per annum, making 10 per cent., against 8 per cent.

Dorada Railway.—Revenue in 1933 amounted to £89,529 and working expenses to £66,221. The surplus of £23,308 compares with £6,101 in 1932, when revenue was £87,186 and expenses £81,085. To the balance of £23,308 was added £44,845 brought in and sundry items of £11,762, as against £14,995 in the previous year, and there thus became available £79,915. Debenture charges and income tax absorbed £20,473, as against £20,551, but in addition £1,970 was written off pile-driver and motor lorries, and £723 lost on remittances, while a further £31,606 has been written off differences in exchange. The remaining credit of £25,142 is to be carried over. As exchange in Colombia has been controlled throughout the year it was not possible to remit the considerable sum of currency accumulated there. Wages have been increased owing to a rise in the cost of living, and expenses in 1934 should be higher than in 1933. The 6 per Cent. Debenture Stock outstanding was reduced from £314,314 to £266,614, and the company is prepared to consider further purchases. The last dividend was 5 per cent. for 1930.

Duff Development.—The accounts for the year to March 31st last show that working profits amounted to £2,683, from which has been deducted the debit of £1,358 brought in. From the remaining £1,325 there has been deducted preliminary expenses of £1,143, and the balance of £182 is to be carried forward. Owing to adverse weather the crop declined from 1,210,314lb. to 1,120,228lb., but the sale price rose from 2.57d. to 4.05d. per lb., while costs were 2.63d. as against 2.10d. per lb. The previous accounts, from April 14th, 1932, to March 31st, 1933, revealed a loss of £1,358. No dividends have yet been paid.

Doolooogram Tea.—The accounts for 1933 show a profit of £6,943, which compares with a loss of £3,009 for the previous year, while sundry revenue amounted to £114. Manager's commission absorbed £383, Debenture interest £1,078, and Debenture issue expenses £597. A sum of £51 was placed to staff provident fund and £2,000 to development reserve, leaving a balance of £3,053. This credit has been applied in reducing the debit carried forward from £8,902 to £5,849. The last dividend was 12½ per cent. for 1927.

English China Clays.—Payment of arrear of dividend on Cumulative Preference Shares at rate of 7 per cent. per annum for three months ended September 30, 1932.

Harbens.—Profit for year, £15,703 (against £24,834); forward, £62,778 (against £76,369); no dividend (same). Directors state production recently increased over thirty per cent., which will reduce cost of production, and enable company to meet increasing demand for their yarns.

John Hern (Stockport).—Interim 9d. per share (against 6d.).

La Guaira and Caracas Railway.—During 1933 revenue declined by £36,699 to £49,789, and working expenses by £12,779 to £57,663. To the deficit of £7,873 were added charges in respect of Debenture notes interest, bad debts, and taxation, which amounted to £25,286, as against £24,596, making a total of £44,159. Against this was credited sundry items of £1,056, £6,328 brought in, and £26,000 from reserve, which gave a credit balance of £225, which is to be carried forward. A report on the transport situation is to be prepared by an official appointed by the Government with a view to legislating for the regulation of road transport. Prospects for 1934 were considered brighter. No funds were available for the interest on the 5 per Cent. Debentures and 5 per Cent. Notes, and it will be necessary to seek an extension of the moratorium when it expires next month.

Manchester Commercial Buildings.—Interim Ordinary 6d. per share. (Same.)

Manchester Bonding Warehousing.—Interim 1/- per share. (Same.)

Manchester Palace of Varieties.—Ordinary, 12½ per cent. for year (against final 2½ per cent., making 5 per cent. last year).

Mawchi Mines.—Interim dividend of 15 per cent. (actual), less tax, on Ordinary on account of the profit for the year ending 31st December, 1934.

Mount Coolon Gold Mines.—Further dividend of 15 per cent. making 40 per cent. to date, compared with 20 per cent. for the fourteen months ended December 31, 1933.

New Zealand Insurance.—Final dividend of 5 per cent., again making 10 per cent., and a special bonus of 2½ per cent. on the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the company.

Richard Thomas and Co.—In the year to March 31, 1934, trading profits were £474,743 and the net profit £263,063, the former figure showing a rise compared with 1932-33 of £179,910, and the latter an increase of £151,623. The combined profit and loss account shows a trading profit, including credits which are extraneous to the period, and income from sundry investments, amounting to £778,001, or £246,758 more than in the previous year. Net profit subject to interests of outside shareholders is shown at £392,612, against £191,020, the surplus available to Richard Thomas being £375,393, compared with £172,926.

Tamplin and Son's Brewery.—After providing for general expenses, rent, interest, directors' fees, etc., and £10,000, against nil, reserved for improvements, the accounts of Tamplin and Son's Brewery, Brighton, Ltd., for the year ended April 30 last show a profit of £121,181, which compares with £119,067 for the previous year. After providing for taxation, interest accrued on loans, charges in respect of Debenture stocks, and the sinking fund of the "Smithers" Mortgage Debenture stock, the dividends on the Preference shares and the interim on the Ordinary shares, there remained £23,607, and £32,855 was brought in. The directors now propose to write £5,000 off Debenture conversion expenses and to repeat the allocation to general reserve at £5,000, while, as recently announced, a final dividend of 6¼ per cent. is recommended, making 10 per cent. for the year, as compared with 7½ per cent. for 1932-33, leaving £34,750 to go forward.

United States Debenture Corporation.—Dividend of 3 per cent. for half-year on Ordinary Stock. (Same.)

United Gas Industries.—Initial dividend of 25 per cent. on the Deferred shares. The Ordinary shares receive 11 per cent. for the year to March 31, 1934, compared with 8½ per cent. for 1932-33.

Zaloni Tea Estates.—The accounts for 1933 show a net profit of £8,726, which compares with a net loss of £3,434 for the preceding 12 months. It is now proposed to pay a dividend of 7½ per cent. for the year, against nil for 1932, while £2,000 is to be transferred to reserve, leaving, subject to manager's commission, £1,545 to be carried forward, as against £819 brought in. In 1932 a sum of £1,000 was withdrawn from reserve. Instead of making the usual allowance for depreciation, the directors have decided to take advantage of the opportunity of making a transfer of £13,000 from reserve, thus reducing the item of buildings, plant, machinery, etc., to a nominal figure of £495.

THE LATE REV. BROTHER M. C. BRODERICK.

The funeral of the Rev. Brother Michael Conrad Broderick took place yesterday at the Christian Brothers', Baldoyle. The eldest son of Mr. Michael Broderick, 37 Gladstone street, Clonmel, Brother Conrad received his education at the Christian Brothers' High School, Clonmel. At the age of fifteen he was admitted to the Novitiate of the Order of Christian Brothers at St. Joseph's, Baldoyle, in 1926. After training, he was transferred to the Novitiate St. Helena, Booterstown, where he gave evidence of possessing the disposition and attainment necessary for the important work he was to undertake. He was later transferred to the Christian Brothers' Training College at St. Mary's, Marino. His health became impaired, however, and for the past four years he was in the Christian Brothers' sanatorium at St. Patrick's, Baldoyle, where his death occurred on Sunday night last.

A Requiem Mass was celebrated yesterday morning, the Rev. Father V. O'Rourke being the celebrant. The Christian Brothers who attended represented every part of Ireland, and Brothers from London, Liverpool and Gibraltar were also present.

The chief mourners were:—Mr. and Mrs. Michael Broderick (parents), Mr. Patrick Broderick (brother), the Misses Peg and Alice Broderick (sisters), Mr. and Mrs. Sean Fleming and Miss Eileen Boland.

Four men were wounded, two seriously, when the police fired on longshoremen strike pickets who attempted to prevent a goods train from proceeding to the municipal terminus at Portland, Oregon.

IRISHMAN'S DIARY.

The Moat of Ardscull : Hurling in London : An Old Politician. North Dublin's Strands.

Mr. John D. Nugent.

The passing of the A.O.H. Insurance Society into the new National grouping of associations, I am glad to hear, does not signalise the retirement of its founder, Mr. John D. Nugent, from insurance activities. He will, I gather, continue to preside over various allied undertakings with which the new "pool" is not concerned. For many years a member of the old Irish Party, and a close personal friend of the late Mr. Joseph Devlin, "J.D."—as his friends knew him—was a "bonnie fechter," and aroused not a few hostilities when hard knocks had to be exchanged. But when he retired from the political arena, and concentrated his organising abilities on insurance, old asperities were forgotten and hosts of old critics entered his circle of friends. A native of Keady, County Armagh, Mr. Nugent possesses stocks of Northern shrewdness and energy which are by no means exhausted.

In Darkest Portmarnock.

A well-known resident in Portmarnock seizes the occasion of the dedication of another half million or so to Shannon development to remind me that one of Dublin's most popular and growing seaside resorts would still rejoice in Cimmerian darkness were it not for oil lamps and tallow candles. "Here we are," he says, "within nine miles of the G.P.O., several years after the much cracked-up Shannon scheme was, according to its ministerial promoters, to give light and heat to every hamlet in the Free State, and we might as well be in Timbuctoo or Kamskatka so far as electricity is concerned. We feel that we have simply been humbugged. Can you do anything to help to lighten our darkness?" All I can do to help my friend is, of course, to commend his quite legitimate lament to the E.S.B., and to suggest that he should enlist the activity of the County Council or the Board of Health as public exponents of his grievance.

"Ireland's Eye" Invaded.

A friend who is not given to exaggeration sends me an almost incredible account of events at Howth last Sunday. From the early afternoon until sundown, he assures me, queues of hundreds of pleasure seekers thronged the East Pier at Howth waiting for the next motor launch to take them to Ireland's Eye. Five or six launches, each capable of carrying over 50 passengers to the island in ten minutes, were ultimately unable to meet demands for accommodation, with the result that many would-be "islanders" had to postpone their projected visits. Anxious to see what "the Eye" looked like, my friend made his way across, and found the island metaphorically "black with people"—picnicking, bathing, and taking "sun-baths." His estimate is that not less than four thousand visitors were there—a figure which he subsequently checked off with the pleasure launch-owners, who were still busy at midnight with their "return cargoes." My friend adds his observations about the absence of water supplies and sanitary accommodation on the island—matters which will, I feel sure, have the attention of the new Howth Urban Council now that Dublin has discovered a new wave-washed pleasure resort.

North Dublin's Seasides.

Where all the people come from in increasing crowds every sunny week-end to the beaches of Howth and Dollymount and Portmarnock, puzzles my friend and puzzles me. Last Sunday, while Ireland's Eye was invaded and the Bull Strand "blacker" than ever with visitors, the Velvet Strand crowds set up a new record. Estimates of the numbers which invaded Portmarnock vary from twenty to thirty-five thousand, figures which seem to be confirmed by the fact that just 14,000 passengers presented themselves at Amiens street for "sixpenny returns" to the popular resort. Added to the thousands carried by a big fleet of special 'buses, and by other conveyances, such records are truly astonishing. With such evidences of possibilities before them one wonders when the County Board of Health and Howth Council are going to make really serious efforts to preserve and improve the amenities of their properties. Meanwhile, one can only reflect on the way in which English or Isle of Man authorities would organise to profit by such opportunities.

Hurling in Hyde Park.

We Irish have a faculty for making our presence felt in most unlikely places, as was proved to me during a recent visit to London. One afternoon (writes a correspondent) while strolling through Hyde Park, which was crowded with children playing and adults enjoying the sunshine, my curiosity was excited by the sight of a large number of people grouped round a railing encircling a plot on which some game seemed to be in progress. I went towards them, and a vaguely familiar clash of stick against stick greeted my ear. A few lusty young men were playing an impromptu hurling match, folded coats serving as makeshift goals. This prepared me for the sight that met my eyes when I emerged from the park into Knightsbridge, an athletic girl carrying a camóg boarding a Kensington-bound 'bus.

The Moat of Ardscull.

Motorists from other countries who come to Ireland often complain of the winding roads, with double curves and sharp corners, along which it is impossible to travel swiftly. I know one stretch of highway, however, which ought to gladden the heart of the speed lover; the road between Kilcullen and Athy, which hardly deviates from a straight line for about fifteen miles. At the end of this long course, which is actually a gradual ascent, there is an ancient fortification known as the Moat of Ardscull, which consists of earthworks piled up to a considerable height. It is situated about three miles on the Dublin side of Athy, and was the scene of a great battle in 1315 between the Scots, under Robert Bruce, and the English, under Raymond Le Gros and Sir William Prendergast. The Scots were victorious on this occasion, and the two English leaders were killed in the battle. It is not clear whether the moat was raised for the purpose of this conflict, or whether it existed prior to it, but about one hundred years ago it was enclosed and planted by the Duke of Leinster, and now forms one of the most conspicuous landmarks in the Midlands, commanding a remarkable view of the surrounding country.

QUIDNUNC.

IF THE BREHON LAWS WERE IN FORCE TO-DAY

Dr. EOIN MacNEILL'S LECTURE TO CELTIC CONGRESS.

THE ARTHURIAN LEGENDS AS A SOURCE OF INSPIRATION.

The Brehon laws were discussed by Dr. Eoin MacNeill, Professor of Irish History at the University College, Dublin, in an address which he delivered yesterday to delegates to the Celtic Congress in Dublin.

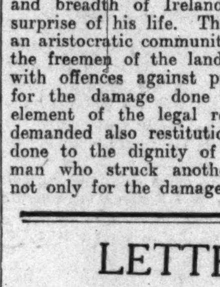

Mr. John Cameron (Scotland), who presided, said that Professor MacNeill was recognised in Scotland as the best-known writer on Irish history, and added that one found more histories of Ireland written by "outsiders" than by Irish people. After reading many of these, he said, the reader arrived at a state of great confusion.

Professor MacNeill, opening his lecture, stressed the necessity of the study of history of a "liberating" imagination, to detach the student from the circumstances of his own time. The Brehon laws, he continued, were committed to writing between the years A.D. 650 and 750, and belonged to the earliest period of Irish manuscript writing, while the language was highly technical. As in our statutes nowadays, some of the words were antiquated, even when they were written down, and these had to be interpreted under great difficulties, with the aid of ancient "glosses." Taking that into consideration, it had to be agreed that the work of O'Currie and O'Donovan, the translators, was stupendous.

INACCURACIES.

It was utterly impossible, however, that their work should be accurate. Some of the inaccuracies were very serious, and had misled those who came after. Not one of the editors who followed them was competent to revise their translations.

The laws were adapted by jurists of the different periods to suit the conditions of their times, by glosses and commentaries, written on the manuscripts, so that there was a sort of continuous legislation. A curious aspect of this was that those jurists all seemed to be able to reach agreement.

DR. E. MACNEILL.

Before A.D. 650 there was no Irish writing, Professor MacNeill proceeded, adding that, although that statement might be challenged, he made it with a full sense of responsibility. The Druids avoided all writing, their teachings being conveyed in innumerable verses. This mnemonic method was to be found in these laws, which had poetry in every line.

Remarking that only the other day he read a statement by someone—who was evidently an enthusiastic young man—hoping that the Brehon laws would be put into operation again to-day, Dr. MacNeill said that if that young man were to wake up and find the Brehon Laws in force throughout the length and breadth of Ireland he would get the surprise of his life. These were the laws of an aristocratic community, of a limited class, the freemen of the land. One section dealt with offences against property. Restitution for the damage done was, of course, an element of the legal remedy, but the law demanded also restitution for the dishonour done to the dignity of property, just as a man who struck another now had to pay not only for the damage done to the person, but for the damage done to his honour. For this payment, they placed a universal minimum of two milch cows.

"I think no other body of ancient laws in Europe—I know nothing about those of China—gives you an insight in such extraordinary detail into the life of the people they concerned," said the lecturer. He went on to point out that they did not picture a golden age or a perfect human society, and that they contained many things that nobody would like to see revived to-day. On the other hand, they did show a highly-advanced and developed culture.

Dr. Binchy, he added—"our coming greatest authority on these laws"—agreed with him that the technical language of them was extraordinarily careful and accurate to a degree which had not been equalled since the Greek philosophers.

At the time of the Norse invasions, he thought, there began a decadence in the treatment not only of these laws by the jurists, but in the social framework to which the laws applied, and this possibly continued until the violent extinction of Irish law about the year 1600.

DISCUSSION.

In the discussion which followed, Mr. F. Llewellyn Jones, M.P. (Wales) stressed the fact that research revealed that their Celtic ancestors lived very differently from barbarians. They had complicated institutions, highly-developed legal codes, and jurists who cultivated the laws which had been handed down traditionally and orally. Mr. Jones suggested that the Free State Government might publish a compilation of the old Irish laws, which might be made by Dr. MacNeill and other authorities, in English, so that it would be available to all who were trying by a study of comparative law to form a just estimate of the value and importance of the ancient codes.

The Rev. Dr. Neill Ross (Scotland) said that the laws showed the long, long trail that the Celts had behind them.

Professor Hughes (Wales) suggested that research work must be done with a view to discovering if there were any common basis of the ancient laws of Ireland and Wales.

Professor T. O Maille (Ireland) said that the framers of these laws were shown to have the "legal mind" of present-day jurists.

Dr. Douglas Hyde endorsed the lecturer's praise for O'Currie and O'Donovan, and spoke of the bad treatment these men received at the Royal Irish Academy, where they were not permitted to work together.

The Chairman said that there was plenty of evidence that in ancient Ireland legislative assemblies existed, and denied that the laws were not made operative. While there were no policemen or sheriffs' officers to enforce them, they knew that any person who disobeyed them was outlawed.

ARTHURIAN LEGENDS.

Professor Mary Williams, D.Ph., read a paper dealing with Arthurian legends, under the title of "Geraint and Enid," in reference to the wanderings of missionaries between Cardiganshire, Ireland, Cornwall and Brittany, and the effects of them on the stories which ultimately were incorporated in the Arthurian legends.

All these missionaries were following the old trade routes of pre-historic times between Ireland, Wales, Brittany and Cornwall.

Geraint, she said, is the Dunmonian hero, one of three at least of that name, and whose fame in South Wales had been introduced first of all by the missionaries who were closely connected with South Cardiganshire, and had christianised Dunmonia, and, later, Brittany.

Having given details of the different versions—French, Welsh, German and Norse—of the story of Geraint and Enid, the lecturer said we were much indebted to the old saints (named, not because they were saints, as the term was understood to-day, but because they were regarded as good and holy) for many reasons.

Many an interesting piece of folklore had been preserved in their "Lives," which would otherwise have been forgotten. To their wanderings we owe a great deal of our Arthurian literature, or what goes by that name. Much of this was localised in Cornwall, and it was a matter of very deep regret that so little of the literature of both Cornwall and of Brittany has been preserved, for it so greatly enriched, not only our own country, but also so many countries on the Continent.

It should be the aim, said Miss Williams, of the Celtic Congress to bring to light as much of the literature as is still unpublished. Ireland had a very rich store in its many libraries, and in the hearts of its people. The world needed fresh inspiration, now perhaps more than ever.

"It is," said Miss Williams, "a great contribution which Celtic countries, united as we are to-day, can make for the welfare of mankind. We need a second story of the Grail for a respiritualising of the world as in the Middle Ages. Only the Celtic countries can do this."

On the motion of Professor Ernest Hughes (Wales), seconded by Professor Agnes O'Farrelly, a vote of thanks was given to Miss Williams.

Dr. Douglas Hyde presided.

In the afternoon the visitors were taken on a tour of the city under the guidance of Professor Macalister.

OLD DUBLIN.

Before the delegates started on their tour Professor Macalister delivered a lecture, in which he said that the oldest mention of any place that could possibly be identified with Dublin was on the map of the Alexandrian geographer, Ptolemy, who lived in the second century A.D. He mentioned a number of towns; among them Eblana, which, roughly speaking, occupied the position on which Dublin now stood.

The present city was, however, of much later origin. It was one of the cities founded by the Scandinavians during their raids into this country. Waterford, Limerick and one or two smaller cities were also founded by the Scandinavians as bases for their raids. Around Dublin were a great many places with Norse names, such as Dalkey and Lambay. The Norse kings of Dublin were the first in Ireland to stamp a coinage. Norse Dublin was a very small affair compared with the present-day city.

Detailing the itinerary of the tour, Professor Macalister said that it included visits to the old Parliament House, Christ Church Cathedral, the old city walls, Chapelizod, the premises of the Royal Society of Antiquaries in Merrion square, and Trinity College.

Professor Macalister added that Rome was built on seven hills, but Dublin was built on seven rivers.

A report of the evening proceedings will be found in Page 8.

ON THE WIRELESS

Daily Programme Review.

DUBLIN: "Meet Mrs. Beeton," play by L. du Garde Peach, 8.4.

BELFAST: Wireless Orchestra, 4.15.

B.B.C. NATIONAL: The Wireless Singers, 9.40.

ALL REGIONALS: "The Fantastic Battle," play for broadcasting, 8.

NORTH REGIONAL: Flute and Pianoforte Sonatas, 3.50.

BUDAPEST: Mozart Concert, 10.20.

TO-NIGHT Dorothy Day and Company will present "Meet Mrs. Beeton." Miss Day has done well to choose this play of L. du Garde Peach, which is described as a culinary comedy for all wives. It is obvious that Mrs. Beeton is no other than she of cookery book fame, but in this play Mr. Peach lets us know more of what she was really like, and introduces elements that, perhaps, we have never connected with her before. Most of us think of Mrs. Beeton as married to her culinary art and leave her at that.

Miss Day has also chosen a splendid cast, including Coralie Carmichael, Betty Chancellor, John Stephenson, and others equally well known, and this broadcast will be looked forward to with pleasure. The play was originally written for and produced by the B.B.C. in the early part of this year. (Dublin, Athlone and Cork, 8.4.)

The Proclamation ceremony of the Royal National Eisteddfod of Wales will be held in the Castle of Caernarvon this afternoon. The Eisteddfod for this year will be held at Neath next August, but each year in the month before the event the Proclamation of the Eisteddfod for the coming year is made. Mr. Lloyd George will give an address at the ceremony, and the proceedings will be relayed from Caernarvon Castle at 3 on the West Regional wave-length.

"Pep" is the only word with which to describe the performance given by the Café Colette Orchestra, from he who announces the items to be played to "ze beauteeful Breetish leesners" to the final good-bye to "ze most sharming audience in ze world." Their performance of continental music and the vigour which they maintain to the end of an almost non-stop programme is amazing. The same two vocal soloists as heard on previous occasions are still with the orchestra: they are Aranka von Major and Marcel de Haes. (Daventry, 8.20.)

Listeners who have enjoyed "Soft Lights and Sweet Music" previously will hear another programme devised by Austin Croom-Johnson to-night. The usual good cast will take part in this entertaining presentation which precedes the Café Colette at 8.

"THE HORSES' PARADISE."

REST FIELDS FOR ANIMALS.

OPENED BY THE LORD MAYOR.

"ABOUT a week ago a man wrote to me telling me he was laid up in bed. He asked me how in the meanwhile his horse could be provided for. That week I had received the invitation to open these rest fields for horses. It was a happy coincidence that I should have been so placed in the position of sending you a patient," said the Lord Mayor of Dublin (Alderman A. Byrne, T.D.) yesterday, when declaring open the new rest fields for horses and other animals at Woodtown Manor, near Rathfarnham. The rest fields have been established by the South County Dublin Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. They are 17 acres in area, and are at present resting 20 horses. There is provision for the care of another score. This Society is the first Irish society to realise the need of rest fields for the animals of very poor owners. The scheme has grown from a petty beginning, in which a few acres, purchased in 1932, at Stillorgan, was made, however inadequately, to serve until the present well sheltered and watered pasture was taken over, and became justly known as "The Horses' Paradise."

THEIR FIRST HOLIDAY.

Mr. Denis Barrett, Chairman of the Society, welcomed the Lord Mayor, and said that for the majority of the horses received at the rest fields their arrival there was the first holiday they had had since they began their working days. In providing these rest fields their Society aimed at helping the deserving poor, who used a horse or donkey to earn a livelihood, and who, when anything happened the animal were unable to give it proper treatment or care. He asked for aid to enable the Society to supply some owners of old animals with new ones.

The Lord Mayor, in declaring the rest fields open, said that the Society was carrying on a splendid work in helping the poor owners of horses when they were unemployed or had need to give their animals a rest. The horses came back to the owners fitter to enable them to earn a living, and he was sure that these men would show their appreciation of the Society when they again got employment by becoming subscribers to the Society.

MERCHANTS' HELP.

Mr. Neill Watson thanked the commercial firms of Dublin who had subscribed towards the upkeep of the rest fields. The Society had received subscriptions from merchants who had at one time used horses, but now had replaced them by motors.

Mr. J. Oakes, Dundrum, said that he did not think that there had been sufficient sympathy with worn out animals on the part of the public.

The Lord Mayor and a party of ladies then inspected the fields and the animals holiday-making in them.

Among those present were:—The Lord Mayor, Mrs. Westly, Miss Orme, Miss Hickie, Lord and Lady Trimbleson, Mr. Denis Barrett, Colonel and Mrs. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Verschoyle, Colonel F. and Mrs. McCabe, Miss J. E. Potterton, Miss Urquhart, Miss Harris-Robinson, Rev. I. G. and Mrs. Julian, Miss McCheane, Mrs. Bland, Mrs. Stokes, Miss Powell, Miss Boyd, the Misses Moore, Mr. Neill-Watson and party, Mrs. Fenton, Mrs. Whitton, Miss C. Whitton, Miss H. Whitton, Mrs. Crozier, Mr. and Mrs. Clive Brooks, Miss Harvey, Robinson, Colonel Henry and Mrs. Mansfield, Miss Corbally, Miss Barbara Knox, Miss Rochfort Wade, Miss Armitage, Miss Eacott, Miss Curtis, Captain and Mrs. Delamere, Mrs. Trevor Overend, Miss N. Overend, Mr. Oakes, Captain and Mrs. Elliott-Smith, Mrs. Kingsmill Moore, Major de Courcy Wheeler.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE SHANNON SCHEME.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—With reference to the proposed new works for raising the level of the water in Lough Derg by another two feet, I should like to point out, for the benefit of deputies who do not know the lake, that an enormous amount of compensation will be necessary owing to the further flooding of lands, and in some places of houses and gardens, and the submerging of boat-houses, harbours and piers. I know myself, and have been told on very good authority, that the flooding will be far more extensive and damaging than that already caused by the first scheme. I was informed by one of the head men on the Shannon Scheme that they had no idea that there would be so much damage caused and compensation claimed by the raising of the lake to 110 feet; so I trust that before anything further is done the Government will carefully consider these matters. It might, perhaps, enlarge or erect another Pigeon House for use, if necessary, in a dry year, thus avoiding the destruction of many farms and spoiling residences and the beauty of the lake.

The Mayfly fishing is now almost the only fishing left to attract visitors, and it would suffer very considerably, if not altogether the actual fishing; the islands and foreshore would be submerged, making it extremely difficult to find landing places for lunch and teas and collecting of Mayflies; also, the water being right up to the trees and bushes, would make dryfly fishing from the shore impossible in many places, and eventually kill much beautiful timber.

These latter may seem small points; but for the residents, visitors, hotels and boatmen they mean a great deal, especially as the splendid salmon and trout fishing on the river at Killaloe and Castleconnell is gone for ever, certainly as far as sport is concerned; so I hope the Government will give these matters their earnest consideration before ruining the fishing and the beauty of the Shannon Lakes.—Yours, etc.,

SIR,—...are begging the hospitality of your columns to appeal for this purpose.

All those who have seen the film, "Man of Aran," or have visited the island when on holidays, will realise something of the hard and comfortless lives of these islanders (who, on Inisheere, have no medical aid whatever), and will, we feel sure, be good enough to send us some contribution, however small, towards this most deserving object. These would be most gratefully acknowledged by us.—Yours, etc.,

Fresh Air Fund.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—This is the holiday season and weather. May we remind your readers that there are hundreds of children on the waiting list of the Children's Fresh Air Fund, recommended by doctors as needing "a few weeks in the country"? Delicate, under-fed children, sharing one tenement room with as many as eight or nine other members of the family, their only playground is the hot and dusty streets.

£1 sent to us now will take one child from these surroundings for two weeks to a country cottage in the Dublin mountains, where there will be plenty of fresh air, freedom to roam the hills and valleys, good food and quiet, restful sleep.

Will all who have enjoyed or are looking forward to their annual holiday help by sending us £1, so that one small child may get a holiday too?—Yours, etc.,

CRIMINAL LAW AMENDMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The argument of "Christian" would have secured for him, as a very young schoolchild, a severe rapping over the knuckles; for it indicates a lamentable lack of thought. Nothing could be easier than to tabulate the phrasing of the Lord's Prayer as befitting the multitudinous questions of the day.

Certainly, He taught us to pray: "Lead us not into temptation," but did He delegate to any man, or body of men, the right to pry into the lives of the children of His creation, and deny them the full use of the wills with which He thought fit to endow them? The freedom of thought and expression, as it affects the main issues of life, is the heritage of every human, and though, as I have already said, I hold no bias against the Roman Church, I yet fail to experience any admiration for an institution which seeks to deprive its members of that heritage.

Nothing is more calculated than interference with personal liberty to bring about a revolt, as is evidenced by the instance of the ecclesiastics "purging" the country of its alleged wickednesses through the medium of An Dail. There is, I beg to suggest, something amiss with a religious system which seeks to secure observance of its principles by such means.

Of what consequence is the triumph over evil if there is no option but to triumph?—Yours, etc.,

"W. B. O."

SUBSCRIPTIONS AND APPEALS.

A Nurse for Aran.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—As it has been brought to the notice of the Department of Local Government and Public Health that there is a great need of establishing a nurse on the Island of Inisheere, Aran Islands, this body have consented to sanction a grant for the purpose, which is to be administered under the Lady Dudley Scheme for District Nursing. While this grant is sufficient for the maintenance of the nurse, it does not allow for the furnishing of the house and equipment. The funds of the Lady Dudley nurses are hard pressed to meet their ordinary commitments, so we

HIBERNIAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

The monthly meeting of the General Committee of the Hibernian Bible Society was held in the Bible House, 41-42 Dawson street, Dublin, on Tuesday last. Present:—The Very Rev. Dr. Macaulay (presiding), the Rev. W. R. Budd, the Rev. W. H. Coulter, M.A.; Mr. W. Houghton Fry, Mr. Sidney Barron, Mr. E. C. Buckley, Mr. W. Boulton Conyngham, Mr. W. D. Darling, Mr. Ireton Jones, Mr. W. Hamilton Kenny, Mr. William Kyle, and Mr. Benjamin Purdy.

The Committee recorded with deep regret the death of their colleague, Mr. Alfred D. Price, C.E., who was a member of the Committee since 1925, and tendered to his children their sincere sympathy. It was decided to support a Biblewoman to work under Miss Ling, of the Toda Mission in the Nilgiri Hills, South India. The thanks of the Committee was tendered to Dr. Douglas Hyde for so kindly reading the proofs of St. Matthew's Gospel in Irish.

The Deputation Secretary reported that during June eleven sermons had been preached and two meetings addressed. Four thousand seven hundred and twenty Bibles, Testaments and Portions were granted free and at reduced prices for Day and Sunday Schools, prizes, Divinity students and colportage work.

"BRONOL" CLUB EXCURSION.

A most enjoyable excursion of Messrs. Browne and Nolan's employés, under the auspices of the "Bronol" Social Club, took place on Sunday last, the rendezvous chosen being the beautiful watering place of Rostrevor, Co. Down. The party of 180 were conveyed in G.N.R. omnibuses by way of Swords, Balbriggan, Drogheda, Dundalk, Newry and Warrenpoint. Lunch and teas were served by the management of the Great Northern Hotel, Rostrevor.

Boating, swimming and mountain climbing attracted the excursionists, who revelled in glorious sunshine during their visit. Mr. J. P. Dunne presided over the festivities. The success of the outing was chiefly due to Miss M. Byrne, hon. secretary.

ASSEMBLING MOTOR CARS.

PRAISE FOR IRISH WORK.

MINISTER WARNS IMPORTERS.

NEW regulations, if not new legislation, governing the importation of completed motor cars, was hinted at yesterday by the Minister for Industry and Commerce after his inspection of the new assembling works of Messrs. F. M. Summerfield, Ltd., at Castleforbes road, Dublin. In the presence of the Minister, of Mr. Summerfield and many leading representatives of the motor car trade, the factory was blessed by the Rev. Daniel Delany, C.C., of St. Laurence O'Toole's, Ringsend.

Following the blessing, Mr. Lemass inspected the works, accompanied by Mr. A. J. Connolly, his private secretary. The cars are all metal, and come to the hands of the mechanics in the smallest of sections, each requiring much skilled manipulation to convert them into the polished, painted and upholstered vehicles fit for the road. After a prolonged inspection of this work in progress, the company adjourned to the Gresham Hotel for lunch.

Mr. Summerfield, speaking after lunch, said that the motor trade had frequently been critical of the Government's policy, but never in a hostile spirit. The existence of the Castleforbes factory was made practicable by Mr. Lemass's £16 road tax. The assembly of one Chrysler car provided a livelihood for an Irish family for three months. In face of that fact it would be national treason for a Free State citizen to purchase a car which had been completely assembled in a foreign country. The new industry would give employment all the year round to a certain number of people rather than spasmodic employment to an indefinite number. In their works they had twenty-five men and four boys building Irish-made cars.

MINISTER'S WARNING.

Mr. Lemass said that it was the aim of the Government that all motor cars used in the Irish Free State should be assembled here to the extent to which Messrs. Summerfield's cars were assembled. Large numbers of cars were imported, completely assembled or assembled to a lesser degree than was desirable. The Government would have, no doubt, to consider the offering of further inducements to assemble cars in the Free State, and the imposition of further restrictions. The Government proposed to move a little more rapidly now because it had been successfully demonstrated that the difficulties in the path of this new industry, although great, could be surmounted. It was desirable that those engaged in the business of the assembling of motor cars should appreciate clearly the aim of the Government and that they should be advised not to undertake commitments and involve themselves in capital expenditure which might be made unremunerative by the adoption of measures designed to achieve the Government's aims.

EQUAL TO THE BEST.

The Minister said that the work done at the Summerfield factory could equal, if indeed it did not surpass, the best work done in foreign factories. They had had to fight against a certain inferiority complex, which told them that here they could not undertake high-class metal work. Messrs. Summerfield and others had done national service in demonstrating that that feeling was without foundation. Irish workers and Irish technical directors had proved themselves as fit as those of other countries, and it was his duty, on behalf of the Government representing the people, to thank Mr. Summerfield and others for the enterprise they had shown in the development of this industry, and to wish him and them all success.

John Vacko, the forty-five-year-old head man of the village of Lhota, was charged with wife-beating, writes Reuter from Prague. He explained that while he was away from home his wife, contrary to his instructions, white-washed the walls of his room.

DR. WARD'S WEDDING.

The marriage took place at University Church, Stephen's Green, Dublin, of Dr. Conn Ward, T.D., Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Local Government and Public Health, to Miss S. O'Toole, daughter of Mr. E. O'Toole and the late Mrs. O'Toole, Dublin, and grand-daughter of Mr. D. MacAleese, at one time M.P. for North Monaghan.

Miss P MacAleese, Monaghan, was bridesmaid and Mr. J. O'Toole, Dublin, best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. C Ward, St. Macarten's Seminary, Monaghan, brother of the bridegroom. The Rev. P. Deering, C.C., University Church, assisted. The bride was given away by her father.

LORD MAYOR'S GUESTS.

The Lord Mayor of Dublin motored visitors from South Africa and Italy to Marino, Croydon Park, Donnycarney and Cabra yesterday to show them how the Dublin Corporation was dealing with the housing problem in the city.

The visitors, who included Mrs C. R. Pitt, wife of the general manager of the Brakpan Mines, South Africa, and Mr. and Mrs. Dott, Pier Fillipo, Comez Homen, and the Vice-Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of Florence, Italy, also inspected the new bathing pool at Whitehall, where hundreds of children were enjoying themselves.

An English sailor, Andrew Smith, who was drowned at Le Havre, is believed to have fallen into the water when returning to his ship, Wild Rose.

DUBLIN BOARD OF ASSISTANCE.

OFFER TO LEND £50,000.

When the Dublin Board of Assistance met yesterday it was mentioned that an offer had been received from an individual who was willing to lend, at 4 per cent. interest, the sum of £50,000 which the Board required for reconstruction and new equipment at Dublin Union.

The offer was contained in a letter from Mr. T. J. Greene, solicitor, who said that he was in a position to negotiate the loan.

The Board postponed consideration of the matter until they had before them replies to their advertisement for the loan.

It was reported that for the week ending July 7 last relief had been given in 6,440 cases at a cost of £3,218. This was a decrease on the previous week of 97 cases and £69. For the corresponding week in 1933 the decrease was of 2,455 cases and £2,096. The Board, which to date had subsidised 284 cases at the Chatham row office, decided to draw the attention of the Minister for Industry and Commerce to the fact that they were still supporting 1,135 cases which remained to be transferred to the unemployment assistance scheme.

It was reported that a deputation from the Board had met the Hospitals Commission and put forward a claim for assistance for the improvement of their hospitals. The Commission had authorised the Resident Medical Superintendent (Dr. W. C. Dwyer) to give required information.

Tributes were paid to two members of the Board, Messrs. J. Tunney and P. Mulvaney, who had lost their seats as the result of new nominations.

Mr. Tunney, in replying, said that he felt it his duty, in referring to the non-political working of the Board, to say that the women members of the Board were better than the men. They had a very keen judgment and sense of duty in regard to the poor. Mr. Mulvaney also replied.

A deputation was received from the Nurses' Union in respect of salaries and housing conditions of dispensary midwives in the Board's employment.

Mr. P. S. Doyle presided, and there were also present:—Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Fitzsimons, Mrs. O'Shea Leamy; Messrs. W. J. O'Hara, James Gately, T. W. Fitzgerald, J. Tunney, P. Mulvaney and Alderman Medlar.

"GIVE HER A RING."

NEW BRITISH INTERNATIONAL PRODUCTION.

The introduction of the automatic telephone system has more or less removed the human element from the switchboards, and irate subscribers get no satisfaction from abusing a robot. Film producers generally have prospered in the field of wrong numbers, and the producers of "Give Her a Ring" by going back to an exchange run by a bevy of "Hello" girls, may be excused for not keeping with the times. The film, a British International production, was given a trade showing at the Capitol yesterday.

As a piece of light entertainment, in which love affairs get mixed up with, and by, flexes, and one finds a youth quite innocently declaring his feelings for an aged spinster, the film is acceptable. Songs are introduced at the most unexpected moments, and, therefore, lose their point, if they were meant to have any. One or two of the songs, however, were opportune.

The story briefly concerns two men, who, by getting wrong numbers, meet also the wrong women. One of the men in time finds that the wrong woman was the right one for him, and the second woman, also in time, meets the other fellow's wife.

Wendy Barrie has restraint in her acting, and fully illustrated the expression that "she does not drink champagne," while Zelma O'Neal (who was present in person at the theatre) satisfies one in the part of the gold digger who is uncomfortable when there is no digging to be done. Clifford Mollison, as the exchange director, and Eric Rhodes, who has been indiscreet on the telephone so that it leads to deceiving his wife, managed to keep the plan moving.

The film would have been better if three comedians, whose only sport was banging each other about, had been excluded.

YESTERDAY IN THE LAW COURTS.

HUGHES CASE APPLICATION.

JURISDICTION OF TRIBUNAL.

REFERENCE TO "STAR CHAMBER."

The hearing of the case of Captain Patrick Hughes, proprietor of the Midland Hotel, Upper Dominick street, Dublin, was continued. Captain Hughes had been convicted by the Constitution (Special Powers) Tribunal, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment, and he sought, by means of habeas corpus and certiorari, to have both conviction and sentence quashed. The charges to which they related, and to which he had pleaded not guilty, were concerned with an alleged attempt to bribe Detective Officer McNamara to procure or disclose to him confidential information about Government policy and proposed activities against the League of Youth. Yesterday was the sixth day of the hearing.

Mr. J. A. Costello, K.C.; Mr. A. K. Overend, K.C.; Mr. C. Lavery, K.C., and Mr. P. McGilligan (instructed by Mr. P. F. O'Reilly) appeared for Captain Hughes; and the Attorney-General (Mr. Conor Maguire, K.C.), Mr. Martin Maguire, K.C.; Mr. J. Geoghegan, K.C.; Mr. Gavan Duffy, K.C.; Mr. P. J. McEnery and Mr. Kevin Haugh (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor) for the Attorney-General, in support of the conviction and sentence.

ARGUMENTS RESUMED.

Mr. Martin Maguire resumed his argument, following that of the Attorney-General, and, having dealt with the discretionary powers of the Court to grant certiorari, said that a great deal of confusion had been introduced into the case by reason of the mixing of the two separate and distinct procedures of certiorari and habeas corpus. If, as had been suggested, there was some informality in the order of conviction, it could be altered, if necessary, "in accordance with truth and fact," and if there was a valid conviction, that was sufficient to justify detention.

Having cited a number of cases in support of his submissions, Mr. Maguire said that they all knew the chaotic and hopeless tangle of magistrates' law which filled the law books during the last stages of the reign of Queen Victoria. It was fair inference and fair argument to say that the whole of the confusion was due to the wrong attitude taken up by the High Court at that time in trying to impose their will on the Magistrates' Courts.

Mr. Justice Meredith—Can you quote us any authorities to show that the state of chaos you talk about existed?

Mr. Maguire said that O'Connor's "Justice of the Peace" showed the hopeless position that existed. The attitude of the courts, he suggested, should be that, instead of seeing if things were bad on the face, to assist in putting these things right as they came up before them, and indicating how they could be made right. He asked the Court to approach the case from that point of view, and to consider the public, who were entitled to insist on living in peace, and he submitted that this was at least as important as the individual whose liberty was in question when there was no mistake in substance and no error in jurisdiction.

TRIBUNAL ORDER.

On the other aspect of the case, Mr. Maguire drew the attention of the Court to the difference which existed between the no-certiorari clauses in other Acts and the no-certiorari clause in Article 2a of the Constitution.

Mr. Maguire next referred to the Order made by the Tribunal to show that it did state on its face that there was jurisdiction to make it. This document must be a warrant or conviction.

Mr. Justice Sullivan—Do you say that it cannot be both?

Mr. Maguire—It may be both. If it is a warrant it can be altered at any time; if it is a conviction it can only be altered in accordance with truth and fact. Counsel went on to say that, in order to try these offences, the Act must be complied with, and it was stated that the Act had been complied with, as everything had been done under the powers of the Act.

JURISDICTION.

Mr. Maguire submitted that jurisdiction attached the moment the Minister's certificate was brought before the Tribunal. Further, Section 5 provided that "every act done by the Tribunal shall be deemed to be done with competent jurisdiction," so it was not necessary to set out jurisdiction on the order. The greatest skill had been put into the drafting of the Act to ensure that decisions of the Tribunal would not be upset by technical defects, such as the decisions that had turned upside down the law relating to magistrates' courts. There was one thing established in the present case, and that was that the Court had jurisdiction to try Hughes, and, whether there was any irregularity or informality in the order made by the Court, there was no doubt that he was subject to the jurisdiction of the Court, and that he was liable to be tried and sentenced in the way he was tried and sentenced.

Mr. Overend, replying, said that in five days there had not been addressed to the Court a single argument as an attempt to sustain the order of the Tribunal which was not founded on disregard of some elementary principle of law.

The affidavits filed on behalf of the Attorney-General showed that the certificate of an Executive Minister never was put in evidence at the trial, and that was a fatal and a vital matter. It was alleged that the Registrar of the Tribunal at some stage of the proceedings passed a certificate to the Bench, but that was not putting it in evidence. The meaning of "putting in evidence" was tendering a document in evidence and giving the prisoner's counsel a chance to object to it, to say that it was bad on its face, and to submit to the Tribunal that it was not signed by the proper Minister, proved in the proper way, or authenticated by the proper seal.

It was conclusively proved on the face of the documents that the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to enter upon the inquiry at the outset, said Mr. Overend, and that was not a mere formality or technicality. "If we are not right in this case," he continued, "are we back in the Stuarts' time? Is there to be a Star Chamber?"

This so-called order was the only thing in the nature of a conviction that existed, and that distinguished this case, and completely put on one side the cases cited on behalf of the Attorney-General as authorities for amending an order. Those cases dealt with the amending of a memorandum or formal order made when there was an oral conviction.

Referring to the order made by the Tribunal, Mr. Overend said that what Hughes was convicted of no man could tell. He had been found guilty, according to the order, of all the offences charged, but there was nothing on the face of the record to show jurisdiction to try the first three counts. Everything charged in each count was in the alternative, and they were inconsistent alternatives.

Mr. Overend had not concluded his arguments when the Court adjourned until to-day.

Shopkeeper Hoodwinked.—At Croom District Court, an Englishman, Percy C. C. Cavender, alias Percival Gregory, alias Thomas Grey, was charged with obtaining goods by false pretences to the value of 18s. 6d. from Edward Houlihan, Glenogra, Bruff. Houlihan stated that Cavender got cigarettes and tobacco from him by representing that he was in receipt of a pension from the British and Australian Governments. He also made what purported to be a will, in which he left £100 to the St. Vincent de Paul Society and £5 each to witness and his wife. Mr. Kenny, D.J., said that Cavender was before him previously on a charge of attempting to obtain money by false pretences. He had decided to convict. Cavender's record showed that he was convicted in 1911 at Essex for fraud; in 1912 in London for false pretences, in 1923 at Tiverton, in 1924 at Hungerford, and in 1928 at Leeds, all on charges of fraud. He sentenced him to six months' hard labour, at the expiration of which he would recommend to the authorities his deportation, if the law of the Free State so permitted.

A DAIL COURT JUDGESHIP.

ECHO OF IRISH TROUBLES.

BARRISTER'S CLAIM FOR SALARY.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE JOHNSTON.)

THE hearing of an action in which Diarmuid O Cruadhlaoich, barrister-at-law, 12 Charleville road, Dublin, claimed salary and arrears of salary as "a Judge of the Supreme Court of the Irish Republic," was begun. The defendants were the Minister for Justice and the Minister for Finance.

In his claim the plaintiff stated that, by a verbal contract made on August 15, 1920, between him and the first Dail Eireann, it was agreed that he should give up his practice as a barrister and accept the office and perform the duties of a Judge of the Supreme Court of the Irish Republic (otherwise known as the Dail Supreme Court) for his life at a salary of £750 per annum, free of income tax, and that he could not be removed from the said office except by special decree of Dail Eireann for cause assigned, passed by a two-thirds majority.

The terms of the contract, continued the statement of claim, were afterwards put in writing and published in a booklet entitled "Saorstat na h-Eireann, Judiciary," published in 1921 by Dail Eireann, and in statements made on March 12, 1925, by the then Ministers, and published in the Official Report of the Dail Eireann Parliamentary Debates and other documents. In pursuance of the contract, plaintiff gave up his practice as barrister, returned briefs held by him to solicitors, notified them that he had given up practice, and, on and after August 15, 1920, devoted his whole time to the duties of his office as Judge.

PAYMENT.

The First Dail Eireann was, on August 16, 1921, succeeded by the Second Dail Eireann, which adopted the contract and recognised its liability to pay plaintiff the salary fixed. At the end of August, 1920, plaintiff was paid £31 5s., and thereafter received £62 10s. at the end of each and every month up to July 31, 1922, from the Minister for Home Affairs and the Minister for Finance of the Irish Republic out of moneys provided by the First and Second Dail Eireann.

No resolution purporting to remove plaintiff from his office had been passed by Dail Eireann, and at all material times he had been, and is, ready and willing to perform the duties.

The Oireachtas was the successor in title to the two bodies, and the present defendants were the successors in title of the Ministers, who recognised and admitted that they were liable to pay plaintiff his salary for his life. On August 17, 1923, plaintiff was appointed a Commissioner at a salary of £1,500 a year, and held that position until June 30, 1924. Early in 1924 he wrote to the then Minister for Justice, demanding payment of the salary of £750 for the period July 31, 1922, to August 16, 1923, and declaring his willingness to allow further payment to be suspended during his term as Commissioner. Plaintiff was paid for the period mentioned, but a deduction was made for income tax, and plaintiff protested against the deduction. He was paid his salary as Commissioner from August, 1923, to June, 1924, but since then had not received any payment in respect of the salary of £750. He demanded payment several times. He now asked a declaration that that salary is payable free of income tax; that the defendants are the successors in title of the Ministers with whom the contract was made; that as such they have acquired the assets and incurred the liabilities of their predecessors to pay him the salary of £750 a year for life and the arrears due since July 31, 1922. In the alternative, the plaintiff says that portion of the moneys raised by the first and second Dail Eireann is held by the Minister for Finance, and he claims a declaration that out of the said portion he is entitled to be paid a lump sum, to include arrears of salary and the present value of a life annuity of £750, free of income tax.

DEFENCE.

For the defence the alleged, or any, contract is denied, as is the allegation that it was published or adopted by the second Dail Eireann. The defence cites a decree published in Iris Oifigeil on August 1, 1922, and signed by E. S. O Dugain, Aire um Ghnothoi Duitche (Minister for Home Affairs), rescinding the decree "purporting to establish courts of law and equity and criminal jurisdiction as part of the Government of the Irish Republic," and declaring that decree to be of no effect as from August 1, 1922. The Courts named ceased to function on July 25, 1922, and the plaintiff thereafter never exercised or performed the functions of a judge of the Supreme Court of the Irish Republic.

The defendants further stated that they relied upon the Dail Eireann Courts (Winding Up) Acts of 1923 and 1924, and submitted that, as plaintiff accepted the office of Commissioner under those Acts, he was debarred from claiming that he continued in the office of judge. By the Dail Supreme Court (Pensions) Act of 1925 power was taken to grant, it thought proper, a pension of two-thirds of the annual salary of Dail Supreme Court judges. The plaintiff requested, and was granted, a pension of £500 per annum, which was duly paid and accepted by plaintiff. Defendants submit that plaintiff has shown no cause or action and that he is not entitled to the declarations or other relief claimed.

REPUBLICAN COURTS.

In a long reply to the statements made for the defence, plaintiff claims that he acted as judge on dates subsequent to July 25, 1922; denies that his acceptance of the position of Commissioner was inconsistent with his previous appointment as judge, and says that the appointment of such Commissioners was necessary to complete the work commenced in the Courts of the Irish Republic. Plaintiff also denies that he requested the defendants to grant him a pension under the 1925 Act, and states that before that Act was enacted he warned the defendants "that he would not consent to the confiscation or cutting down of his right under the contract." He did not know it was an Act until he was informed by the defendants that they had granted him a pension under it.

Plaintiff further stated that he purposed making the following submissions:—

Under the laws of the Irish Republic there was not any income tax payable or paid out of the plaintiff's salary to the the Government of the Irish Republic.

By virtue of Article 73 of the Constitution the said laws of the Irish Republic continue in full force and effect.

The said salary had never been subject to the Income Tax Acts enacted by the British Parliament before the 6th December, 1922.

Under Article 74 of the Constitution the plaintiff's said salary remained outside the ambit of the said British statutes after 6th December, 1922.

The Oireachtas has not passed any legislation to bring the said salary within the purview of the statutes relating to income tax in the Irish Free State.

Mr. Alex. Lynn (instructed by Mr. Florence O'Sullivan) appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Martin Maguire, K.C., Mr. James Geoghegan, K.C., and Mr. William Black (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor) for the defendants.

MINISTERS SUBPŒNAED.

Mr. Geoghegan mentioned that both Mr. MacEntee, Minister for Finance, and Mr. Ruttledge, Minister for Justice, had been subpœnaed to attend the court. There was no evidence that they could give personally. They were very busy Ministers, and would attend at any time on receipt of a telephone message. He asked the Court to accept this as compliance with the subpœna.

Mr. Justice Johnston said that he would accept that. The Ministers, of course, could not be questioned about anything that happened at the Executive Council, so he presumed the only reason for bringing them there was to make them produce documents required for the purpose of the plaintiff's case. That could possibly be done by officials from the departments.

Mr. Geoghegan—Any document that is not privileged will be produced here by an official.

Mr. Lynn said that he issued the subpœnas only because of the attitude of obstruction

SALE OF A DUBLIN HOUSE.

DISPUTE ABOUT FRONTAGE.

SEQUEL TO AUCTION.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE JOHNSTON.)

The hearing of the action of Madeleine Carroll, 39 Jones's road, Dublin, against Alicia Mary Little, "Belton House," South Circular road, Dublin, was continued. The plaintiff claimed an order for the specific performance of a contract to sell "Belton House" to her. She also asked for a declaration that the premises known as "Belton House" had a frontage of 95 feet on the South Circular road, and were identical with those described in the conditions of sale. In the alternative she asked for a declaration that she was entitled to rescind the agreement and to have returned to her a sum of £100 paid as a deposit.

According to the plaintiff, the defendant advertised Belton House for sale by public auction, the house being described as a "detached" residence, with a frontage of 95 feet. Plaintiff bid £1,225, and was declared the purchaser at that figure. A written contract was signed by both parties, and plaintiff paid £100 deposit to the auctioneer, Mr. Albert MacArthur. The plaintiff had always been ready and willing to complete the sale, but the defendant had refused to convey the premises as described in the advertisements and conditions of sale.

Mrs. Little, in her defence, stated that if the premises were described as alleged by plaintiff it was not with her authority. The premises sold were shown on a map, approved by plaintiff and signed by her, at the time of the execution of the contract on 7th November last. Plaintiff paid £100 to the auctioneer on 8th November, and of that sum £38 15s. went towards the deposit of £306 5s. payable by the plaintiff. Plaintiff had not paid the balance of the deposit, amounting to £267 10s., and had refused to complete the purchase, insisting that defendant should assign to her premises not included in the sale. Defendant claimed that she was entitled to forfeit the deposit, and asked for an order that plaintiff pay the balance of £267 10s.

In answer to this, Mrs. Carroll, in an affidavit, said that, if she signed any map, she had not had an opportunity of comparing it with the property she had contracted to buy.

Mr. M. Binchy, K.C., and Mr. W. O'B. Fitzgerald (instructed by Mr. Morgan Fottrell) appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. V. Rice, K.C., and Mr. T. F. Bacon (instructed by Mr. James P. Kennedy) for the defendant.

EXACT IDENTITY OF PROPERTY.

The question at issue was the exact identity of the property. Plaintiff's case was that Belton House was advertised as a detached residence with 95 feet frontage, and that it was so described in advertisements up to the date of the auction. The defendant stated that she gave instructions to the auctioneer to correct the advertisements when she saw the error about the frontage, as she was retaining 29 feet frontage for herself.

Defendant was cross-examined by Mr. Binchy about the date on which she first made it clear to Mrs. Carroll that she was retaining a strip of the property for her own use.

Mrs. Little replied that Mrs. Carroll must have known it all along, but she made the matter quite clear again to her about a week after the auction.

Albert MacArthur, auctioneer, gave evidence that at the sale of the house he announced that there had been a mistake in some of the advertisements: that the owner was reserving a strip, and that the frontage was not 95 feet, but about 66, and was shown on a map produced.

Reginald MacArthur, corroborating, said that some days before the auction he took Mrs. Carroll to see Belton House, and whilst there pointed out to her the part that was not for sale. Mrs. Carroll had apparently been in the house before, and did not seem much concerned about the garden, her main anxiety being about the size of the house and the number of lodgers who could be accommodated in it.

At the close of the hearing Mr. Justice Johnston said that he accepted the evidence of the plaintiff, Mrs. Carroll. He was satisfied that, by the advertisements and other documents submitted to her, she believed she was buying the entire premises known as Belton House, and that she knew nothing of the reservation of any strip of the grounds. If Mrs. Carroll asked for an order for specific performance, she would probably have got it. But she did not now want that, and only wanted the return of her £100.

There would accordingly be judgment against the defendant for £100, with costs, and an inquiry would be directed to ascertain the expenses incurred by Mrs. Carroll in connection with the abortive sale.

HOSPITAL AND GARDEN SEATS.

INJUNCTION REFUSED.

Judge Shannon, in the Circuit Court yesterday, delivered his reserved judgment in the action in which the Governors and Guardians of the Hospital for Incurables, Donnybrook, sought an injunction against Miss Julia Nutley, Bushfield Villa, Bushfield terrace, Marlborough road, Donnybrook, restraining her from, as alleged, obstructing the public highway leading to the entrance gates of the hospital at Bushfield terrace by placing seats or other obstacles on it. The plaintiffs also sought a mandatory injunction directing the defendant to remove the seats placed there by her, and claimed damages for special injuries caused by those obstacles.

Judge Shannon refused the injunction sought for, and dismissed the action with costs.

Mr. J. M. FitzGerald, K.C., and Mr. R. F. Cherry (instructed by Messrs. A. and L. Goodbody) appeared for the plaintiffs; and Mr. J. A. Costello, K.C., and Mr. Felix Sherry (instructed by Mr. Marcus A. Lynch) for the defendant.

adopted by the defendants. The defendants had actually pleaded that the plaintiff had accepted a pension which was granted by a specific Statute. The plaintiff had replied that that Statute had been certified as a money bill by the Ceann Comhairle, and that it had not passed both Houses of the Oireachtas as a consequence, but the defendants would not admit that the Statute had been so passed. This was the Dail Supreme Court Pensions Act, 1925.

Mr. Geoghegan said that he was prepared to admit facts, not inferences. He was prepared to admit that the Act had been certified by the Ceann Comhairle as a money bill.

Mr. Lynn said that the plaintiff was a member of the Dail Supreme Court, with Mr. Justice Meredith and Judge Davitt among his colleagues. Mr. Justice Meredith had evidence to give which might be of some importance, but if the defendants admitted certain things he would not have to call him.

Mr. Geoghegan said that if it was intimated to him what was desired to be admitted he would admit it, if it was a fact to his knowledge.

Mr. Lynn, opening the case for the plaintiff, said that the salary attached to the office of Judge of the Dail Supreme Court when the plaintiff was appointed was £750 a year, free of income tax. In 1922, "a gentleman named Duggan," as a Minister or agent of that Dail, sent a letter to the plaintiff stating that the authority of the Dail Supreme Court had been withdrawn. For some reason payment of his salary had been suspended, while Mr. Justice Meredith continued to receive his salary, but in 1924 the plaintiff was actually paid the salary not only due to him, from July 18th, 1922, to the end of that year, but well into August and September, 1923. The plaintiff did not know why payment had been suspended in this case, or if it was due to some malign influence directed to him personally by some one in the Ministry of Finance.

The further hearing was adjourned until to-day.

Thurles Show.—North Tipperary Agricultural Show Society decided to hold their annual show at Thurles on September 8. The show was postponed some months ago owing to the depression.

PRISONERS APOLOGISE.

REMISSION OF SENTENCE.

KERRY MEN ENTER INTO BAIL.

EIGHT young men from County Kerry appeared before Mr. Justice Hanna at the Central Criminal Court, Dublin, yesterday and apologised for their conduct in the Court the previous day, when they were each sentenced to one month's imprisonment for contempt of Court.

They were:—Maurice Higgins, Clahane, Ballyduff; John Kissane, Gunsboro', Listowel; Charles Rochford, Clahane, Ballyduff; William Thornton, Clashmealcon, Ballyduff; Patrick Thornton, ditto; Jeremiah Nolan, William street, Listowel; Daniel O'Connor, Ahaskera, Lisselton, and John Flavin, Listowel.

The accused men had been charged on Tuesday with riot and unlawful assembly in Kerry on March 4 for the purpose of preventing the holding of a political meeting. When asked to plead, they each stated that as soldiers of the Irish Republic they refused to make any statement.

Mr. Justice Hanna said that he regarded this as a deliberately planned insult to and defiance of the authority of the Court, and sentenced the men to a month's imprisonment each, stating that if the prisoners apologised to the Court he would recommend that the sentence should not continue in operation.

The prisoners left the dock, shouting: "Up, the Republic," and "Up, Kerry."

When the prisoners were brought before the Court yesterday, Mr. Seumas O'Connor, Registrar, informed Mr. Justice Hanna that he understood that the accused men wished to apologise for their conduct. He then asked each prisoner if he apologised to the Court, and each answered: "Yes, sir."

PLEA OF GUILTY.

On being arraigned on the charges of riotous assembly and unlawful assembly, the prisoners pleaded not guilty to riotous assembly, but guilty to unlawful assembly.

Mr. Kevin Haugh (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor), who appeared for the Attorney-General, said that the State was prepared to accept the plea of guilty to the charge of unlawful assembly, and would enter a nolle prosequi to the charge or riot.

Mr. Justice Hanna said:—"I am very glad you have taken the course you have in expressing your regret to the Court for what I thought was defiance of it yesterday, and that you have now recognised the jurisdiction of the Court by pleading guilty to unlawful assembly. The Minister for Justice signified that he is satisfied that the sentence for contempt of Court should be remitted. So far as the unlawful assembly charge is concerned, I understand that twelve others in the lower Court, who were charged with a similar offence, gave bail to be of good behaviour for twelve months, and I will treat you in the same way by ruling that you enter into your own bails of £5 to keep the peace for twelve months. I think respectable looking boys like you should do your best to live and let live."

Having given the undertaking to keep the peace for twelve months and to enter into their own bails of £5 each, the prisoners were discharged.

BLUE SHIRTS TAKEN.

Martin Kirby, Ballintogher, Lixnaw, County Kerry, also entered into his own bail of £5 to keep the peace for two years, and was discharged.

Kirby was found guilty on Tuesday of charges which included having, with other persons unknown, while armed with a revolver, robbed two persons of blue shirts and one girl of a blue blouse in County Kerry, and was sentenced to four months' imprisonment from the date of his arrest. In passing sentence, Mr. Justice Hanna stated that he would recommend his release to the Minister for Justice if the prisoner entered into his own bail to be of good behaviour.

LAW CASES IN BRIEF.

OTHER COURT NEWS.

In the Dublin Circuit Court yesterday Judge Shannon refused an application made on behalf of Joseph F. Kennedy, St. Etna's, Portmarnock, for an interlocutory injunction to restrain John J. Cumiskey from trespassing upon his premises.

In the Dublin District Court yesterday Litm Treacy, Beaufort, Co. Kerry, was remanded in custody until Saturday on charges of refusing to pay his legal fare on the Lucan tram and assaulting the conductor. Patrick Brett said that at Chapelizod the defendant, when asked for the fare, adopted a threatening attitude, shouted that he was a Kerry man, that witness was a Cork man, and struck him. The passengers became frightened, and some got off. Treacy, in evidence, said that he got into the tram to go to Kingsbridge for a Kerry train. On the way he changed his mind, and decided to go to Lucan. He had consumed a bottle of whiskey earlier in the day, and did not remember very well what happened. He apologised to the conductor.

Patrick Hennessey (29), labourer, of Turner's Cottages, Ballsbridge, and Patrick Hannigan (25), no business, of 4c Beggar's Bush Barracks, were remanded in custody until Saturday when charged in the Dublin District Court with conspiring with Gerald Darcy, who is in custody, and other persons not yet detained, to break and enter the house, 55 Eglinton road, the residence of Mrs. Beatrice Murray, and stealing an antique bracelet, value £5, and other articles of value. They were also charged with causing damage to furniture in the house. It was stated that both men denied any knowledge of the affair.

CIVIL SERVICE PROMOTION EXAMINATION.

In the recent examination for promotion to the grade of Surveyor of Customs and Excise, Mr. E. F. Linane, officer of Customs and Excise, Dublin Port, secured first place among thirty-one candidates. Mr. Linane was a prominent member of the Customs and Excise Association, having been for some years treasurer of the Dublin Branch and representative of his association on the Civil Service Joint Committee. Before his transfer to Dublin Port, Mr. Linane served for many years in the Limerick and Waterford collections as Excise officer.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—The anti-cyclone over the North Sea continues to decrease in intensity. A shallow depression is situated over France, while a trough of low pressure to the west of the British Isles is advancing slowly. Weather will be less settled than of late, with a tendency to local thundery rain or showers.

North-West, North-East, South-East and South-West Ireland.—Light variable wind; variable sky; local thundery rain or showers; warm.

Irish Sea and St. George's Channel.—Light south-east or variable wind; local thundery rain or showers; sea slight.

NORTHERN IRELAND FINANCE.

"EX-GRATIA" GRANTS.

In a written reply to Dr. John Williams (Labour), who asked what amounts of ex-gratia grants had been made to Northern Ireland during the last ten years, the Financial Secretary to the Treasury states that the financial relations between Northern Ireland and the Exchequer are determined by the Government of Ireland Act, 1920, and the Unemployment Insurance (Northern Ireland) Agreement Acts, 1926 and 1929. The only grants made to Northern Ireland during the last ten years, outside the terms of those Statutes, were the grants-in-aid of £1,250,000 and of £1,200,000 made in 1924-5 and 1925-6 respectively in connection with the Special Constabulary.

INCOME TAX.

The Financial Secretary to the Treasury states, in a written reply to Dr. John Williams (Labour), that for the year ended March 31st last the Northern Ireland share of income tax was £2,512,400, and the Northern Ireland share of Custom and Excise was £4,746,000. The cost of collection is estimated at £93,000 in the case of income tax, and at £75,000 in the case of Customs and Excise.

The net receipts of the Post Office were £1,600.

The provisional Northern Ireland residuary share of all reserve taxes was £6,139,000.

The calculations had been made on the basis laid down by the Government of Ireland Act, 1920, as amended by the Irish Free State (Consequential Provisions) Act, 1922.

GERMAN WARSHIPS AT PORTSMOUTH.

FIRST VISIT OF THE KIND SINCE THE WAR.

The German cruisers Konigsberg and Leipzig, which arrived at Portsmouth yesterday, are the first armed vessels of Germany to visit any English naval port since the War.

They came into the harbour at 7.15 a.m., their arrival being witnessed by many people.

Konigsberg fired a salute of twenty-one guns to the country and seventeen to the Commander-in-Chief of the port. The military and naval saluting batteries replied.

The customary courtesy calls on the Commander-in-Chief and the Lord Mayor of Portsmouth were made later.

The Irish Times.

THURSDAY, JULY 12, 1934.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

The Senate yesterday referred the new Local Government (Galway) Bill, 1934, to a Joint Committee of both Houses.—(Page 8.)

Serious fears of drought are entertained. Yesterday the Dublin temperature was 82 in the shade. Thunderstorms are predicted.—(Page 7.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Walter E. Elliot (Minister of Agriculture) announced a £3,000,000 subsidy, to be met by imports on imported meat, for the purpose of encouraging beef production in the United Kingdom.—(Page 7.)

The Colonial Stocks Bill, which deals with changes in the status of Dominion stocks, was read a second time in the House of Commons yesterday.—(Page 7.)

ABROAD.

The Paris Press is satisfied with the results of M. Barthou's London visit. German newspapers, on the other hand, believe that England was the victim of the French Foreign Minister's diplomacy.—(Page 7.)

SPORTING

At the Phœnix Park yesterday Cold Cot won the Kimmage Plate, Morning Star the Kingstown Plate, Essex Lad the Kingsbridge Plate, Stefanette the Arnott Plate, Lebanon the Kilcock Plate, and Toland the Killiney Plate.—(Page 10.)

At Salisbury yesterday Estate Duty and Norman Herald dead-heated for the Bibury Cup.—(Page 10.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were firm. British Funds, Rubbers and Aviation shares were strong spots.—(Page 3.)

Gold was fixed at 137s. 11d. per oz., and £146,000 in the market was taken by the usual buyers. Silver rallied to 20 11-16d. per oz.—(Page 3.)

Britain's Meat Scheme.

Yesterday the British Government announced its long-awaited plan for the relief of the cattle industry. The system—familiar enough to the Free State, but novel to Great Britain—is that of the levy and subsidy. A levy of 1d. a pound is to be imposed on all foreign meat, and of ½d. a pound on meat from the Dominions, that enters Britain. The sum thus obtained will be made over to a Cattle Commission, which will pay from it a subsidy to domestic producers of meat. Probably, too, imports of meat will be restricted by means of quota agreements; but the Minister of Agriculture, who spoke yesterday for the Government, did not enlarge on this subject. For various reasons, which we shall discuss later, the Government's plan cannot be brought into effect at once. A temporary arrangement is needed, and will be provided by a bill to be laid before Parliament in the course of the week. This measure, the Cattle Industry (Emergency Provisions) Bill, provides for payments not exceeding 5s. per live hundredweight and 9s. 4d. per dead hundredweight to producers of certain classes of fat cattle sold for slaughter in the United Kingdom between September 1st of this year and March 31st of next year. The "cattle fund" from which these payments will be made must not exceed £3,000,000, and will be repaid from the proceeds of the levy as soon as the levy shall have come into effect. Naturally, the temporary measure will be brought to an end when the Government is able to introduce its long-term scheme, and the longer that scheme is deferred the longer it will be before the Treasury can recover its money. All depends on the willingness of the Dominions and Argentina to co-operate with Great Britain.

The reason why Britain cannot put her long-term scheme into operation at once is that she is forbidden by her bond with Argentina and by the reluctance of the Dominions. Under the Ottawa agreements she pledged herself to impose no restrictions on the import of Dominion meat until June of this year, and a similar pledge was given to Argentina for the duration of the Anglo-Argentine trade agreement. Both the Dominions and Argentina, however, were asked, and consented, to reduce their supplies of meat to England, in order that prices on the English market might have a chance to rise; but neither kept the promise. The result is that meat prices have not risen, but actually have fallen, on the British market, and the domestic breeders have been approaching more closely to the brink of ruin every day. Britain's avowed policy is to consult, first, the interests of her own citizens; secondly, the interests of the Dominions, and, thirdly, the interests of her foreign customers. She is forced, therefore, to seek a policy which, while of paramount benefit to her domestic producers of meat, will do as little damage as possible to the interests of the Dominions and Argentina. In pursuit of it she has called several meetings between the Dominions' Commissioners in London—including the Free State's High Commissioner—and has tried to obtain their consent to some action that would improve the condition of the British market. Thus far her efforts have met with little success. The Dominions are opposed resolutely to any policy that either would reduce their own exports to Great Britain or would give the British farmer a material advantage over their own farmers, and, consequently, Downing street has been forced to decide for itself.

Britain could operate her long-term scheme at once without breach of faith with the Dominions; for since the beginning of this month she has been unhampered by the Ottawa agreements. On the other hand, any effort to close or narrow her market against them would be construed as an offence against the spirit of those agreements, and might help to shatter the whole conception of imperial trade at its outset. For this reason she is not relaxing her attempts to come to terms. If the Dominions cannot consent, they will have only themselves to blame for any discrimination against them in favour of the British farmer. Cattle prices in Britain are uneconomically low, and cannot be raised to an economic level except by a restriction of supply. The Dominions, by reducing their supplies to the necessary level, can obtain at least as much money from Britain as they are obtaining to-day by their huge exports; otherwise, if Britain insists on her scheme, they must suffer for the British farmer's advantage. Their decision will be awaited with anxiety. For the present, however, the facts are as follows: British farmers, by means of the temporary "cattle fund," will receive a better price for their beasts, and so will be encouraged to persevere in the face of imperial and foreign competition. Australia, New Zealand and the Argentine will suffer to some extent from the advantage thus given to Britain. As for the Free State, she must endure yet another blow to her cattle trade—though a small blow in comparison with those which she is enduring to-day. The special duties, the quota, and now an intensifying of British domestic competition—these are heavy handicaps to her prosperity; and it will be a feat of genius if her commerce survives them.

Summer Suns.

"As a rule," observed the rhyming philosopher of our youth, "a man's a fool. When it's hot, he wants it cool; when it's cool, he wants it hot—always wanting what is not." Foolish mortals that we are, most of us in the past week have "wanted it cool." England has her heat-waves regularly, and, irritated by the elusive summers of our own country, we are accustomed to envy her. This year, however, we have seen bright Phœbus in his strength for ourselves; and already the experience has begun to pall. Flowers wilt, the fishmonger has run out of ice, and Mr. Moynihan does not cease to prophesy the evils that must befall if we continue our criminal waste of water. Even those whose practice it is on a hot day to remove as much of their clothing as is consistent with decency—or sometimes, in the eyes of the strict, a little more—and subject themselves to the full rays of the sun, have come to feel that a blistered back is too high a price for the benefits of the ultra-violet rays. The most conservative of us are reduced almost to the ultimate clout. Retired colonels have produced from seldom-opened drawers the white drill suits of a warmer clime, and with them a store of anecdotes about Pukkapore in the hot weather of 'ninety-six; and a person at Westgate-on-Sea has scandalised the locality by an appearance on the Marine Parade in the costume of the Doukhobors. Yet, when we consider ourselves hardly used, we lay ourselves open to a charge of gross ingratitude. Our Irish heat-wave is a source of disquiet to the farmers, but we are, most of us, not farmers, and we have much for which we should be thankful. A Victorian statesman once observed that in these islands a man may work out of doors in more days of the year than in any other country. The British climate may be said to have been tolerated ever since on the strength of this celebrated defence, but it is also true that in no other country is a man more likely to find his recreations spoiled by an unforeseeable change in the weather. A sudden shower in the morning may benefit the crops, but it ruins the tennis-court in the afternoon, and a fickle breeze and a cloudy sky play havoc with a picnic. Now, for a fortnight, it has been possible to arrange parties of pleasure without subsequent doubts and fears for the comfort of the guests, and many hostesses must have blessed the settled weather for this unaccustomed security. We have escaped, so far, the worst inconveniences of drought, and the temperature has not approached the height at which exertion under the sun becomes positively dangerous to life. Moreover, experience tells us that we need not regard too seriously the unnatural heats of the past week. All things are possible to Irish weather, and it may be that before another dawn we shall be in our overcoats before the electric fire.

Litter.

A correspondent of The Times has compiled an interesting census of litter. Seven years ago a table was made of the nature and number of objects discarded along a measured mile of the Oxford-Abingdon road. This year a similar table was made in the week following Whit Week, on the same stretch of road. A comparison of the figures reveals a remarkable decrease in the amount of rubbish. Under the heading of "Smoking," 376 articles were thrown away in 1927, and only 105 in 1934. In the tobacco wrapper department there is an increase of one; but cigarette packets and matchboxes show a decrease of some 70. Among articles devoted to the nourishment of the system, only chocolate wrappers and orange peel show any increase; but this increase is counter-balanced by a heavy falling off in the number of bottles and sandwich papers that were thrown away. "Unclassified paper" was being wafted about in 1927 to the extent of 582 pieces, but only 87 obscured the scenery in 1934. Twenty-one unwanted newspapers were found this year; sixty-one were abandoned by their purchasers in 1927. In the earlier table 29 rags went the way of all refuse, whereas this year only nine were condemned as being of no further use. The totals for the two years are 1,803 for 1927, and 639 for 1934—a very great improvement. It would be interesting to see the result of a similar census made on the Dublin streets, though it is doubtful if any signs of improvement would be apparent. "An Irishman's Diary" yesterday called attention to one particularly noxious manifestation of untidiness. The Ringsend-Merrion Strand district is a particularly old offender against the anti-litter laws; scraps of paper are flying about everywhere, and the ubiquitous orange peel is present in all its glory. Merrion Strand, in addition, is quite often the last resting-place of numerous broken bottles, which have been set up as targets by holiday-makers, and then pelted with stones. When the tide comes in, these bits of glass are rendered invisible, and many a bather has received unpleasant, and sometimes dangerous, cuts from their sharp edges. If it was certain that everybody's bottle should find him out, it might be easier to bear with this kind of carelessness.

Rest Fields.

Dublin's Lord Mayor is a man of multifarious interests, none of which is more praiseworthy than his activities on behalf of animal welfare. Yesterday he opened at Woodtown Manor, Rathfarnham, new rest fields for horses and other animals whose owners are too poor to look after them properly. The institution has been established by the South County Dublin Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. It began in a small way at Stillorgan two years ago, when a few fields were purchased; but the demand for space soon outstripped the available accommodation, and the Society decided to acquire more suitable quarters. Some seventeen acres have been taken over by the Society, which at present has twenty horses under its care. There is room for about forty animals, and we have no doubt that in a very short space of time even this accommodation will prove to be inadequate. The idea is that, when the owner of a horse or a donkey falls ill, or is otherwise prevented from the proper care of the animal, it can be sent for a holiday to the rest fields. Large numbers of the very poor depend on such animals for their livelihood, and, as Mr. Denis Barrett said yesterday, many of the horses and donkeys that have been sent to the Society's fields have had the first real rest since the beginning of their working lives. We heartily support Mr. Barrett's appeal for funds to enable young animals to be provided to replace old and well-tried servants. There could be few more worthy objects. Everything possible ought to be done in this country to prevent the export of old horses to foreign countries, where they are slaughtered for food; the rest fields at Rathfarnham suggest a more humane and civilised alternative. We hope that the scheme will prosper, and congratulate Mr. Barrett heartily on the lead which has been given by his Society.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The King has received the Lord Provost of Edinburgh at the Palace of Holyroodhouse, and has conferred on him the honour of Knighthood.

Over one thousand guests attended the afternoon Drawingroom at the Palace of Holyroodhouse on Tuesday. The band of the 2nd Battalion of the Black Watch was in attendance, and provided a programme of music.

The Prince of Wales, who has been interested for many years in the work of the National Art Collection, has become a member of the Society. Permission has been granted to the members to visit the Royal collection at St. James's Palace to-day and to-morrow, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Prince of Wales, Grand President, and the Princess Royal, Lady Grand President of the League of Mercy, will attend the League's garden party, which will be held to-day at Marlborough House.

The Princess Royal and the Earl of Harewood were the guests of the Swiss Minister and Madame Paravicini at a dinner party at the Swiss Legation on Tuesday night.

Princess Helena Victoria visited Streatham yesterday, and opened a very successful fête in the gardens of the Agnes Parr Nursery Home.

A Requiem Mass for the Duke of Marlborough was celebrated on Tuesday at Farm street Church, London. Among those present were the Earl of Iddesleigh, Viscount FitzAlan, Lord Howard of Glossop, Mr. Cary Elwes, Mr. Simon Elwes and Mr. Riddell-Blount.

The Nawab and Begum of Rampur were the guests of Admiral Sir John and Lady Kelly at luncheon at Admiralty House on Tuesday, when they visited Portsmouth and inspected the workyard.

The Countess of Granard and her son, Viscount Forbes, left England yesterday for New York, and will return to Ireland in the first week of August. Earl and Countess Fitzwilliam are remaining in London till the end of this month, when they will leave for Cowes. Lord and Lady Dunsany will leave London next Saturday for Dunstall Priory, Kent. Lord and Lady Annaly, who have been staying in the country, have returned to London. Mr. and Mrs. G. Barry Bingham and Miss Henrietta Bingham have left the American Embassy in London, and sailed yesterday on the s.s. Olympic for New York.

The Marchioness of Londonderry will hold an exhibition of paintings at Londonderry House, Park lane, on Tuesday, July 17th. The exhibits will include oil paintings by Lady Margaret Stewart, water-colour drawings of birds by the Hon. Anthony Chaplin, and studies of flowers and plants by Sir Herbert Maxwell.

The Hon. Mrs. Ernest Guinness will be at home on July 24th and 25th at 17 Grosvenor place, London, where she will have an exhibition of antique Irish silver and a collection of gold and silver ornaments made by Major Robert Woodhouse.

Viscount Forbes, now on his way to New York, has been taking part in the water sports in the Bois de Boulogne, where he won the race for dinghies (class "C"), and also the prize of the President of the Republic for outboards.

The Earl of Harewood is lending his celebrated portrait of George Canning, by Gainsborough, to the art exhibition which will be opened in York on Wednesday, July 25th. The Marquess of Zetland, Earl Fitzwilliam, Viscount Allendale, Lady Cunliffe-Lister and Major Fawkes are lending pictures of great importance to the exhibition.

REPRESENTATIVE CHURCH BODY.

The Rev. James Quinn, B.A., who has been unanimously appointed by the Diocesan Council of Down and Connor and Dromore to succeed the Dean of Down on the Representative Church Body in Dublin, has been rector of the growing parish of St. Jude's, Belfast, since 1924.

A science scholar of Queen's College, Belfast, in 1899, Mr. Quinn was ordained for curacy of Knockaney Parish in Cashel Diocese in 1904. He was curate of Bangor Parish for seven years from 1906, and was rector of St. Michael's Parish, Belfast, from 1913 until 1924. He served as a temporary chaplain to the Forces from 1915 to 1917.

Mr. Quinn did very valuable work as representative of the Church of Ireland in the negotiations with the Ministry of Education in the Northern Government in safeguarding religious education in the public elementary schools in the North.

His wife is a daughter of the late Dean Maguire, M.A., who was for many years rector of Bangor. His elder son is at Oxford University, which he entered from Shrewsbury School as holder of the coveted History Scholarship.

PHŒNIX PARK RACES.

EVENING MEETING.

Yesterday afternoon the effects of the continued hot, dry weather were noticeable at the Phœnix Park Club racecourse, where the grounds presented a dried up appearance in contrast to their accustomed freshness. The gardeners, however, had made efforts to compensate for lack of green, and roses of many different shades blossomed in the raised bed to the right of the entrance, roses also being trained up the trellis work leading to the Members' enclosure. Particularly fine red geraniums were set round the club houses, and indoors the air was scented with sweet pea, which decorated the tea and dinner tables.

There was a good attendance at the meeting, and the weather was well maintained during the evening.

Although the first race was fixed for 6.30 many women appeared in costumes, a few in ankle-length cotton frocks, hardly any full-length frocks being worn.

THE DRESSES.

Mrs. King Trench wore a white silk frock with a pale yellow hat. Mrs. Croft's poplin beige costume matched her beige and white hat. Mrs. E. L. Lennon wore a pale green picture hat to match her black and green frock. Mrs. Metge's toilette was of lavender grey. Mrs. Denis Daly's black silk frock was decorated with sprigs of many-coloured flowers, and her hat was of black Ciré straw. Mrs. Harry Peard wore a red poplin hat with a dark brown costume. Mrs. Wilkins was dressed in a cool apple-green linen costume and hat, set off by a pale lemon-coloured blouse. Lady Nugent's blue and grey frock was worn with a white straw hat, and her daughter, who also wore a white hat, came in a green and white dress.

Mrs. James MacMahon was dressed in yellow, while Miss MacMahon wore a three-quarter length navy blue coat over her white and navy frock, and her hat was of navy and white straw. Mrs. E. Cannon came in a neat suit of light grey flannel, and Mrs. Finucane wore black. Mrs. Rogers wore a well-tailored cinnamon brown costume and a beret to match, and Dr. Mollie O'Leary came in varying shades of red.

Among those present were the Earl of Fingall, Sir James Nelson, Mr. James Orr Denby, American Chargé d'Affaires, who brought Mr. Dale Warren, of Boston; Sir Walter and Lady Nugent, the Italian Consul-General, Commendatore Lodi-Fé, Captain G. F. Dunne, Captain and Mrs. Denis Daly, Mrs. Lennon, with her sister, Mrs. Metge; Mrs. T. G. Fitzgerald, Captain F. ffrench Davis, Mr. Isidore Blake, Miss Moylan, Mrs. A. O'Duffy, Mrs. Cannon, Mr. W. T. Kelly, Mr. Joseph McGrath, Mr. and Mrs. B. Russell-Cruise, Major and Mrs. King Feud, Sir Lingard Goulding, Mr. Harry Ussher, Mr. J. J. Maher, Mr. Lindsay Hogg, Mr. G. H. Dickson, Mr. J. H. H. Peard, Colonel A. J. Blake, Miss P. Ryan, Mr. Ernest Bellaney, Mrs. Hepworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCririck, Mr. Justice O'Byrne, Mr. G. P. Gilpin, Senator Parkinson, Mrs. Coogan, Captain Bernard Daly, Captain and Mrs. Denis Daly, Mr. T. J. T. Rogers and Mrs. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Adern, Colonel Clarke, Lieut.-Colonel S. S. Hill-Dillon, Major Wilkins, Mr. Noble Johnson, Mr. T. Levins Moore, and Mr. R. B. Garrett.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TO-DAY.

EVENTS THAT CHANGED WORLD HISTORY.

JULY 12, 1914.

Reports from Vienna indicate a lull in the outbursts of anti-Serbian feeling, but there is little doubt that the populace, not only of the capital, but of the whole of the dual Monarchy, are awaiting the result of the Austro-Hungarian Note—already decided upon by the Council of Ministers—to the Serbs.

A meeting of the British Cabinet, fixed for to-morrow, has occasioned great interest and not a little speculation throughout the United Kingdom. It is said that decisions of far-reaching importance are to be taken by the Government; and the recent events in Southern and Central Europe, following upon the assassination of the Archduke Ferdinand, lent to the Conference of Ministers an unwonted air of mystery.

Mr. Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, speaking at Bristol, said that the political situation was very grave, but that Home Rule for Ireland was assured. A great part of his speech was devoted to criticism of Mr. F. E. Smith (afterwards Lord Birkenhead, one of the signatories of the Irish Treaty).

Parades of the Ulster Volunteers, held all over the Northern Province, displayed for the first time the strength and equipment of the force. All units appear to be fully armed with up-to-date rifles and other weapons of war. At Larne, where 2,000 men paraded, the Mid-Antrim Regiment had on parade one of the new Colt quick-firing guns mounted on a motor chassis.

OBITUARY.

MR. COURTENAY LE POER TRENCH CROKER.

Mr. Courtenay le Poer Trench Croker died yesterday at his residence, Ballynagarde, County Limerick, aged eighty-one years. The fifth, and only surviving, son of Captain Edward Croker, D.L., J.P., whose wife was the sixth daughter of the first and last Earl of Rathdowne, Mr. Croker married, in 1882, Mary, youngest daughter of the late Venerable Charles Hare, Archdeacon of Limerick. He was a Deputy-Lieutenant and a Justice of the Peace for the County of Limerick. From 1882 till 1911—in which latter year he retired—he was an Auditor of the Local Government Board, Ireland. A keen sportsman, Mr. Croker had owned several good steeplechasers. He was one of the directors of the Limerick Race Company, and was a prominent member of the Limerick Horse Show Committee. He was Chairman of the Limerick County Infirmary, and a member of the Committee of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

MR. T. R. COLLIER.

News has been received in Belfast of the death, in Australia, on June 2nd, at the age of 76, after a brief illness, of Mr. T. R. Collier, M.A., formerly Headmaster of Belfast Royal Academy. A mathematical graduate with high honours in the old Queen's University of Ireland, he was for many years on the staff of the Godolphin School, Hammersmith. He became Headmaster of the Belfast Royal Academy in 1898, and held that post for about twenty-five years. He was responsible for many reforms in the school, and under his control the number of pupils increased from 100 to 300, and the school's financial position became stronger than it had ever been before. He was for many years a member of Fortwilliam Golf Club. He never married, and on his retirement, in 1923, he went to live in Australia. A man of unusually wide intellectual interests, he was essentially a student in his habits and outlook. He was of a retiring disposition, a trait which was accentuated by the fact that his health never was robust. His wide reading, his organising ability, his kindly humour, and his great generosity, however, were known and recognised by his colleagues and pupils, and by a wide circle of educational and other friends, to whom the news of his death will cause very deep regret. At the time of his last illness Mr. Collier was living with his niece, Mrs. Witt, at Mount Victoria, Blue Mountains, New South Wales.

LONDON LETTER.

SUBSIDY FOR BRITISH CATTLE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

There was a gathering of the High Commissioners of the Dominions this morning, when Mr. J. H. Thomas, Mr. Walter Elliot, Minister of Agriculture, and Lord Stanhope, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, who has been in charge of the negotiations with the Argentine Government in regard to meat supplies, were present. The Commissioners reported that they had had instructions from their respective Governments to oppose proposals for important reductions or for a levy of one penny a pound on imports, which was suggested as an alternative. Lord Stanhope pointed out that the Argentine would meet any reduction in imports by placing increased duties on British goods. These decisions were conveyed to a meeting of the Cabinet which followed immediately, and the result was marked by an announcement in the House of Commons this afternoon by Mr. Elliot that the Government was setting aside £3,000,000 to assist the fat stock industry as an emergency measure, and that a fuller scheme would follow later. The Government proposed to introduce a cattle emergency bill which Parliament would be asked to pass before it adjourned. Payment would be made not exceeding 5s. per live cwt. and 9s. 4d. per dead cwt. to producers of certain classes of fat cattle for slaughter. These payments would be made out of a cattle fund—money which would come at first from the Consolidated Fund. All sums advanced in this way would be repayable out of a levy which would be collectable in connection with the Government's long-term proposals.

The Royal Air Force.

It was rumoured in parliamentary circles to-day that the increase in the Royal Air Force, which will be announced shortly by Mr. Stanley Baldwin, will mean a provision of no fewer than 600 machines, with a consequent addition to the annual estimates of something approaching £15,000,000. This scheme hardly will come into operation at once, since with every increase in the number of machines men and material on a corresponding scale will be necessary, together with hangars, administration offices, barracks and landing grounds. It is understood that the Air Ministry is considering all these points, since the provision of such an immense amount of new material and accommodation is a matter which cannot be lightly dismissed. On one point alone there is considerable uncertainty, and that concerns the type of aeroplane likely to be selected.

Germany's Debts.

Although the Anglo-German transfer agreement was signed in London only last week, it would appear that now negotiations for its amendment in favour of this country will be necessary. The agreement provided that British holders should accept bonds in lieu of interest, and one of the conditions was that, if Germany should conclude an agreement giving more favourable terms to any other country, British holders would be enabled to claim equal treatment. The pact with Holland gives preferential treatment to Dutch holders, but is accompanied by conditions which give encouragement to imports from Germany. It is presumed that a claim from British holders would be met by a German claim for compensatory trade concessions, and it is upon these questions that new negotiations, if they are undertaken, will be concerned. The trade question was being considered by the British Government in relation to the interest question to-day, but further details of the Dutch agreement may be necessary before any decision is taken.

Geraldine Mary Harmsworth Park.

Geraldine Mary Harmsworth Park, which is to be opened by Lord Rothermere on Thursday, has been given in memory of Mrs. Harmsworth, who lived for many years in the near neighbourhood of Dublin. The park covers the former site of the famous Mental Hospital, Bethlem, more generally known as Bedlam, which has been removed to Beckenham. The great hospital has had its two wings removed, and the remaining central building will be the new home of the War Museum. Situated in South London, less than a mile from Blackfriars Bridge, the fifteen acres which will belong henceforward to the public for ever have many historical associations. The Romans once used the site as a training ground for troops, while it was on this spot that Richard II. met the rebels after the slaying of Wat Tyler, and during the Civil War fortifications and trenches were placed there for the defence of the City of London. Later on the place became a popular pleasure resort, and in the days of Charles II. it was occupied by the Apollo Gardens. Early in the eighteenth century the famous hospital was erected there.

A New "Death Ray."

Tesla is a famous name in the world of invention, and if it is correct that Dr. Nikola Tesla, of New York, has celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday by the announcement of a new "death ray" which will make war impossible, we may assume that there is something in it. Dr. Tesla says that he has perfected an apparatus to send particles through the air that will bring down aeroplanes and cause armies to "drop dead in their tracks," and he proposes to lay this invention before the Disarmament Conference. In the past "death rays" have always been regarded as less dangerous to the attacker than to the opponent; but the new one is said to be useless as a weapon of offence, because it must be generated in large stationary power units. Dr. Tesla has no fewer than 700 inventions to his credit, and it may be that his latest idea will be welcomed at Geneva, but carefully consigned to the archives where similar inventions are stored, as too terrible a thing to let loose on the world.

The Imperial Press Conference.

Arrangements are now being made to hold the fifth Imperial Press Conference in South Africa next winter. This is by invitation of the South African section of the Union, which is planning a six weeks' tour, designed to give the visiting delegates—55 representatives of the Press of the British Empire—an opportunity to study the conditions of the Union. The delegation from Britain will sail on January 18th, returning on April 8th. This date has been selected partly to enable the home delegation to return to England in time for the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the King's Accession. The invitation of the South African Press is supported by newspapers of all categories and of all shades of political opinion, and their tour programme is receiving active co-operation from the South African Government. The Conference sessions will be held in Cape Town and Johannesburg. The delegation from the United Kingdom will be headed by Major the Hon. J. J. Astor, M.P., as President of the Empire Press Union, who is also chairman of an organising committee in London.

BRITISH LEGION EXCURSION.

The annual excursion of the South Dublin Branch (Women's Section), British Legion, took place yesterday to Killiney, when over 300 women and children enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Bathing and games were indulged in, prizes being presented to the winners of the various races. The following worked hard to make the day a success:—Mrs. Higgins (chairman), Mrs. Pasley (vice-chairman), Mrs. Crozier (hon. secretary), Mrs. Crichton Haines, Mrs. Kehoe, Miss Kirk, Mrs. Ivimey, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Carrie, and Mrs. Nash.

MANY DEAD IN JAPANESE FLOODS.

TORNADO SWEEPS AMERICAN TOWN.

MEANWHILE IRELAND BASKS IN HEAT WAVE.

SPECTRE OF DROUGHT WITH CROPS AND CATTLE LOSSES.

FOR the man in the street, sweltering in the heat, the weather continues to be the most discussed item of news. In Dublin yesterday the temperature was 82 degrees in the shade.

Drought fears are perturbing urban authorities, and in the country farmers view the drying up of rivers and wells with apprehension. Crops and cattle may suffer.

Thunderstorms, however, are to be expected. They will begin inland, and may spread to Dublin.

Heavy floods and excessive heat have caused a series of disasters in the Far East. In Japan a bridge spanning the Mikawa River has been carried away in the floods with sixty people on it. In the same prefecture a hamlet of thirty households has been blotted out by the surging waters.

Thirteen deaths are reported as the result of the Yalu River, which separates Korea from Manchuria, overflowing its banks.

According to the Tokyo "Asahi," two hundred and fifty people have been drowned and four thousand rendered homeless. Three hundred houses and thirty bridges have been swept away, while four thousand houses and thousands of acres of crops have been flooded. Official reports, however, place the damage lower, but state that one hundred and sixty men working on an embankment of the Tetori River are missing.

Twenty persons were injured when a tornado swept Jacksonville, U.S.A.

THUNDERSTORMS TO COME.

Yesterday's maximum temperature in the shade in Dublin was 82, one degree below that of Tuesday, and the night temperature, 62 degrees, was the highest recorded this year.

During the afternoon the sky, as had been predicted, clouded up somewhat, and further clouding is likely to-day. Thunderstorms are expected in the South and Midlands. They may spread to Dublin later.

A sidelight on the heat wave is the big increase in the consumption of ice, and on Tuesday no less than 59 tons were sold by Dublin manufacturers. The usual summer output is about 300 tons of ice per week, but this year it has gone up to 400 tons.

MILK PROBLEM.

The problem of keeping milk from souring is one that faces every housewife this weather, but the Dublin Board of Assistance spent some time yesterday in trying to decide how they could keep the daily supply of 600 gallons to the Dublin Union fresh.

The difficulty which faces this type of institution during the summer was shown by the Resident Medical Superintendent, who said that when the milk arrived at 7 o'clock each morning it had to be distributed to seventeen different stores throughout the workhouse and hospital. To provide refrigeration for all these stores, as one member of the Board suggested, would be far too expensive.

Early this morning flashes of lightning from a distant thunderstorm could be seen in the eastern sky from Dublin.

During the night rain commenced to fall in the city.

The spectre of drought is making itself unpleasant at Ireland's feast of sunshine, writes an Irish Times reporter. A "very serious situation" is anticipated in Dublin if the present heat-wave continues.

Elsewhere fears are expressed in regard to crops and cattle. Many streams and small rivers have dried, or are drying, up. In some places river levels are below the lowest point at which local people remember them.

There is considerable difficulty in the feeding of cattle, and a consequent diminution of the milk supply. Anxiety is felt by farmers regarding their root crops, especially potatoes and turnips.

ANXIETY.

Local authorities in all districts are concerned about water supplies. Reservoirs are supplying water at a greatly increased speed to thirsty townspeople and city dwellers, but these rainless days afford no extra help in the matter to the reservoirs.

"The people of Dublin surely realise that these rainless weeks have resulted in the rapid lowering of the reservoirs. Yet we have to start now a very elaborate propaganda campaign," said the City Engineer yesterday.

He added that the collecting reservoir at Roundwood is 84 inches below its proper level; last year at this time it was only 18 inches below. The Bohernabreena collecting reservoir is 48 inches below the normal level; last year it was down only 24 inches.

The various service reservoirs, from which water is distributed throughout Dublin, are being lowered more rapidly than water can be brought into them from Roundwood and Bohernabreena.

TURBINES STOP.

At a meeting of the Kells Urban District Council, the Waterworks superintendent reported that the River Blackwater was almost completely dried up, and had got so low as to be unable to supply the power to work the turbines.

Farmers in the uplands of County Fermanagh are experiencing great difficulty in bringing water to their cattle. The Tempo water supply failed on Tuesday night. In other districts rivers have dried up. Lough Erne is at present stagnant, all flow having ceased. The level is now three feet below the statutory level.

The River Duiskeat Graigue-na-Managh is lower than it has been for thirty years, and the mills along the river are almost idle on account of the water scarcity. Wells in the Borris and Graigue district are gone dry, and people find it difficult to get water, some being obliged to cart it two and three miles.

Salmon fishing on the Nore, in the Thomastown district, has had to be suspended owing to the low state of the river.

Six pigs died in transit in the railway waggons from the excessive heat on their way from Nenagh to Limerick on Tuesday.

SUNSTROKE DEATHS.

Several Britons have died in China from sunstroke, which has also afflicted many Chinese.

The following Reuter telegrams describe the extent of the Far Eastern disasters:—

The floods in the Ishikawa, Fukui and Toyama Prefectures, along Japan's seaboard, have affected a larger area than had been expected, and it is feared that the death roll will be very considerable when communications, at present interrupted, are resumed.

Scores of people have been drowned, sixty are missing, and hundreds of houses, mainly farmsteads, have been swept away as a result of the floods.

A bridge that spanned the Mikawa River, in the Ishikawa Prefecture, was carried away with 60 persons on it. Other bridges are also reported to have been washed away.

One hamlet of 30 households is reported to have been obliterated by the surging waters. The train service along the Japanese coast is still interrupted.

These floods are a sequel to a series of cloud-bursts on Tuesday night.

THIRTEEN DROWNED.

The Yalu River, which separates Korea from Manchukuo, has risen 21 feet owing to the heavy rainfall. Thirteen deaths are so far reported, while many houses are said to have been washed away.

The floods which have occurred or are imminent, stretching from the Province of Kwangtung to Chihli, promise a year of calamity to China, says a Shanghai message.

At the same time, a merciless heat-wave has caused the death of several Britons from sunstroke. The protracted drought is causing untold damage to crops, and farmers are holding daily prayer meetings to invoke the gods for rain.

A tornado lasting half an hour swept over Jacksonville, U.S.A., injuring twenty persons, three seriously, and causing damage estimated at £150,000.

The tornado tore the roofs off houses, uprooted trees and tangled up telephone and telegraph lines. The town was left in darkness, making rescue work difficult.

Serious damage was also caused to the crops.

USE LESS WATER.

In Dublin to-day regulations will be issued prohibiting the use of the Corporation's water supply for washing shop fronts, cars and watering gardens. Offenders will have their whole supply cut off.

To-day, also, the City Engineer (Mr. Moynihan) is initiating a campaign to "Use Less Water" at a conference of Press representatives.

Broadcast programmes from Dublin will include references to the immediate need for curtailment of the city's consumption of water.

THE WRECK OF LORD MOYNE'S YACHT.

UNCHARTED ROCK IN KILLARY BAY.

The loss of Lord Moyne's yacht Roussalka, in Killary Bay, County Galway, on August 25, 1933, is explained by the publication of Admiralty Notice to Mariners, No. 952, which directs the correction of charts so as to show a previously undiscovered rock, at a depth of two fathoms at Collock Shoal, latitude 53deg. 40ft. north; longitude 10.02deg. west.

A statement by Lord Moyne adds:—"Although the local inhabitants had assumed that the yacht had struck the Bloodslate Rocks, a position marked on the chart and checked by observations taken just before striking showed the ship to have been one mile west of these well-known dangers. On the evidence supplied by Captain Laidlaw, of the Roussalka, the Admiralty sent H.M. surveying ship Beaufort to examine the spot, and the discovery of this rock in the position indicated, near an anchorage in former times much frequented by the British Navy, is a remarkable example of the fact that even in the most carefully charted waters around our coasts unknown dangers are still sometimes to be found."

Lord Moyne's yacht, a vessel of 1,447 tons, sank last August in a fog seven minutes after striking the rock. Lord Moyne, two or three guests, and a crew of six officers and 26 men were saved and were able to land in the yacht's own boats. A large gap was torn in the vessel below the water line, and when she sank only her masts could be seen above water.

TWO DUBLIN MEN INJURED.

The driver of a motor lorry and his passenger were injured when the left front tyre burst and caused the lorry to overturn at a cross-roads at Cappagh, near Finglas, County Dublin, last night.

Thomas Barrett, the driver, who lives in Common street, Dublin, received a deep scalp wound and other cuts, and is detained in the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital. The other man, William Connor, of Lower Cumberland street, Dublin, was able to return home after being treated at the hospital for cuts on his head and arm.

"GOT ALL HE WENT FOR."

M. BARTHOU'S VISIT.

FRENCH PRESS SATISFIED.

CONSOLIDATION OF PEACE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Wednesday.

THE French Press votes the visit of M. Barthou, the Foreign Minister, to London a success. New hope for the Disarmament Conference is seen, and British support for the Eastern Pact, under the auspices of France, is claimed in some quarters.

The Echo de Paris says that "everything considered, M. Barthou got all he went for, and a bit more. . . . Sure of finding allies in an hour of danger, the French Government man contemplate concessions which a few months ago seemed rash."

Le Journal declares: "Everybody can be content. The directors of French foreign policy can be satisfied, because the mechanism for the organisation of security, instead of finding itself blocked by British opposition, as certain persons feared, can now be put into action. The British are satisfied, because they keep their hands free and can flatter themselves that they remain absolute masters as regards future decisions."

M. Barthou, in a message of thanks for his reception in London, which he sent to Sir John Simon to-day, stated: "I have brought back from my visit the certainty that our frank exchange of views has most happily developed the good understanding between our two countries, and that European peace, which is the common goal of our efforts, has been consolidated by our conversations."

GERMAN OPINION.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
BERLIN, Wednesday.

"England has made a change of front such as has only rarely occurred in diplomatic history," states the Berliner Tageblatt, commenting on M. Barthou's visit to London, which, it declares, has been a victory all along the line.

"France," the paper bitterly remarks, "has a free hand in her policy of encircling Germany, and in this she is supported by Great Britain."

The Diplomatische Correspondenz, the mouthpiece of the Foreign Office, expresses admiration for M. Barthou's clever manœuvres in always proposing to Great Britain two solutions for the various problems, one "rather irksome" and the other "absolutely unbearable," with the result "that Great Britain decides in favour of the lesser evil."

The "Locarnisation" of Europe, the writer says, would make the Soviet Army an important factor in international life.

SOVIET'S INTEREST.

The French Ambassador in London, M. Corbin, has informed the Soviet Ambassador of the good results of M. Barthou's mission. Reuter's Diplomatic Correspondent understands that a further meeting is likely to take place between the French and Soviet Ministers within the next few days.

It is not the intention of the French Government to sign the proposed Eastern Locarno Pact, although actively supporting it. The main work of arrangement will be undertaken from now on by Soviet Russia.

Reuter understands that approaches are to be made in the near future by Moscow to Berlin, Warsaw and Prague. The Soviet fully realises the absolute need of winning German support, and the chief charms of Litvinoff's diplomacy will consequently be exercised on Berlin.

DUTCH PRINCE'S WHITE FUNERAL.

WREATH FROM KING GEORGE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
THE HAGUE, Wednesday.

By his own special wish, Prince Henry of the Netherlands, the Prince Consort was accorded a white funeral to-day, the first white funeral ever to be held in Holland.

When the hearse began its journey salvoes of guns were fired from the batteries at The Hague and at Delft, which were repeated at intervals until the coffin was placed in the crypt at Delft after its five miles journey.

The coffin was of light oak, covered in white, and over it was the Dutch flag, with flowers presented by Queen Wilhelmina and Princess Juliana. On top of the hearse was a silver crown, and the coachman and footmen were in wigs and Royal livery.

The hearse was followed by three carriages with wreaths, among which was one from King George, composed of lilies and orchids, and one from the ex-Kaiser, made up of flowers from his own garden at Doorn.

The first coach carried Prince Adolf of Mecklenburg, brother of the late Prince Consort. In the next carriage was the Earl of Athlone. Other coaches contained Prince Charles of Belgium, the Prince Consort of Luxemburg, representatives of European States and of the International Red Cross.

King George was represented by Sir Hubert Montgomery, British Minister at The Hague.

A last salute was given by a delegation from the Red Cross, the Sea Life-Saving Brigade and the Girl Scouts, in all of which bodies the late Prince took great interest.

As a mark of respect to the memory of the late Prince Consort of the Netherlands, the flag on the dome of the Four Courts, Dublin, was flown at half-mast yesterday.

KIDNAPPING TERROR.

GIRL DISAPPEARS IN INDIA.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
SIMLA, Wednesday.

The disappearance of Miss Williams, a nineteen-year-old girl of Anglo-Indian extraction, who is believed to have been kidnapped, is causing special concern in view of the frequent recent cases of molestation of girls around Simla.

On various occasions recently women and young girls have mysteriously disappeared on the railways of Sind and of the Indus Valley. Seen off by their relatives at one station, they never reached their destination.

The police theory is that they are the victims of a regular organisation which makes a speciality of this form of kidnapping. There is a surplus male population in many parts of India, and the kidnapping of women, who are subsequently disposed of as wives, is by no means uncommon.

An Anglo-Indian is reported to have been arrested at Ambala in connection with the disappearance of Miss Williams.

Living On 7/6 A Week.

SOCIAL WORKERS DO NOT AGREE.

ACCORDING to the Chairman of the Dublin Board of Assistance, a person can live on 7s. 6d. per week. This assertion was made by him at the Board meeting yesterday when he was challenged by Mrs. Maud Walsh if he himself could do so and not consider himself a derelict.

Miss Louie Bennett, the Secretary of the Irish Women Workers' Union, and Miss S. C. Harrison, both of whom are well-known social workers, do not agree with the chairman.

When interviewed by an Irish Times representative on the question, Miss Bennett said she would like the chairman to supply her with a weekly budget showing what a person receiving 7s. 6d. per week would eat for breakfast, dinner and tea; how rent, light and coal was paid for, and how soap was bought. "It would be interesting," she added.

"To keep a man in any kind of decency it would require 15s. per week, and that figure does not include rent," continued Miss Bennett.

The great mistake, she said, that most people made in dealing with this question was that they failed to take into consideration the many minor necessary expenses. Many people have to think twice before they could buy a box of matches, which, after all, was a necessity.

LET HIM TRY IT.

"I think the chairman's statement is so outrageous that I do not like to discuss it," declared Miss Bennett.

"I would like him to try and live on 7s. 6d. per week," she concluded.

Miss Harrison was equally emphatic about the matter when she was interviewed. In her opinion also it was absolutely impossible for a person to live on 7s. 6d. per week and pay rent.

The payment of such a small sum in relief was, she said, false economy, because people, through insufficient nourishment, eventually found their way into hospitals and institutions, with the result that public health costs went up.

IRISH HORSEMEN'S BAD DAY.

LUCERNE SHOW JUMPING.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
LUCERNE, Wednesday.

The members of the Irish Free State team did not fare very well in the event for the St. Gothard Challenge Cup, which was to-day's chief event in the Lucerne International Horse Show.

The best performer in the Irish team was Commandant J. G. O'Dwyer, riding Limerick Lace. He finished fourth, having eleven faults. He covered the course of 14 obstacles in 3 mins. 55 1-5 secs.

Captain D. Corry, Beann Eaider, was placed twelfth with 18 faults, his time being 3 mins. 55 2-5 secs. Captain C. B. Harty, Miss Ireland and Kilmallock, was fifteenth with 20¾ faults, in 4 mins. 12 secs., and Lieutenant J. C. Lewis, Rosnaree and Tramore Bay, was sixteenth with 22½ faults, in 4 mins. 2 secs.

The winner of the cup, which was won last year by Captain F. A. Aherne, Ireland, was Lieutenant Gastris, a French rider, mounted on Wedy and Tenacs. He had only four faults, and covered the course in 3 mins. 35 3-5 secs.

DOMINION STOCKS.

QUESTION OF TRUSTEE SECURITIES.

FROM OUR PARLIAMENTARY CORRESPONDENT.
WESTMINSTER, Wednesday.

In moving the second reading of the Colonial Stock Bill in the Commons, the Chancellor of the Exchequer explained that it provided, as respected Dominion stocks, an alternative to the third of the conditions prescribed by the Treasury under Section 2 of the Colonial Stock Act, 1900. The condition in question enabled certain stocks to be treated as trustee securities, and the effect of the change proposed by the bill was that, if a Dominion sought to alter any of the provisions governing its stock, or involving a departure from the original contract, the bill should not be submitted for the Royal Assent, except after agreement with the Government of the United Kingdom

Sir Stafford Cripps (Labour) suggested that this was an attempt to preserve what might become a dangerous matter of controversy in the future. He urged that the present position provided a favourable opportunity for setting up an inter-imperial arbitral tribunal to deal with disputes among the constituent members of the Empire. Once such a tribunal was constituted, it might even assist in a solution of the Irish problem.

Mr. Duff Cooper (Financial Secretary to the Treasury) reminded Sir Stafford Cripps that the Irish Free State had declined to submit their case to an imperial tribunal, and had insisted upon an international body.

The bill was read a second time without a division.

DISMISSAL OF HERR KESSLER.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
BERLIN, Wednesday.

Herr Philip Kessler, the Director-General of the well-known Bergmann Electricity Works, was to-day suddenly and without explanation removed from his post of "Leader of Germany's Economic Life."

Herr Kessler was appointed to his position when the "leadership" principle, which provides for the compulsory division of all branches of German economic life into technical groups, was introduced into industry recently.

Foreign newspapers are no longer allowed to be advertised or openly displayed by newspaper vendors in Germany, according to official instructions. They may keep them under their counters and show them on demand.

GOVERNMENT OF NEW ZEALAND ISSUE.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer has agreed to an immediate issue by the Government of New Zealand for the purpose of refunding New Zealand Government Four per Cent. Inscribed Stock, 1933-1943.

FOUR AIRMEN KILLED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
ROME, Wednesday.

Four Italian Air Force flyers were killed to-day when a bomber in which they were training caught fire over Montecelio Aerodrome, near here, and crashed.

Domenico Antonini, one of Italy's best pilots, is among the dead.

BRITISH MEAT SUBSIDY.

A £3,000,000 FUND.

PROPOSED LEVY ON IMPORTS.

IMPOST TO AFFECT FREE STATE.

IN reply to a question put by Mr. Tom Williams (Labour), in the House of Commons yesterday, the Minister of Agriculture (Mr. W. E. Elliot) announced the Government's proposals in regard to the live-stock industry of Great Britain, and especially in regard to beef production in the United Kingdom.

The Government, he said, had examined the possibility of

(a) A further reduction of imports by means of quantitative regulation, and

(b) Action along the lines of the Wheat Act, 1932, involving the collection of a levy on imports of meat to provide a fund from which payment could be made to supplement the returns accruing to the home producer from the sale of their stock in the open market, imports being unregulated, and

(c) The retention, in the interests of all suppliers, to some degree, of direct supply regulations, as the foundation of a plan comprising a levy on imports and payment to producers, as already referred to.

The problem had been approached with the intention of framing proposals which could be brought into operation forthwith, to deal with the beef situation, leading up to the formulation of a permanent policy. The Government were of opinion that a plan based on a levy and a regulated market, as indicated in the third course already referred to, would form the best long-term solution of this problem, and one which would hold the balance evenly between the producers and consumers.

DOMINIONS' ATTITUDE.

Discussions with representatives of the Governments of the Dominions and Argentina had been opened, but, in the absence of consent to the levy proposals, the only action open to the Government, so far as imports of meat were concerned, was by further regulation of supply, which would be designed, first, in order to hold the position for the time being, and, secondly, to bring about a material improvement in market conditions. In view of the serious nature of the problems which such an action on an extended scale would represent to certain Dominion Governments, the United Kingdom Government were anxious to allow time for further examination of the situation before determining the extent of the action which will be required.

The Government were, therefore, introducing forthwith an emergency measure—the Cattle Industry (Emergency Provisions) Bill—which they would ask Parliament to pass into law before the House rose for the summer recess, providing for payment at a rate not exceeding 5s. per live cwt. and 9s. 4d. per cwt. dead weight to producers of certain classes of fat cattle sold for slaughter in the United Kingdom between a date not earlier than September 1, 1934, and March 31, 1935.

MODE OF PAYMENT.

Payment to producers under this bill would be made from a fund to be established under the name of "The Cattle Fund." Authority would be sought in this bill for making temporary advances to the Cattle Fund from the Consolidated Fund of a sum not exceeding £3,000,000. (Cheers.)

The actual amount of the payment per unit of live and dead weight to be made to producers would be prescribed by an Order which would be laid before Parliament. Particulars of the administrative arrangements would also be laid before Parliament. The financial resolution for the short-term bills would appear on the Order Paper on Thursday.

Mr. D. G. Logan (Labour)—Will this additional impost be applied to the Irish Free State?

Mr. Elliot—It will apply to all imports of live stock from whatever source.

LEVY OF PENNY PER LB.

A White Paper on the position of the live-stock industry and the British Government's proposals to assist the farmers was issued last night. It mentions that, while the rapid fall in prices of cattle which was taking place in the autumn of 1932 was arrested, the situation continued to deteriorate throughout 1933, and even the cut of 50 per cent. in the supplies of fat cattle from the Irish Free State has not so far led to improvement. The prices of fat and store cattle are now below pre-war levels.

It is not contemplated that the Government's plan of a levy on all imported meat, including live-stock, would exceed one penny per lb., with a preference for the Dominions.

DOMINIONS OFFICE CONFERENCE.

MINISTERS MEET HIGH COMMISSIONERS.

The British meat proposals were discussed at a conference held yesterday morning at the Dominions Office, London, between Mr. J. H. Thomas (Dominions Secretary), Mr. Walter E. Elliot (Minister of Agriculture), and the following Dominion High Commissioners:—Mr. G. H. Ferguson (Canada), Mr. S. M. Bruce (Australia), Sir James Parr (New Zealand), Mr. J. W. Dulanty (Irish Free State) and Mr. J. W. Downie (Southern Rhodesia).

The Government had informed the Dominions and Argentina that the situation called for a levy on all imported meat and for a quantitative restriction of imports. The levy, it was understood, would probably be one penny on the pound, with a preference up to fifty per cent. for meat from the Dominions. Mutton and pork would be included.

According to an official statement, "the situation was fully discussed, and a statement will be made in the House of Commons as soon as circumstances permit."

MAYOR'S ELECTION INVALID?

SLIGO CORPORATION SURPRISE.

Mr. Cecil Lavery, K.C., in an opinion read at yesterday's meeting of Sligo Corporation, stated that he considered that Alderman Jinks was not legally entitled to vote for himself for election as Mayor, as the office carries a salary. Accordingly, counsel was of the opinion that last week's contest for the Mayoralty resulted in a tie, and that a new election should be held. The Corporation adjourned consideration of the matter to enable Alderman Jinks to take legal advice.

For smuggling four head of cattle into Northern Ireland, Daniel Gallagher, of Ballyshannon, County Donegal, was fined £100 at Belleek yesterday, and on a further charge of taking the cattle into Northern Ireland by an unapproved route, Gallagher was fined 40s.

ARMY BILL IN SENATE.

AGREEMENT REACHED.

THE HOLIDAY PROBLEM.

BY OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT.

THE threatened crisis in the administration of the Free State Army was avoided in the Senate yesterday by the Minister for Defence agreeing to accept a concession which he could have had unanimously a week ago.

It will be recalled that on the report stage, when Senator Colonel Moore proposed to extend the operation of the No. 2 Army Bill till 31st July next year, Senator Blythe moved that it should be limited to the end of October in the current year. On further representations he agreed to extend it to November 30. Senator O'Farrell suggested as a compromise that the date should be extended to 31st March, 1935. Various senators supported this proposal, but, as the Minister declined to accept it, a vote was taken, and the 30th November was decided on.

Yesterday this date was unanimously extended to 31st March of next year. The bill will go at once to the Governor-General for signature.

AN ILLEGAL ARMY.

It was natural to expect that neither party in the Senate would desire to shoulder the responsibility of allowing the bill to be held up. Had that happened, when the existing Defence Forces Act No. 1, 1934, expired on the 31st of this month a grave situation would have arisen so far as the Army is concerned. There would then be no legislative authority for the existence of the Army, for the payment of its members, or for their control and discipline.

Between now and March next the Minister will have time to prepare and introduce the permanent Army Bill which has been so often called for. Mr. Aiken has already stated that this bill has now been completed so far as his Department is concerned, and it will probably be introduced in the autumn session.

TO-DAY'S BUSINESS.

The Senate will probably take the Appropriation Bill as the first business at to-day's sitting. After that it has the Revision of Constituencies Bill, the Bill to abolish University representation in the Dail, the Gaeltacht Housing Bill, and Sir John Keane's motion on land settlement.

There was a suggestion when the House rose last evening that it would sit late to-night in order to finish these matters. As there will be no other business until the Dail meets next Wednesday, it is not unlikely that the Senate may take a prolonged holiday, returning when the Dail has concluded its business, probably about the middle of August. This arrangement would, no doubt, meet the Government's wish to get through urgent measures as early as possible, but it would operate rather unfairly upon certain officials and the official reporting staff, who are obliged to be in attendance while either House is in session. These would be deprived of their summer holiday.

FROM "THE TIMES."

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT.)

THE SCHOOL AGE.

The Times observes in an editorial article to-day:—The effect of Lord Halifax's declaration in the House of Lords yesterday is that the raising of the school-leaving age from fourteen to fifteen by any general Act affecting the whole country is indefinitely postponed. This decision will, no doubt, excite bitter criticism from those who consider that such a step would be both a great educational advance and one of the best methods of lessening unemployment among juveniles, but there are the strongest practical arguments against any further attempt to revive the measure, which collapsed in the hands of the late Labour Government. In the first place, there is one new fact which affects both the educational and the industrial aspects of the problem. Under the Unemployment Act, which has just passed through Parliament, a great change has taken place in the status of juveniles in obedience to the common agreement that unemployment at a tender age is the most dangerous and disastrous feature of modern civilisation. The Act bridges the gap between the school-leaving age and the age of insurance, with two strong planks. Contributions to Unemployment Insurance will start when a child leaves school, and will enable it to begin drawing benefit at the age of sixteen, instead of sixteen and a half. If a child voluntarily continues its education beyond the school-leaving age, it will be credited with contributions in accordance with a special schedule.

So much for the first plank, adds The Times. The second is the provision which makes it incumbent upon local education authorities to submit to the Minister of Labour plans for the provision of juvenile instruction centres. The formation of these centres is no new idea. Many already exist, but now that they are to become a permanent and universal feature of the social system, the former difficulties of finding staff and premises will probably disappear.

This argument leads to the second practical reason why the raising of the school age should be postponed. Lord Halifax explained yesterday that the raising of the school age could not take practical effect before 1938. It is true that during the present year the number of children leaving school will begin to reflect the great increase in the birth-rate immediately after the War, but by 1938 this increase will have ended. The figures, indeed, will begin to decline after 1935, and by 1940 there will be about 1,000,000 fewer children at school than in 1933. These facts and figures show that in a few years' time the practical difficulties of accommodation, organisation and cost now standing in the way of raising the school age will have become much less, but that until that time they will continue to be very formidable.

CATTLE SMUGGLING CHARGE.

MAN WHO WAS FINED £1,575 FAILS TO APPEAR.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.
NEWRY, Wednesday.

At Newry to-day the case was mentioned of Hugh O'Neill, Castleblayney, who, at a recent court, was fined £1,575 on three charges of smuggling cattle, the case being adjourned till to-day to enable representations to be made to the Customs authorities for a reduction of the penalty, the defendant entering into £2,000 bail, with two Northern Ireland sureties of £1,000 each, for his appearance.

Mr. J. P. Best, representing the Customs authorities, said that they had agreed to accept £1,000 at the moment.

O'Neill was then called both inside and outside the court, but there was no response, and Mr. Best asked that the usual orders be made, and that the Bench certify for the estreating of the defendant's bail bond.

The Bench complied with the request.

GALWAY AND GAELIC.

MR. BLYTHE'S PROPOSAL.

SENATE WAIVES ARMY BILL POINT.

A DISCUSSION ON BLOODSTOCK.

BY OUR SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE.

WHETHER the current Celtic invasion has fired the warm blood of the doctrinaire Gaels, or whether the heat wave is to blame, there is no doubt that enthusiasm for the Irish speech is now at fever heat. That, however, is no reason for banishing the cold light of reason from the normally temperate deliberations of the Second Chamber.

Even the somnolence that inevitably enwraps a legislative assembly when the thermometer stands at eighty in the shade was not proof against the shock of Mr. Blythe's speech on the second reading of the bill which is intended for the greater glorification of Galway by transforming it from an urban district into a full-fledged borough. Mr. Blythe, quite logically, saw an opportunity in this measure for enhancing the status of the Irish language as well as that of the ancient city, which might be regarded as the capital of the Gaeltacht; but he overlooked the moral of the homely saying that it is possible to scratch one's head without tearing out lumps.

Mr. Blythe would have inserted in the bill a condition that the minutes of the new Corporation should be written and read in Irish. Even on his own argument that forty-six per cent. of the population of Galway are Irish speakers, this seemed somewhat drastic; but he went further by demanding that only an Irish speaker should be eligible for the position of Mayor, and suggested that at "some reasonable date" the condition might be extended to embrace all candidates for election as councillors.

DO NOT OVERDO IT.

Little wonder that Mr. Staines rose to advise Mr. Blythe not to "overdo the thing." Besides pointing out the impracticability of insisting on minutes being kept in Irish for a local authority which, as at present constituted, includes only nine Irish-speaking members in a total personnel of twenty-four, he cited actual instances to show the loss in efficiency which would result from the disqualification of councillors who do not speak Irish, and, incidentally, speaking with the authority of an ex-Commissioner of Civic Guards, delivered a warning against undue insistence on the use of Irish by the police. "We must put justice before even the Irish language," he reminded the House.

Counsel's opinion on this latter point, as delivered by Mr. Comyn, K.C., was that people who did not speak Irish could always get interpreters in the courts, and in the same summary way he dismissed all Mr. Staines's objections to coercing the future corporators with the blackthorn bludgeon of the Gaelic tongue.

It was then that that very senior counsel, Mr. Samuel Brown, brought the House back to hard facts with the plain statement that the entire proposal would probably prove to be unconstitutional, in view of the status which English enjoys as one of the Free State's official languages. In the light of this, senators said no more, but proceeded to pass the second stage of the bill.

FROM HOBBY-HORSE TO BLOODSTOCK.

From the hobby-horse of Irish the Senate proceeded to the question of the Irish bloodstock industry, taking in their stride the obstacles of the Army Bill and the position of property owners under the Finance Bill.

The Minister for Defence, who was anxiously awaiting the fate of the Army Bill, in which the Senate had previously inserted an amendment with which the Dail has disagreed, went away with a satisfied expression after the House had formally waived its point, and then Sir John Keane put up an earnest, but abortive, fight for a section of the community, for whose plight it is hard to arouse sentiment—namely, the landlords. Senators then came to the horses, with the introduction by Mr. Parkinson of a recommendation to the Finance Bill, which called for the taxation of stallion owners in regard to income tax on the basis of the animal's fees, and not on its assessment as an hereditament of a farm.

This proposal had its first run when the Finance Bill was going through the Dail, with Mr. Cosgrave as its jockey. With Mr. Parkinson "up," it was now backed from all parts of the House, Mr. Farren adopting it on behalf of the Labour Party, Mr. Comyn following suit from the Fianna Fail benches, and Mr. Brown and Colonel Moore coming along then to confirm it in its position as a universal favourite.

However, Mr. MacEntee lodged an objection, and accordingly, although the recommendation won in a canter so far as the Senate was concerned, it seems clear that the Minister will uphold his own appeal.

MR. MACDONALD IN BELFAST.

The Prime Minister left Doncaster Aerodrome by air yesterday evening shortly after six for Belfast en route for his Canadian tour. He had motored from Worksop, 17 miles away, where he had been fulfilling an engagement, having earlier in the day flown from Lossiemouth and, after changing aeroplanes at Doncaster, on to Worksop.

Mr. Macdonald arrived in Belfast last night.

THE BISHOP OF LIMERICK INJURED.

The Most Rev. Keane, Catholic Bishop of Limerick, when motoring from Limerick to Youghal, was involved in an accident at Ballinamona Cross, about a mile from Hospital, last evening. His car, which was driven by his chauffeur, and a car driven by Mr. James Barry, Hollyford, Co. Tipperary, collided at the junction of the main Limerick-Hospital road and the Kilteely road.

His lordship sustained a slight head wound. The driver escaped unhurt, and Mr. Barry escaped with a slight shaking. Both cars were badly damaged.

THE BREEDING OF IRISH BLOODSTOCK.

INDUSTRY WORTH MILLIONS IN DANGER.

GOVERNMENT TO MAKE A STATEMENT.

THE Irish thoroughbred horse industry was discussed by the Senate yesterday, when, on the Committee stage of the Finance Bill, Senator Parkinson moved a new section regarding the assessment of income tax on owners of horses.

He regarded the present method of assessment as bad business, and said that the result of its continuance would be to work irretrievable damage to a great industry.

The Minister for Finance, in asking the House not to press the recommendation, stated that the Government would be in a position before the Horse Show to announce what they proposed to do regarding the horse-breeding industry.

The House passed Senator Parkinson's recommendation.

PROMISING ANIMALS GOING AWAY.

Mr. PARKINSON moved the insertion of a new section that assessments for income tax arising out of income derived from service fees for stallions, bulls or boars should be treated as income coming within the terms of Schedule B of the Income Tax Act, 1918, unless the owner of such stallions, etc., shall claim to be assessed under Schedule D.

He said that until 1918 it was permissible for the owner of a stallion to have his horse or breeding stock assessed under Schedule B, or, alternatively, under Schedule D. In that year, however, there was a decision in Scotland under which the earnings of a Clydesdale stallion were treated as a separate entity. That system was adopted here, and stallions had been assessed under Schedule D on the net profits of the stallion until the Scottish decision was reversed by the House of Lords.

The present method of assessing income tax in that respect was bad business, and the result would be irretrievable damage to one of the biggest international industries in the Irish Free State. Six of the most promising stallions had gone back to England, and, even if the tariff was off, there was little possibility of getting them back. He went on to say that last year in twenty-three foreign countries Irish thoroughbred horses had run, and had always distinguished themselves. He quoted a letter from Mr. Dawson, the owner of Blandford, who said he had paid in income tax in this country £4,150, and could not send his horses back to pay the high income tax.

WORTH MILLIONS.

The horse-breeding industry, before the economic war, was worth two millions a year, and in time might easily advance to four or five million pounds. If they were to be deprived of their best stallions it would be difficult to keep up the same standard of thoroughbred blood which they now had. This year the Grand National was won by an Irish horse, the Derby by an Irish bred horse and the Ascot Gold Cup by another. They had the best horses, and would have them still if the Minister would make that concession. Some horse-owners were rich men, but what about the three thousand owners of thoroughbred brood mares who were not rich people? The income tax derived from this source at present was £15,000, and it would probably fall to £4,000. The result would be that they would lose their business and the Government would lose the tax.

Mr. FARREN said that as a result of the closing down of stud farms, particularly in Kildare, hundreds of men had lost decent employment and the country had lost a considerable amount of money.

Mr. COMYN said that up to the present they had a high reputation for their horses, and they should keep that up by every means in their power. He hoped that the recommendation would be considered by the Minister.

ONE OF THE DANGERS.

Mr. COUNIHAN said that the fact that the Army authorities sent their horses over to take part in jumping contests in other countries showed that the Government was interested in the advertisement of Irish horses. If they decided to maintain the income tax position the result would be that Irish stallions would stand in England instead of in this country.

Mr. QUIRKE said that the Government should consider the recommendation, with a view to its acceptance. The fact stood out that the good sires had gone away as the result of that particular legislation. If that state of affairs was allowed to continue, the farmers all over the country would not send their mares across to England for good sires. What would happen was that they would send their horses to inferior stallions in this country, and the result would be that in a short time they would have second or third class thoroughbreds here.

Mr. WILSON said that the success of the Irish Sweepstakes was in some measure due to the glamour of Irish horses that won races.

IRISH SOIL AND CLIMATE.

Mr. MacENTEE (Minister for Finance) said that if the Irish horse was as good as they said it was, there must be some qualities in the Irish soil or climate that enabled them to produce such good animals. A mere flea-bite like income tax, therefore, was not going to prevent wealthy people from securing the best horses that money could purchase. If horses had been taken out of the country, other horses had been sent in. Sires valued at £15,000 had stood in this country during the last twelve months for the first time. The Irish horse-breeding industry was labouring under certain disadvantages, and if it had to be fostered it would have to be fostered in the right way. It would have to be fostered in such a way that there would be justice as between individual and individual.

By the amendment he was being asked to disregard entirely the real income derived from the business of keeping stallions. He asked the Senate not to accept the recommendation. He conceded that a case could be made in regard to tariffs, and it is even possible that a man could be charged for income tax here and might not be chargeable in Britain. Certain names had been mentioned in a memorandum that had been circulated, and he believed that these people were not chargeable for income tax here. The Minister for Agriculture had indicated that he was quite prepared to consider the whole position of the industry.

THE 3,000 SMALL OWNERS.

Mr. PARKINSON said that he was trying to make a case for the three thousand owners of the three thousand thoroughbred mares in the country. He did not pretend that they could breed 3,000 Derby winners every year, but he knew that they had gained tremendous prestige through the success of Windsor Lad and Felicitation. If the people here were unable to produce Grade A thoroughbreds then this industry would be like a lot of other things—a thing of the past.

Mr. JOHNSON said that the Minister had made a sound case and justified his position completely in the matter of income tax law. He wondered whether the Minister had been influenced in reducing income tax by the action of the British authorities in this matter?

Senator CONNOLLY, Minister for Lands, said they were all very much concerned with the future of the horse-breeding industry, and he suggested that some definite plan should be put up to the Minister for Finance and the Minister for Agriculture whereby some sort of protection and assistance should be given to the industry.

SUBSIDIES A CURSE.

Mr. JAMESON said that Senator Connolly had suggested subsidies for the horse-breeding industry.

Of all the infernal curses in this country, said Mr. Jameson, subsidies are the worst. If that was going to be the alternative, then they did not want it. The House had some position before the country and should let it be known that practically unanimously they had objected to this tax upon the horse-breeding industry. He had hoped to hear from the Minister that he would seek to find some means of affording relief to the industry which would prevent the great sires and mares leaving the country, but they had no such word from him. The House was bound in its own justification to pass the recommendation.

Mr. PARKINSON said that the Irish Free State was one of the three great competing countries in horse breeding, the others being France and Great Britain. They merely asked the Minister to give them in this country the same terms for their stallions as the people in France and Great Britain received.

Mr. MacENTEE, Minister for Finance, said that representatives of the horse breeding industry had been in touch with the Minister for Agriculture, and the help which the Government contemplated for the horse breeding industry would be much more substantial than the proposal in this amendment before the house. Objection had been taken to subsidies, yet what was the recommendation here but a subsidy in a concealed form. If they were to assist the industry, let them do it in an open way. The Minister for Agriculture and himself were discussing at the moment proposals which would go further than the recommendation, and he would ask the House, therefore, not to press that recommendation. The Government would be in a position within a few days—at least, before the Horse Show—to announce what they proposed to do regarding the horse breeding industry.

The recommendation was passed, Senator Connolly dissenting. The report stage was fixed for next Wednesday.

PROPERTY-OWNERS' INCOME TAX.

SUGGESTED NEW SUB-SECTION.

Sir JOHN KEANE moved a recommendation to Section 2, Sub-section 2, and the substitution of a new sub-section providing that, where an owner of land or buildings shows that the annual value is greater than the rent, according to the average of the preceding five years, he shall be entitled, on making a claim for the purpose, to repayment of the amount of the tax on the excess. Rent, for the purposes of that bill, should be taken to be the full amount payable under that rule, a deduction to be made for any portion of rent wholly or irrevocably lost, for any portion of such rent voluntarily foregone by agreement with the occupier, and for any sums which the person entitled to the rent was obliged, by agreement with the occupier, to pay or satisfy out of the rent in respect of any rates or assessments legally charged upon the occupier, and for the cost of maintenance, repairs, insurance, and management.

At present, he said, every owner was allowed one-sixth of his valuation for repairs to houses, and one-eighth in the case of lands. The Government sought to change that practice on the grounds that, under the Valuation Acts in Ireland, a hidden allowance for repairs had always been given in arriving at a valuation.

Up to the present the owner-occupier had been allowed to set off, for the purpose of taxation, the full amount of his proved repairs. If they exceeded the allowance of one-sixth, he was allowed whatever amount was in excess. It was sought to do away with that practice on the ground that the allowance for repairs had already been given in a hidden form. The Government had taken up the line that whatever was spent on repairs could not be set off against the valuation. Up to now this applied to let property as well as to occupied property. The owner was allowed to pay on the net receipts or the valuation, whichever was the lower. On an average of five years he was allowed to set off the total of his repairs. In fact, he only paid on income he received. This appeared to be an eminently just system. The Government now sought to wipe away that entirely, and to tax owners on the valuation, without any regard to the repairs or net receipts. The mitigation of the £5 was very slight, and did not in any way make good the broad principle of equity and justice, which was now violated. The effect of his recommendation was that the property owner would pay on net receipts or valuation, whichever was the lower.

Mr. MacENTEE, Minister for Finance, said that in the generality of cases owners received the concession asked for in the recommendation. He quoted examples to show that in many cases landlords received rents greatly in excess of the valuation, but only paid income tax on the valuation. If the present owner of property found that he was paying too much he could go to the Commissioners of Valuation and have the valuation adjusted. The Commissioners of Valuation would be bound to take into consideration the question of repairs and the amount which the property would bring in annually. The Government was only asking the Senate to assess income tax in accordance with the broad principles of equity and justice—namely, on the net rent received for the property.

If, at the end of a period of twelve months, it was found that the law, as they now proposed, had inflicted undue hardship on any class of property owner, he would be prepared to consider such hard cases as would be brought to his notice to see if anything could be done to ameliorate them.

"A MEAN THING."

Mr. DOUGLAS said that their business there was not to deal with remedies that might be made in a year or so, but to endeavour to prevent hardships. To introduce that change during the present year was one of the meanest things that the Government had done in the Finance Act. For years property owners had received the one-sixth rebate, and at a time when expenditure was heavy rates increased, and when people with property found it difficult to carry on the Minister gave a concession of sixpence in the £1 and took it away as far as property was concerned.

Sir JOHN KEANE said that he was prepared to withdraw his amendment and put forward on the report stage an amendment that would maintain the status quo in respect of let properties.

The MINISTER (Mr. MacEntee) said that he was advised that in no case that had come before the Revenue Commissioners was the rent less than two or two and a half times the valuation of the property.

He said that they were trying hard to rectify a mistake that had crept into the British Act of 1894, where it was assumed that the landlord paid for the repairs. In this country it was the practice that the tenant paid. To give effect to the Senator's proposal would entail a re-valuation of the whole country, and they were not prepared for that.

The amendment was by leave withdrawn. The House adjourned until three o'clock to-day.

PROBLEM FOR MINISTER.

CLARE COUNCIL CRUX.

SEVEN HOURS' DISCUSSION.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

ENNIS, Wednesday.

A CRUX over the appointment of the Board of Health at Clare County Council last night is being submitted for elucidation to the Minister for Local Government, and it is stated that if his decision does not result in some of their nominees being appointed the United Ireland Party will take the matter to the courts.

With ruthless precision the Fianna Fail majority on the Council excluded all opposition members from committees.

The Board of Health appointments presented an unusual problem. Heretofore the practice was to appoint five members by the Council as a whole, and one by each of the five electoral divisions, the members of which form themselves into groups for the purpose of making such appointments.

The Council duly appointed five supporters of Fianna Fail, but when it came to "resolving into groups" the U.I.P. minority resolved into two groups of eight and three and ignored the proposed electoral divisional groups. Simultaneously the other members of the Council resolved into five electoral groups, and every group selected one candidate. The result was that seven names were submitted for the five remaining seats.

Mr. M. J. Carey, Secretary to the Council, pointed out that the Act did not specify that the members should resolve into electoral groups, but it did expressly state that a group should consist of eight members. No group had consisted of eight members, except one of the two formed by U.I.P.

After seven hours' discussion over the appointment of this and other committees, on none of which U.I.P. were given representation, the Council decided to submit the facts regarding the Board of Health to the Minister.

The Council refused to appoint the two official nominees of the Clare National Teachers' Organisation on the Vocational Education Committee, and instead appointed one independent teacher, Mr. Thomas Sheedy. Similarly with other committees the official nominees of the same organisation were ignored.

LOUTH CHAIRMANSHIP.

Mr. James T. McGee, who was re-elected chairman of the Louth County Council on Tuesday, is a United Ireland representative and not an Independent. The Free State County Council chairmanships have, therefore gone to 15 Fianna Fail and 8 U.I.P. nominees.

SCHOOL TEACHER FINED.

CHARGED WITH STRIKING PUPILS.

LIMERICK, Wednesday.

At Limerick Liberties District Court today the adjourned case came on in which Thomas and Terence Keane, schoolboys, residing near Castleconnell, summoned their teacher, Denis Holohan, principal teacher, Castleconnell Boys' National School, for alleged assault.

At a previous court, evidence was given to the effect that, on 20th May last, defendant assaulted both boys by striking them, one on the mouth, and the other across the back of the hand. Defendant, it was alleged, used a cane and his knuckles.

The defendant denied the assaults, and said that he had no recollection of striking John Keane, and he accidentally struck Terence on the lip, which was caused by the boy suddenly turning his head.

Mr. Flood, D.J., said that he realised that it was necessary for teachers to inflict some measure of corporal punishment, but in this case he was satisfied that the punishment was a little too severe. In the case of the assault on John Keane he imposed a fine of £1, and in the case of Terence Keane £2, with £1 costs in each case.

Mr. O'Donovan, solicitor, gave notice of appeal on behalf of the defendant.

CORK RIVERS BOMBED.

STREWN WITH DEAD FISH.

ARMED PATROLS SUGGESTED.

CORK, Wednesday.

AT a sitting of the Commission on Inland Fisheries in Cork to-day, startling statements about the use of explosives by poachers in the Blackwater River were made by Mr. Edmond Rice, solicitor, Fermoy. Gelignite and detonators, he said, were used by poachers, and the results of explosions were terrible. Only the previous night he was down the river in a boat, and it was sickening to see the number of dead fish. The river was strewn with dead salmon as a result of explosives being used. If proper control were exercised over explosives such large quantities of them could not be obtainable. In Fermoy district explosives intended for County Council purposes were to be obtained wholesale.

The members of the Commission present were:—Mr. F. Gallagher, LL.B., solicitor, Donegal (chairman); Senator Duffy, Messrs. J. P. Digby, Liam Forde, and M. J. Gallagher (secretary). Mr. Rice was giving evidence in connection with Lismore fishery district, of which he is vice-chairman of the Board of Fishery Conservators.

In reply to the Chairman, Mr. Rice said that in some of the holes in the Blackwater there might be 300 or 400 salmon lying.

CONTROL OF EXPLOSIVES.

Chairman—What is your suggestion as a remedy? Witness—That those detonators and explosives should be properly controlled by those who have authority to use them.

Chairman—But are they not under control? Witness—That is not the case, because if it were those people who use them for poaching could not obtain such large quantities of them.

Chairman—How do they get gelignite?

Witness—In every instance where an explosion has taken place in the river it has been known locally that the men were employed on County Council roads or men in the employment of the Urban Council.

Mr. G. Moloney, solicitor, who appeared on behalf of the net fishermen of the River Lee, said that his clients claimed that they had noticed a marked decline in the number of fish in the river for the past seven years. They alleged that that was due to the constitution of the present Board of Fishery Conservators, who were personally interested by reason of their being riparian owners, which outweighed their true judgment in what should be done for the proper preservation of the salmon in the River Lee. Poaching during the annual close season was done on a colossal scale on the upper reaches and tributaries in which the salmon spawn.

Mr. T. Drohan, secretary, Mallow Board, said that on the night following a prosecution of a number of persons for poaching the river was bombed between Clondulane and Fermoy. The Superintendent of the Guards, when asked to provide protection for the river, replied that he could not spare men, as they were engaged on political duty. Witness thought armed Guards and bailiffs were necessary for the protection of the river from poachers.

BOOT AND SHOE REPAIRING.

TRADE BOARD'S PROPOSAL.

At a meeting of the Boot and Shoe Repairing Trade Board, held in Dublin on the 10th instant, it was decided to issue to the trade a notice of the board's proposal to fix minimum rates of wages for workers employed therein, including home-workers and apprentices. The definition of the trade includes the repairing of boots, shoes, slippers, and all kinds of leather footwear, and the making of bespoke hand-sewn, riveted and pegged leather footwear, but does not include the manufacture of leather footwear on a large scale, the repairing of leather goods other than footwear, nor the retailing of leather footwear.

The following were in attendance at the meeting, at which Mr. Thomas Kelly, T.D. (chairman), presided:—Representatives of Employers—Messrs. Cornelius English and George Cosgrave, Dublin; Thomas O'Neill, Waterford, and Michael Wallace Limerick. Representatives of Workers—Messrs. Patrick Beauchamp, Harry Dale, Charles Ledden and James Sinclair, Dublin, and Mr. Jeremiah McCarthy, Tralee.

UNEMPLOYMENT ASSISTANCE.

ANOMALIES IN ACT.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

WATERFORD, Wednesday.

The Unemployment Assistance Act was sharply criticised by the Waterford Workers' Council to-day, when it was pointed out that, as the Act stands, it was a definite encouragement not to seek work. A man who is employed on two consecutive days can, it was stressed, claim four days' unemployment benefit in any one week; but if employed on two alternate days he can get no benefit for the other four days of that week.

In view of the number of anomalies in the Act, it was decided to raise the matter by a special resolution at the Trade Union Congress.

NORTHERN SMUGGLING CHARGE.

MAGISTRATES' DECISION QUASHED.

BELFAST, Wednesday.

Before the Divisional Court of Northern Ireland High Court to-day, application was made on behalf of Francis Rusk and Michael Henry, both of Lislea, Co. Armagh, to make absolute a conditional order quashing the decision of Newry magistrates fining them £300, or in default six months' imprisonment, for attempted evasion of Customs duties on ten cattle brought across the Free State border.

Applicants' case was that as they had already pleaded guilty to a charge under one section of an Act of Parliament, the magistrates had no power so to try them on another charge that increased the penalty from one month to six months' imprisonment.

Mr. Justice Brown made the order absolute with costs, and ordered the immediate release of both men. He said that it was contrary to natural justice to allow men to plead guilty to an offence on which they believed they would get only one month's imprisonment, and then to enter a second charge in respect of the same offence under which they were liable to six months. No intimation was given by the Crown at the Petty Sessions that the men were going to be charged with an offence for which there was a greater penalty than one month.

WAGES IN THE CLOTHING TRADE.

AGREEMENT SIGNED.

Yesterday the new agreement between the Irish Free State Wholesale Clothing and Cap Manufacturers' Association and the Clothing Trade Unions affiliated to the Dublin Trades Union Council was signed at a conference held under the auspices of the Department of Industry and Commerce.

The final draft provides for a normal working week of 44 hours. Measure cutters are to be paid a weekly minimum of £4; stock cutters, knife-men, fitters-up, male pressers-off and tailors, a minimum of 1s. 5d. per hour; and warehousemen 1s. 3d. per hour. Female workers are to be paid 8d. an hour. The principle of a shorter working week for young persons is conceded, and overtime hours and rates have been fixed.

Workers are to receive six working days holidays, with pay in some cases at full rates and in others at agreed rates. Time lost through slackness of work or illness is to count towards the six-months qualifying period of service which is necessary before holidays are granted.

FOOD PROBLEMS OF THE CELTS.

THE PLAIN DIET OF OLD DAYS.

SIMPLE FOODSTUFFS FOR HEALTHY PEOPLE.

AT the evening session of the Celtic Congress in Dublin yesterday, Dr. Arbour Stephens (Swansea), consulting cardiologist to the Welsh National Memorial Association for Tuberculosis, delivered a lecture on "The Food Problem of the Celts."

At the outset he referred to what he described as the immense value of President de Valera's statement on cultural research which he made at the opening ceremony last Monday.

For the Celtic races to flourish, he said, they needed to be well fed on home-produced foods as in the past. This day of preserved cosmopolitan foodstuffs was undermining the health of the Celtic peoples, and they needed to return to their own home-produced national dietaries, which were simple but excellent for rearing healthy people. Scotch broth and oatmeal porridge were proverbial, but Irish and Welsh national fares were quite as good.

STARVING LANDS.

Our lands, he said, are starving for want of proper fertilisation, because the farmers are impoverished by the importation of preserved foreign foods. A healthy nation needs healthy land and healthy animals if the people were to be good and strong and active. Milk from unhealthy c... was bad for children, and tinned foods raised the maternal mortality rate. If our national home-produced foods are good our food producers need to be paid a wage which should be superior to that of the industrial worker, because they had got to think and use their brains, as well as work harder on the soil. If these wages were put on a right basis there will be a rush of workers to the land, where the amenities of modern life would spread.

This, he concluded, was a mission worthy of the Celtic races.

A FISH DIET.

Mr. MacLean (Scotland) said that the people of Western Ireland, the Scotch Highlands, and Western islands formerly lived mostly on fish until the English trawlers came in and took them, with the result that their money was going straight into the hands of the Englishman. If the Saorstát can make their own laws, he said, and extend their own boundaries of preserves in the seas, it will be of great benefit to Ireland.

Miss Jennie Williams said that the Esquimaux were a very healthy and strong race, but now, with the introduction of European food, tuberculosis had spread to such a tremendous extent that they were dying out at an alarming rate.

Donn Piatt said that in Ireland the country people, especially in the Gaeltacht, were feeding pretty well, although there was a great shortage of money there. The Donegal people said that the food in Dublin was hopeless, and the standard of living much lower than theirs. These country people used plenty of fish, milk and potatoes. The people were bound to fall back on their native products.

Mr. Hector MacDougall (Scotland) also spoke.

MR. DE VALERA'S OFFER.

Miss A. O'Farrelly announced that at a private business meeting of the committee the question of the offer of Mr. de Valera in regard to giving Government assistance towards Celtic cultural research was discussed, and it had been decided to hold a meeting on Saturday to consider the matter further and to advance a definite proposal. A resolution had been passed thanking Mr. de Valera and the Government for the offer.

Mr. Charles Campbell, Glasgow Gaelic Society, presided.

U.I.P. MEMBERS WALK OUT.

CARLOW URBAN COUNCIL MEETING.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

CARLOW, Wednesday.

The adjourned statutory meeting of the Carlow Urban Council was held to-day, when there was a full attendance of members. The Town Clerk, in reply to Mr. Macgamhna, said he had no reply from the Local Government Department with regard to the points raised last Friday, when the meeting was adjourned.

Mr. Macgamhna said he had a wire from the Department to the effect that the outgoing vice-chairman could preside in his absence. As he had a business engagement to attend to at 12.20 he would leave Mr. J. J. Cuddy to preside.

A letter was read from Mr. Duggan, solicitor to the Council, which stated that in the absence of the outgoing chairman any member of the Council might be selected as a chairman by the votes of the majority.

Mr. Cuddy said he was satisfied that he could preside in view of the wire from the Local Government Department to Mr. Macgamhna, and then took the chair. Members of the U. I. Party protested against Mr. Cuddy's action, and said that the wire was not produced.

Mr. Cuddy proposed Mr. B. O'Keeffe as Chairman, and Mr. Colclough seconded.

Mr. Duggan then said that in view of the attitude taken by Mr. Cuddy there was nothing left for them but to retire. All the U.I. Party members then left in a body. The business was then taken with only the Fianna Fail and Labour members present. Mr. B. O'Keeffe was unanimously elected chairman and Mr. J. Cuddy vice-chairman. All committees were elected composed of Fianna Fail and Labour members, with power to co-opt other members.

BOXING BOARD'S APPEAL ALLOWED.

IRISH BOXER'S £3,000 PURSE.

Judgment was entered for the British Boxing Board of Control in the Appeal Court, London, yesterday at the conclusion of the hearing before the Master of the Rolls and Lords Justices Slesser and Romer of the Board's appeal against the decision of Mr. Justice MacKinnon that they had no right to withhold a purse of £3,000 from Jack Doyle after his fight with Petersen for the heavy-weight championship of England at the White City, London, last July.

Doyle was disqualified, and the B.B.B.C. withheld the purse under a rule passed after the issue of Doyle's first boxing licence in March, 1932, but before its renewal in March of the following year.

CHARGE OF SMUGGLING GREYHOUNDS.

At Newry Petty Sessions yesterday charges of smuggling six greyhounds were preferred against Edward Matthews, of Lidmonliska, Newry, but on his pleading guilty to the charge of harbouring a black greyhound they were withdrawn. For the defence it was said that Matthews had shipped dogs for many years to England and America, and on this occasion he was told that the dogs were all right, so he sent them to England in his own name.

He was fined £100.

LURGAN YOUTH DROWNED.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LURGAN, Wednesday.

Whilst bathing with a number of other boys at Castor's Bay, Lough Neagh, near Lurgan, this evening, William Isaac Marsden (15), residing with his parents in Prince's street, Lurgan, got beyond his depth and was drowned.

The body was recovered ten minutes later.

Balbriggan Drowning.—At an inquest in Balbriggan, Co. Dublin, concerning the death of Mr. Hugh Nally (45), of Hampton street, Balbriggan, evidence of identification was given by John Nally, a brother, who stated that the deceased man left home early on Sunday morning to go swimming. Gerald McGarry, an attendant at the baths, stated that, in company with Mr. C. Patten, they caught hold of Nally, but owing to the heavy run on the tide and the heavy sea all three were submerged several times, and eventually he had to be rescued himself. A verdict was returned of death by drowning. The Coroner expressed sympathy with the relatives, and commended Messrs. McGarry and Patten. Sergeant Walsh, on behalf of the Garda, associated himself with the Coroner's remarks.

SHOTS ON NORTHERN LAKE.

TWELVE MEN BEFORE CRIMES COURT.

BELFAST, Wednesday.

A minor battle on Lough Beg, Co. Antrim, was described at a Crimes Court in Antrim to-day, when eleven men, belonging to Cranfield, near Randalstown, Co. Antrim, were charged before Mr. J. M. Mark, R.M., and Captain Gosselin, R.M., with unlawful assembly while armed.

The defendants were:—Matthew and John Quinn, Peter Cassidy, Robert Quigley, Hugh Hannon, James Tate, Henry J. Dowd, James Dowd, John Dowd, Michael Dowd (senr.), and Michael Dowd (jun.), all of Cranfield, and Henry Johnston, Annaghmore.

Mr. H. H. Mussen, Crown Solicitor, who prosecuted, said that on May 30 the chief defendant, Matthew Quinn, had been poaching for eels, and a tank of eels which he had taken illegally were seized. Two boats, a motor boat and a rowing boat, searching for illegal fishing tackle were fired on from the shore. Quinn and the other defendants were seen going in the direction from which the shots were fired. The object was to interfere with or intimidate the inspectors, who had been joined by the police. A number of shots were fired at the boats, and bullets went into the water close at hand.

Arthur King, fishery inspector, said that he was on duty with other officials and two constables about three-quarters of a mile from Cranfield. Witness saw Matthew Quinn, John Quinn, and Peter Cassidy row out on Lough Neagh and commence dragging with an eel line. They lifted the line, and then went further and lifted an eel tank. They rowed back towards Cranfield, where they met another boat, and then the two boats went towards the shore. Witness sent the two constables and Henry Ellis to meet the boats as they landed. He described the seizure of the tank of eels, and, referring to the shooting, said that the shots came from a thicket nearly opposite Quinn's house. About thirty shots were fired in all. The police, in the motor boat, returned the fire, and the shooting from the shore then ceased. The people he saw at Cranfield were Matthew Quinn, Peter Cassidy, Michael Dowd, senior; Michael Dowd, junior; John Dowd, Hugh Hannon, and James Tate.

Two dum-dum bullets, stated to have been found in the thicket, were handed to the magistrates.

Mr. McCorry, for the defence, submitted that he had no case to answer. There was no proof of identification of anyone.

Mr. Marks, R.M., said that he thought the Crown were justified in bringing the prosecution. There was one weak link, however, and that was that there was no proof of identification of the men.

Captain Gosselin, R.M., said that in 31 years' experience he had not come across a worse case than the two dum-dum bullets which were before him. "I wish I had the owner in front of me," added the Resident Magistrate.

The cases were dismissed on the merits.

AN IRISH HERO.

RORKE'S DRIFT SURVIVOR DEAD.

Mr. James O'Gorman, one of the few remaining survivors of the little band of heroes who defended Rorke's Drift against overwhelming Zulu forces in 1879, has died at Durban, Natal. He collapsed in the street and was dead before he could be taken to hospital.

Recently his old regiment, the 24th (South Wales Borderers), attempted to get into touch with him with a view to finding out whether he was in need of help. O'Gorman, with his typical Irish courage and independence, refused to admit that he was in need.

AIR CRASH NEAR BRIGHTON

Two men were injured when an aeroplane crashed near Brighton last night. The pilot, Captain Eric George Stewart, was badly injured in the head. A passenger, Harold Lightbody, of London, had an arm fractured.

CORK'S UNEMPLOYED.

DIVERGENT OPINIONS ON NEW ACT.

CORK, Wednesday.

At a meeting of South Cork Board of Assistance to-day, Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D., presiding, Alderman Allen said that a dock labourer who had worked half a day last month and earned 6s. 6d., was docked 7s. 9d. by the Labour Exchange, so he said he would not go to work any other week. They were paying £15,000 a year out of the city and they were getting no relief.

The Chairman said that they were being relieved only by £100, whereas there was about £500 a week being paid out by the Labour Exchange.

Mr. Monahan, City Manager, said that it was a very serious thing for the city the way this Act was being administered. It was now three months since the Act came into operation, and they were getting relieved to the extent of £100 a week or £5,000 a year. The Government required them to pay £15,000 a year, so that the financial consequences of the Act to the city was that it had increased their expenditure by £10,000 a year.

A letter from the Ministry of Industry and Commerce stated that the amount paid to unemployed applicants in the Borough for the week ended 8th instant was £507 6s. 6d. If the same amount were paid each week for the whole year, the total would be £26,380 18s., as against the Borough's contribution of £14,442. The Board should realise from these figures that the headway made even at this early stage in the operation of the Act was satisfactory.

KILLED IN BLACKPOOL.

GALWAY WORKER'S FATE.

BLACKPOOL, Wednesday.

How the collapse of an excavation trench at Red Bank road, Bispham, Blackpool, buried two Irishmen, killing one and injuring the other, was told at the resumed inquest here to-day on Patrick Connolly (45), a native of Co. Galway.

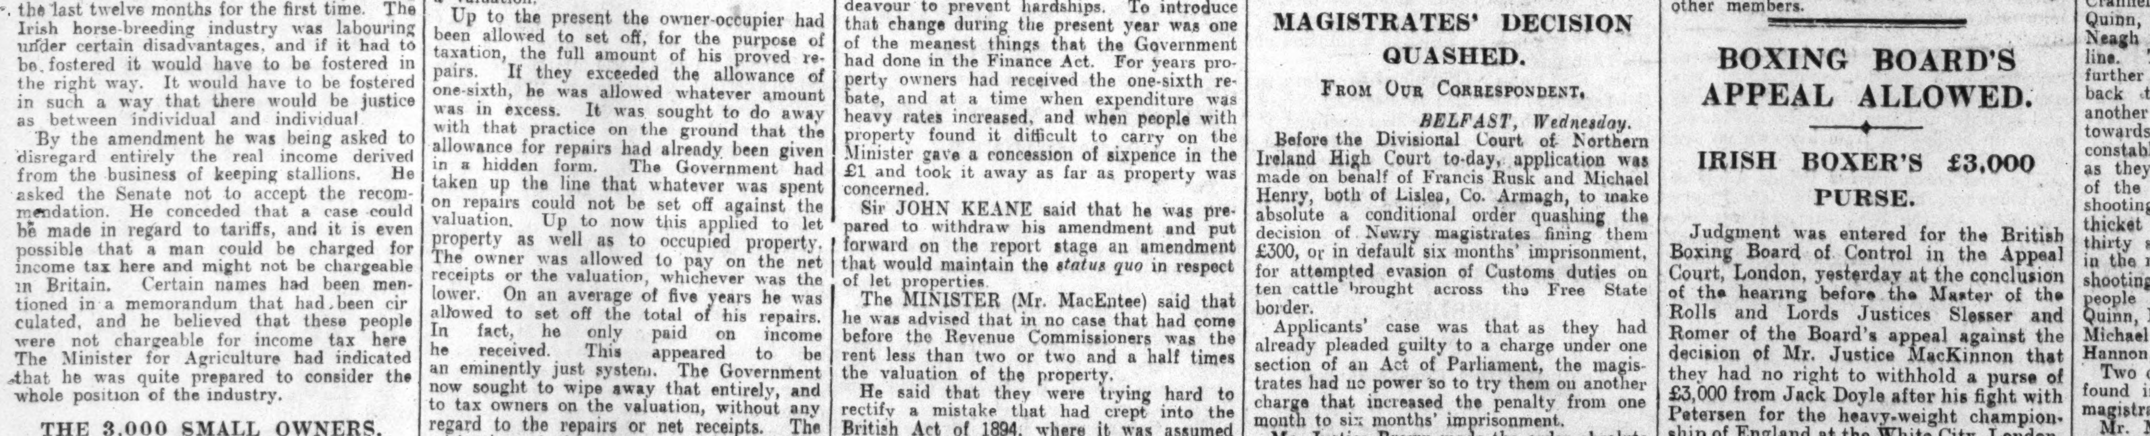

Patrick McLoughlin said that he and Connolly were working in a trench about 8 feet deep. They had timbered a manhole the previous night and everything was then alright. Rain fell heavily during the night and washed the sand and clay away from the wood. "During the operations," said McLoughlin, "Connolly and I were at the bottom, and suddenly Mr. Ernest Hargreaves, the contractor's son, shouted and we jumped up. But, in running for safety, we went full into the fall. We were both buried, but I was rescued by fellow-workmen, who, hearing Mr. Hargreaves shout, hurried to the scene. There was no defect in the timbering, and no one to blame. The rain caused the collapse."

A verdict of accidental death was returned, and sympathy with the relatives of the dead man expressed.

DROWNED IN THAMES LOCK.

Mr. Howard Walker Nightingale (37), of Wandsworth road, London, fell from a motor launch into Cookham Lock, Maidenhead, last night and was drowned. He and his wife were alone on the boat, and, though Mrs. Nightingale saw him fall, she was powerless to save him. He was able to cling to a chain for a time, but loosed his hold.

THE PRICE OF BRICKS.

MR. J. GOOD, T.D., GIVES EVIDENCE.

FIGURES AT PRICES COMMISSION.

At yesterday's sitting of the Prices Commission, at La Touche Buildings, Castle street, Dublin, evidence was given on behalf of the Dublin Brick Company.

The Commission, of which Mr. J. P. O'Brien, B.A., is chairman, is inquiring into the cost of materials and appliances used in the construction of houses under Section 17 of the Housing (Financial and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1932.

Mr. K. Dockrell, K.C. (instructed by Dr. M. Good, solicitor), who appeared on behalf of the company, said that Mr. John Good, T.D., the chairman of the company, was now present, and was prepared to give all the assistance the Commission might require from him.

Mr. Good said that the company was formed in 1912, with a nominal capital of £50,000. In 1927 and 1931 the capital was reduced, until in the latter year it stood at £8,750, the present capital. Originally the company had four works. That at Crumlin road was the only one working at the present time.

FIRST TEN YEARS.

For the first ten years the company concentrated on building up its reserves, and for eighteen years the shareholders had received only 3.7 per cent., the moneys that should have been paid to the shareholders being used for the benefit of the company. For the last two years the company had been more generous, and dividends at the rate of one shilling per 5s. share had been paid. Owing to the competition of cement, there had been a decreased demand for bricks, and they were compelled to close three of the works, while the fourth only had eight or nine months' work in a year. They had seen no future for the works, and they had sold these not being used. When they received the money for the sale of the works they thought that it was only right that they should hand back three-quarters of the capital. The dividend actually paid over the whole period of the company's working was 4.4 per cent.

In regard to the output of the works, Mr. Good said that the number of bricks produced was:—

1931-32	7,962,000
1932-33	8,939,000
1933-34	7,314,000

Year.	Finished.	Unfinished.
1930	1,489,238	615,690
1931	1,746,784	850,500
1932	844,703	518,600
1933	1,589,342	804,600
1934	571,693	795,780

At this stage Mr. Good said that he would supply information demanded in a number of questions, and he would prefer that it should not be made public.

NO GUARANTEE.

The Chairman said that they were prepared to accept evidence in writing, and were not anxious to bring out matters in public. They could not, however, guarantee to treat as private any information handed into them, and Mr. Good would have to leave himself in the hands of the Commission.

Mr. Good said that he was handing in the documents, and he hoped that they would be treated as confidential.

The Chairman said that so far as it was compatible with their conception of their duty the information would be treated as private. The inquiry was, however, public, and they might have to include certain items of the information in their report to the Minister. If the Minister thought it necessary he might publish that report.

Dealing with the price of bricks, Mr. Good said that, on the auditors' figures for December, 1933, and January and February, 1934, the company was selling bricks at a loss, and it had been necessary to increase the prices on February 14 last. He thought that the Commission would agree that the increase was called for in view of the increase in wages and the increased cost of fuel.

When the Chairman said that it was necessary to get down to the actual manufacturing costs, Mr. Good said that, from the point of view of the company, it would be highly undesirable to discuss the details of the statement in public.

Mr. O'Brien said that he could accept the statement as prepared, only from a certain point of view. He was not disputing the accuracy of the figures, but was concerned with the question of how they were placed.

AN INCREASE.

Mr. Good said that he would like to have the points discussed frankly in the absence of the Press, much as he regarded the Press.

The Chairman said that he could not resist the temptation of asking why the company had provided for income tax over a three-month period in which they showed a loss.

Mr. Good said that was a question he would like put to the auditors. He added that the liquid assets of the company on March 31 last were approximately £15,000. He undertook to make available certain comparative figures for other years arising out of the statements that had been handed in.

Chairman—You suggest that the increase of 5s. per thousand is merely passing on to the consumer an increase in working costs?—Yes.

There was, continued Mr. Good, an increase of 3s. per thousand as the result of an increase of wages, and an increase of 2s. per thousand as a result of an increase in the cost of fuel.

The Commission adjourned pending the production of further documents and information regarding costings, sales of land and buildings.

RAID ON DUBLIN LAUNDRY.

OLD OFFENDER GUILTY.

(BEFORE JUDGE DAVITT AND A JURY.)

JOSEPH CARROLL, alias James J. Kennedy, no address, was charged with having, on or about January 2, 1931, broken and entered the Court Laundry, Harcourt street, Dublin, and stolen £105 2s. 4d. in cash, £32 10s. 4d. in cheques, 2s. 10½d. in postage stamps, and £118 8s. 9d. in insurance stamps. He was also charged with having explosive substance, with intent to cause injury to property.

Mr. Joseph A. McCarthy, K.C. (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor) prosecuted, and Mr. O. L. Moriarty (instructed by Mr. P. Campbell) defended.

John Donovan said that he put between £15 and £20 into the safe on the evening of January 3. When he returned next morning the safe had been blown open, the money taken, doors forced and a window damaged.

Evidence was given by the cashier as to cash, cheques and stamps put into the safe on January 3.

Detective-Inspector John Lynch said that, when he was called to the laundry he found the safe blown open. On the floor were some burnt pieces of fuse, used for exploding gelignite.

Detective-Officer James Brady stated that at Amiens street Station on April 28 last he saw Kennedy, who said that his name was Johnston, and that he came from Belfast. Subsequently, at Store street Police Station, he admitted that his name was Carroll, otherwise Kennedy, and that he was employed in Dublin.

The State case having closed, Mr. Moriarty asked for a direction, submitting that there was no evidence on which a jury could convict the prisoner. The case against him was one of suspicion.

Judge Davitt said that he would leave the case to the jury.

The defendant, who gave his name as James J. Kennedy or Joseph Carroll, denied on oath that he had anything whatever to do with breaking and entering the Court Laundry.

Asked why he gave the name of Johnson to Detective Officer Brady, he said that in 1929 he was a witness in a murder trial in Belfast, and a certain organisation had threatened him, and he was warned by, not only the civilian population, but by the police, that he had better keep clear of Belfast. His wife lived in Belfast, and would not leave it, and he went there occasionally, and for that reason he changed his name. He had been followed both in Belfast and Dublin, and the reason why he gave the two detectives the wrong name at Amiens street was that he thought they were two men who had followed him from Belfast.

In cross-examination by Mr. McCarthy he said that he gave evidence in Belfast in the case of the murder of a postman.

Mr. McCarthy—There was nothing political about it?

Witness—There was; the postman belonged to a certain organisation.

After Mr. Moriarty had addressed the jury for the defence and Judge Davitt had summed up, the jury found the prisoner guilty on both counts.

Mr. McCarthy said that Kennedy had been in and out of jail or doing penal servitude at various periods since 1904. He was a dangerous criminal and an expert in the use of explosives.

The prisoner was put back for sentence and for trial on other charges of housebreaking, larceny and possession of explosives.

The Court adjourned to Green street at 11 o'clock this morning.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

A DEAD-HEAT.

Ben Marshall Wins His Race in Easy Fashion.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.

SALISBURY, Wednesday Night.

THE best news is that there may be a change in the weather. The sun was not so powerful to-day, though it was more sultry and oppressive, and there were indications of a thunderstorm when the sky clouded over just before the last race.

One good horse fell a victim to the going during the day, and that was the one that we least expected to be affected by the hard ground, the American, Mrs. Ambrose Clark's On Post. He was carrying his top-weight well in the Bibury Cup, and was in a good position from which to challenge three furlongs from home, when he suddenly dropped out and came back to the paddock lame.

This race resulted in a dead-heat between Sir Henry Lyons's Norman Herald and Mr. J. A. Dewar's Estate Duty, whom he bought out of a selling race at Newmarket to lead Medieval Knight in his Derby preparation.

He was a little lucky to have forced a division of the stakes this afternoon, for after he had made the running until they were two furlongs from home Norman Herald took the lead from him, and continued to lead until they were close to the winning post, where Gordon Richards brought the other again and forced him up to make the dead-heat.

Lack of Strength.

Major Sneyd's boy, E. Smith, is a good apprentice, but in his finish on Norman Herald he was handicapped in not having the strength of the leading jockey. Foxbridge was beaten four lengths behind the dead-heaters, and his form this season is hard to understand except on the assumption that he no longer likes racing.

Chorist, who is beginning to look his years, finished fourth, a long way behind. There was a time when he would have done better than this on the favourable way in which he was handicapped.

Salisbury has always been one of Fred Darling's happy hunting grounds, and, though he went away empty yesterday, he took two prizes as well as half the Bibury Cup Stakes to-day. He, first of all, won the Hurstbourne Stakes with Lord Woolavington's Ben Marshall, and then the Pembroke Maiden Stakes with Mr. Dewar's Abbot's Last.

Ben Marshall, who is by Gainsborough out of Fair Diana, is an attractive, blood-like colt, with plenty of distinction about him, and although he was inclined to let his mind wander from his job and his footsteps to stray from the straight path, Richards got him down to his work, and he galloped away from them to win, with his ears pricked, by three lengths from Canyonette, with Love's Legacy getting up in the last stride to run Smoke Screen out of a place.

His Best Two-year-old.

Except for Caretta, Ben Marshall (named after the famous horse painter, whose works are so enormously valuable now) may be the best two-year-old with which Fred Darling has yet won.

Gordon Richards and E. Smith had another duel in the Pembroke Stakes, in which odds were laid on Abbot's Last, the mount of the former. Smith headed him on Miss Paget's Gains a furlong from home and seemed to have him beaten, when he came again on Abbot's Last and beat the other by three-parts of a length.

Richards had to submit to defeat at the hands of his brother, Clifford, in the City Selling Plate He rode Grumbling Ginger for Frank Hartigan, and was favourite, while Clifford rode Golden Earl for Mr. Blagrave. The younger brother was a comfortable winner by a length, after which Mr. Blagrave bought Golden Earl in for 200 gns.

There was better bidding for the winner of the Juvenile Selling Plate. This was Transmitter, a good-looking Son and Heir colt, trained by Mr. Cottrill for Mr. Denison Pender. Beary rode him, and he was an easy winner from the diminutive Jade Lady. There was a lot of bidding for this promising winner, and 460 guineas was reached before he was bought in.

Amateurs' Race.

There was only one amateurs' race on the card this afternoon, the Bibury Welter, and this was regarded as a good thing for St. Oswald, who was placed in the Cambridgeshire a few years ago. In spite of his 12st. 7lb. and the comparative lack of experience of his owner-rider, Mr. J. U. Baillie, a subaltern in the Coldstreams, he was a strong favourite. There was never much doubt about the issue, and St. Oswald won easily by three lengths from Archimedes.

The attendance was, I thought, a poor one for Bibury Cup day, but this meeting depends mainly for its gate-money on the country people, and agriculture is in such a parlous state that those who live by it cannot afford to go racing.

Selections.

I am afraid the attendance will be worse to-morrow, for the programme is not a good one. It looks as if there will be only three or four runners for the Champagne Stakes that, in the days when the Bibury Club meeting was at Stockbridge, used to be looked on as a great two-year-old event, and led to a great deal of betting. It looks like being between AVERTIN and the Phalange colt, and the former may add to Fred Darling's successes at the meeting.

GAMESMASTER may win the Alington Handicap, and ALMOND HILL the Downton Handicap.

The strange behaviour yesterday of Harinero, who lay down when he ought to have gone out and raced, is made still more strange by the fact that, when he got back to Whatcombe yesterday evening, he was entirely normal. He cleaned up his corn at stable time, and was out as usual this morning. He has the laugh on On Post now.

LIMERICK PROGRAMME.

Fields of Good Strength : Interesting Sport Promised at Greenpark.

(Train, Kingsbridge, 9.30 a.m.)

AS usual, the Limerick meeting has been liberally patronised by owners, and fields of good strength will be seen out for the various races this afternoon. Farraboy has been declared as a runner for both the Ardnacrusha Hurdle Race and the Garryowen Flat Race, but his chance in the latter looks the better. Probably he will be saddled for this and should win it, and in his absence from the hurdle race Golden George holds a big chance. Selections:—

Limerick Plate—Athassel.
Ardnacrusha Plate—Golden George.
Garryowen Plate—Farraboy.
Greenpark Plate—Kate Carlin.
Directors' Plate—Kilmogannv.
Munster Plate—Roi Rita.

TOTE DOUBLE.
Farraboy and Kate Carlin.

Tote Double on Third and Fourth Races.

2.0—LIMERICK PLATE of 50 sovs. Second 5 sovs. A handicap hurdle race. $1\frac{1}{2}$ m. Age st. lb.

STEFANETTE SCORES.

A Crotanstown Treble at Phœnix Park.

RACING in the cool of the evening was much enjoyed by a fairly large crowd at the Phœnix Park yesterday. There were some exciting finishes, and the racing generally was up to a fair standard, the feature being the sequence of successes gained by the Crotanstown trainer, J. T. Rogers, whose horses won three of the six races, all being ridden by the stable jockey, E. Gardner.

Oskenonton, as usual, gave some trouble before the start of the Kimmage Plate, but went away in line with the others. Accolade was in front in the early stages and held his position until well down the straight. Gold Cot then tackled him and, quickly getting his measure, then stalled off Anna's Pride to win by half a length.

ORMOND QUAY DISAPPOINTS.

Morning Star and Golden Toff, the joint favourites for the Kingstown Plate, were always fighting out the issue, but the former was going the easier right through and had only to be roused to go out and win in easy style.

The same winning combination was to the fore in the succeeding event, the Kingsbridge Plate, which was won by Mr. J. T. Rogers' Essex Lad, ridden by E. Gardner. It was a splendid finish, in which the odds-on favourite, Ormond Quay, was concerned, and the fact that T. Burns had to carry 7lb. overweight on Mr. J. J. Murphy's filly about accounted for her defeat.

THIRD WIN FOR MR. J. T. ROGERS.

There was considerable delay over the start of the Arnott Plate, caused by the favourite, Parting Glass, casting two shoes when about to be mounted. The filly's number was eventually withdrawn by permission of the Stewards, so that a new betting market had to be opened. Newtown Ford and Regrator were then joint favourites, while Stefanette was also well backed. There was another fine finish, and again the J. T. Rogers and E. Gardner combination came to the forefront, Stefanette scoring by a length and a half from Newtown Ford, with Oranone, two lengths off, third.

A SCORE FOR BRACKENSTOWN.

Lebanon, keeping clear of some scrummaging that took place in the closing stages of the Kilcock Plate, was able to get the best of a finish with Terraplane and Sunstroke to win a bit comfortably, and in the last race the Brackenstown stable at last got a turn of luck. There were six runners for this five furlongs event, and five were supported at odds ranging from threes to fours. Vici for a long way looked like scoring over this, his favourite course, but he failed to stay on as well as either Toland or Hawthorn Arch, the former crediting Mrs. J. G. Fitzgerald with the spoils.

Sole catering by T. Neary, Chatham street, Dublin.

YEARLINGS ARRIVE AT HEADQUARTERS.

The three yearlings—two colts and a filly—which were purchased out of the National Stud's draft at the Newmarket July Sales last week by Mr. J. J. Parkinson, have arrived at the Maddenstown Lodge stables, writes our Curragh correspondent. One of them, the chestnut colt by Spion Kop out of Emolument, cost 270 guineas, and is a three-parts brother to Lucky Patch. The other colt is by Spion Kop out of Sister Stella, the dam of the recent winner, Ankaret, and cost 250 guineas, while the filly is a chestnut by Diligence, from Green Cormorant.

The Conyngham Lodge trainer, Mr. M. C. Collins, also made three purchases at Newmarket, and they arrived at the Curragh on Tuesday evening. One is a four-year-old filly named Brenta. The others are yearlings, one a chestnut colt by Rameses II. out of Antigone, and the other a filly by Black Gauntlet—Burnt Silver.

REVELRY FANCIED.

The Covenanter Best Choice in Downton Plate.

ALTHOUGH the chief race at Salisbury to-day, the Champagne Stakes, will attract no more than three runners, the programme is not uninteresting, as the two handicaps, the Alington Plate, over a mile and a half, and the six furlongs Downton Plate, will both be strongly contested.

I am told that Gamesmaster has benefited by the rest he has had since running at the second spring meeting at Newmarket, and is likely to be difficult to beat in the Alington Handicap. He is certainly better treated in the matter of weight than was the case on his last appearance, and I think that he will account for Tidebrook and Poet's Pride this time. His best effort was when third in the Esher Cup, over the severe Sandown course, and I do not doubt his ability to stay the extra half mile.

Rydon Fairy, with the 7lb. penalty she picked up at Chepstow, may have too much to do, but Sudbury, from Fred Darling's stable, has competed in better-class company. I understand that this son of Gainsborough is fitter now than at any previous period of his career, so he should be capable of making the best of his opponents gallop.

Venery does not appear to be of much account, even though she divided Seascape Boy and Slave Song at Alexandra Park in May. Revelry, however, won cleverly over a mile and a quarter at Lewes, and he gave the impression that there was scope for improvement. Jeanine, whom he beat by a neck, has only been allowed 1lb., and, from my reading of the race, this will not be sufficient to cause any reversal of form.

I am told to put in a good word for Yellow Peril, who is better than his last running suggests, but I shall pin my faith to who will again have the strong handling of A. Richardson.

As it was only in a selling event that Lone Isle won at Newmarket, she escaped a penalty for the Downton Handicap, and if she again consents to run her race out to the end she will be thereabouts. She will be receiving 8lb. from Almond Hill, who is half her age, and this is a nice pull in the weights.

Eagleray may be stopped by his Newmarket penalty, but The Covenanter and Golden Fairy II. have attractive appearances at 7st. 3lb. and 7st. 2lb. respectively. I think is the best proposition in the race, for I learn that Fred Darling has got him back to his best form. He was a warm favourite in his only race this season, and has less to do this time.

The Champagne Stakes should also go to Fred Darling by the aid of

who was close up behind the placed horses in Shahali's race at Ascot. Previously she slammed a big field at Newmarket, which included Vermeil II. and Maltravers.

Audience is a well-fancied runner for the Great West Riding Handicap at Pontefract, but this is a luckless sort, and I shall take my chance with the improving who will have conditions underfoot to his liking, is a confident choice for the Went Plate.

BRAVERY.

FRAXINUS is worth another chance in the Alexandra Handicap, and the consistent

NEWMARKET HINTS FOR TO-DAY.

We shall be poorly represented at Pontefract.

is well down in the weights for the Innkeepers' Selling Handicap, and is worth attention each way.

We have Seductive, who won at Newcastle, running for the Park Hill Maiden Plate, and I think she will concede the weight to Manicure, but may find one too good in who has run well in each of her two races and pleased in a recent gallop.

SANCHANCE (next best)

in the Great West Riding Handicap, and as the latter has done well of late he has my vote.

At Salisbury my fancies are:—2.0—Bargain; 2.30—Winkle; 3.30—Lawn Meet.

CRICKET.

A DRAW AT LORD'S.

Storer Saves Derby : Century By Sutcliffe.

OXFORD spent the whole of the last day at Lords struggling against defeat. The prospects of Cambridge forcing victory at times loomed large, but, taking four and three-quarter hours to dismiss the Dark Blues for 182, they left themselves no more than 110 minutes to get the necessary 198 runs to win. Well as Cambridge bowled and fielded, Human, the captain, left himself open to criticism; for, after Pelham had taken the first two wickets in nine overs for six runs, he was rightly given a rest, but three hours elapsed before he was brought on again, and then, with his second delivery, he finished off the innings.

A grand defensive innings by Storer saved Derbyshire from utter collapse at Chesterfield, where, in three hours and a half, the county side were disposed of by the Australians for the meagre total of 145. In the first forty-five minutes of the day, with four men out for 16, Derbyshire looked like being dismissed for a very small score, indeed, but Storer showed that there was nothing wrong with the wicket, defying the bowling for two hours and three-quarters, and making a valuable 40.

The Australians, going in for an hour and 50 minutes, lost four men for 122, and so finished up 23 behind with six wickets in hand. Mitchell, with his cunningly disguised leg breaks, got all these wickets. Bradman drove splendidly, but several times Mitchell deserved his wicket. The 4,000 spectators did not see Ponsford bat, that player having to leave the field with a slight attack of lumbago.

Thanks to the admirable batting by Sutcliffe, who made his second century of the season, Yorkshire recovered from an unhappy start against Essex at Hull. They lost Hutton and Mitchell for only 17 runs, but then Davidson and Sutcliffe improved matters. Later Sutcliffe found a good helper in Turner and another three-figure partnership occurred. Sutcliffe and Davidson added 106, and Turner helped in a stand of 148.

J. PARKS INJURED.

While batting for Sussex against Northamptonshire, at Hove yesterday, J. H. Parks was struck on the hand by a rising delivery from Clark, the Northamptonshire left-arm fast bowler, and it was found on examination that the second finger of his right hand was fractured.

PRESENTATION TO VERITY.

Verity, the Yorkshire and England left-arm slow bowler, is to be presented with the two balls with which he took fifteen wickets in the two innings of the second Test match at Lord's. One will be presented to him by D. R. Jardine and the other by R. E. S. Wyatt.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Nitsichin for Stud.

Nitsichin, who has been struck out of all engagements, has definitely finished her racing career, and will be sent forthwith to the Athboy Stud. She was a fine performer over long distances, her principal successes being gained in the Irish Oaks and the Cesarewitch.

Why On Post Failed.

On Post, who was joint-favourite for the Bibury Cup at Salisbury yesterday, faltered just as he was making his final challenge about a quarter of a mile from the finish, and pulled up lame.

Conyngham Club Committee.

The meeting of the Conyngham Club Committee arranged for Tuesday was postponed.

Trainer's and Jockey's Treble.

Gordon Richards registered a treble at Salisbury races yesterday, bringing his total of successful mounts for the season up to 95. His winners were Estate Duty, who dead-heated with Norman Herald for the Bibury Cup; Ben Marshall (Hurstbourne Stakes) and Abbot's Last (Pembroke Stakes). The first and last-named are owned by Mr. J. A. Dewar, and all three are trained by Fred Darling at Beckhampton.

Additions to Bullock's Team.

Mr. James Shand's purchases at the recent Newmarket yearling sales—the colt by Manna out of Verdict, who cost 4,800 guineas; the colt by Thyestes out of Giroflee, and Pinfire—have been sent to Bullock's stables at Delamere Forest, Cheshire, where others of Mr. Shand's horses, and those owned by his wife, are trained.

IRELAND DEFEATS ENGLAND.

EXCITING MATCHES IN INTERNATIONALS.

The international matches, which were begun in Belfast yesterday, produced two keen and exciting matches, Ireland and Wales securing one point victories over England and Scotland respectively.

Ireland defeated England by 100 shots to 99. The teams were level at five ends. Five ends later England led by 6 shots at 50-44, but Ireland were ahead at 72-68, thanks mainly to the good work of the rink, skipped by T. McCrea, and in a thrilling finish Ireland won by 1 shot.

Scotland were well ahead at the conclusion of ten ends, but Wales made a fine recovery in the last eleven ends. Details:—

LAWN TENNIS.

IRISH CHAMPIONSHIPS.

R. J. Sandys' Splendid Play at Fitzwilliam.

THERE was another splendid day's tennis at Fitzwilliam yesterday, when the Irish championships were continued. All the visiting players were in action, and in some instances were in opposition, so the standard of play was very high all day. R. J. Ritchie and T. G. McVeagh went into the last eight of the singles with easy victories, and C. E. Malfroy and G. Lyttelton Rogers qualified for the semi-final. The New Zealander was far too good for our latest international, H. J. Ryan, whose cut backhand was unable to withstand constant pressure or reply adequately to a high-kicking service. Malfroy played the all-court game to perfection, but was helped by his opponent's mistakes in the second set.

Rogers was taken to the full five sets by R. J. Sandys, who gave a great display of retrieving, and at the same time took full advantage of anything short of a length. His forehand driving was much firmer than usual, and he served extremely well, but the pace on Rogers's ground shots eventually brought him through.

THE WOMEN'S SINGLES.

All the Irish players have been eliminated from the women's singles, in which the semi-finalists are Mrs. Sperling, Mrs. Hopman, Miss Hartigan, and Miss McOstrich. Mrs. Sperling had no difficulty in defeating Miss Harman, who could do little right, but the Danish lady made very few mistakes. Miss O'Keefe, on the other hand, played extremely well against Miss Hartigan, and was poorly rewarded with only three games. The closest match was that in which Mrs. Hopman beat Miss Stoker. The Irish girl did all the attacking in the first set, but she was up against a stone-wall defender, who could get almost everything back. Miss Stoker led 3-1, but lost the next four games. She rallied well to make the scores 5-all, but Mrs. Hopman took the next two games for set. The second set saw the Australian do more attacking, and her clever placing proved too good for Miss Stoker in the end. The final of the women's singles will be played late to-morrow evening.

There were two excellent matches in the mixed and women's doubles. Malfroy and Mrs. Hopman proved just a better combination than Clynton Reed and Miss McOstrich, while the Australian girls in partnership went down to Mrs. Sperling and Miss McOstrich. Mrs. Sperling's anticipation at the net proved a decisive factor here, but Miss McOstrich proved steady and reliable at the crisis of each set. Results:—

17-Footers (first gun, 6.30)—Silver Moon (scr.) allows Pauline 2 m.; Hera 3 m., Bobolink 4 m., Deilginis and Rosemary 5 m., Eileen 6 m., Anita, Echo and Oona 7 m.

COQUETTE WINS AGAIN.

Coquette scored her third successive first in three starts, when she won the Wag race sailed last evening, and won it cleverly. Fifteen started over the port course in a light S.E. breeze, Mollie being the leader away. Early on Pansy took the lead, and at the close of the first round was followed by Coquette, Margaret, Phyllis, Mollie, Shindilla, Anne, Nesta, Amyl, Cupid, Kittiwake, Moosmie, Blue Bird, Badger and Marie Louise. The principal change at the end of the next round was in Phyllis and Mollie going ahead of Margaret. The breeze, which had lasted splendidly up to this, failed badly when the guardship buoy was reached. Here Coquette was first to get round, followed by Pansy and Phyllis, the others being held up for quite a long while. Finish:—

	H'cap.	H. M. S.
Coquette (winner)—Mr. G. H. Jones	8m.	8 18 54
Pansy (2nd prize)—Dr. J. H. Stephens	8m.	8 20 21
Phyllis (3rd prize)—Mr. Newsom and Mr. W. R. McFerran	scr.	8 21 24
Margaret (4th prize)—Miss K. Sherlock	13m.	8 35 58
Amyl—Mr. and Mrs. Shackleton	11m.	8 36 45
Moosmie—Mr. F. T. Somerville-Large	8m.	8 39 18
Shindilla—Dr. N. M. Falkiner	10m.	8 41 30
Blue Bird — Dr. G. Pugin Meldon	12m.	8 44 3
Badger—Dr. W. S. Houghton	11m.	8 44 46
Cupid—Mr. R. Morris	9m.	8 44 52
Kittiwake—Mr. E. A. Brittain	9m.	8 45 12
Marie Louise—Mr. E. G. Peake	12m.	8 49 27

Mollie, Anne and Nesta retired.

AMERICA'S CUP TRIALS.

NEWPORT, R.I., Wednesday.

The second series of trial races to decide which yacht shall defend the America's Cup against Mr. T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour were continued yesterday with two races. In both these Yankee defeated Rainbow over courses of 28½ miles. In the first race in the afternoon, despite having trouble with her head sail, Yankee won by 5¼ mins. Rainbow, after a poor start, was 2 mins. 17 secs. ahead on the first leg of the second race, but Yankee came up to win by 8 mins. 27 secs.

HERON RETAINS DIVING TITLE.

At Blackrock Baths last evening E. Heron, the Irish plain-diving champion, retained the Leinster high-diving title. He gave a very finished exhibition, and had a good margin of points. The competition consisted of two running and one standing dives off the five-metre board, and two standing and one running off the ten-metre board. There were seven competitors.

Result.—E. Heron, Half Moon, 1; J. H. Morton, Pembroke, 2; W. McKee, Dublin, 3.

DUBLIN S.C.

Ladies' Section.—To-night, at Blackrock Baths, 400 metres handicap and 50 metres juniors.

WATER POLO.

SANDYCOVE AGAIN BEAT TRINITY.

SANDYCOVE......... 4 DUBLIN UNIVERSITY 2

Sandycove had the services of G. C. Higginbotham, their captain, in the return Senior League match with Dublin University at the Blackrock Baths last evening, but they had to go all out to secure the points.

Fletcher scored early on for Trinity, and Fagan made an opening for O'Brien to equalise. Fagan put Sandycove in front, and Horlacher scored a third from a free taken by Higginbotham. Butler had bad luck in not scoring in the second half before Fagan got Sandycove's fourth. Butler reduced the lead.

Sandycove—W. J. McCormick; J. Allen, G. C. Higginbotham (capt.); N. F. Judd; L. O'Brien, A. F. Horlacher and C. Fagan.

Dublin University— G. F. Mitchell; B. G. Kearon (capt.), H. G. Butler; H. A. Daniels; H. P. Dockrell, C. A. Boyle and M. D. Fletcher.

Referee—Mr. H. G. Ellerker.

Junior League.—Dublin University 2nd, 3; Sandycove 2nd 2.

BOXING.

COOK BEATS SCHONRATH.

George Cook, of Australia, one of the leading challengers for Jack Petersen's British heavy-weight championship, defeated Hans Schonrath, of Germany, in the third round of a twelve rounds contest at Wandsworth, London, last night. Schonrath's eye was so badly damaged that the referee stopped the fight in the third round.

ROWING.

GREAT RACE FOR THE LEANDER CUP.

DUBLIN CREWS DO WELL AT CORK REGATTA.

Dublin crews won six trophies at Cork Regatta yesterday, while the crews from Limerick failed to win any race. Shandon B.C. won two, while the senior sculling championship of the Lee went to the Galway man, J. Desmond, of Corrib.

The Trinity crew, which did so well at Henley, was the most fancied boat in the big event of the evening—the Leander Grand Challenge Cup for Senior Eights—and after a ding-dong battle with Waterford they beat the latter by just a length. It was a fine performance, however, when it is remembered that Trinity were rowing with only seven men, their No. 6 smashing his oar in a collision with two other boats at the start. The time taken was 5 mins. 56 1-4 secs. for the mile and a quarter course. The Trinity senior and junior fours were successful, and Neptune with two victories, and U.C.D. with one, completed the Dublin honours' list. The day was fine, and the rowing conditions excellent. Details:—

Bloomfield Cup (Junior Fours)—Shandon, 1; Lee, 2; Cork, 3. Won by three lengths.

Ladies' Challenge Cup (Senior Fours)—Shandon, 1; D.U.B.C., 2; Shannon, 3. Won by half a length.

Marina Challenge Cup (Junior Fours)—Neptune, 1; Limerick, 2; Athlunkard, 3; Cork, 0; Shannon, 0. Won by three-quarters of a length.

Schools' Race—Christian Brothers' College, 1; St. Finnbarrs, 2. Won by four lengths. Objection to winners.

Lee Challenge Cup (Junior Fours)—D.U.B.C., 1; Athlunkard "A," 2. Won by three lengths.

Cork City Challenge Cup (Senior Fours)—D.U.B.C., 1; Waterford, 2; Limerick, 3; Shannon, 0. Won by two lengths.

FitzGerald-Arnott Cup (Junior Eights)—Neptune, 1; Limerick, 2; U.C.D., 3; D.U.B.C., 0. Won by a length.

Leander Grand Challenge Cup (Senior Eights)—D.U.B.C., 1; Waterford, 2; Lee, 3; Shannon, 0; Limericks, 0; Shandon, 0. Won by a length.

Senior Scullers' Championship of the Lee—J. Desmond (Corrib) finished alone.

GOLF.

OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP OF IRELAND.

The draw for the Open Championship of Ireland, the first qualifying round for which will be played at Portmarnock on next Tuesday, starting at 10 o'clock, will be published in the Irish Times to-morrow.

Abe Mitchell wired his regret at having to scratch owing to indisposition, but there have been no other important withdrawals.

There are one hundred and twenty-seven entries, and the draw embraces many exceptionally attractive pairings.

Special arrangements have been made by the Championship Committee to facilitate visitors getting to the course from the city by 'bus, particulars of which will be announced on Saturday morning.

Applications for Press and Press photographers' tickets and Press car passes (with number of car) should be made to J. P. Rooney, Irish Times, Dublin.

SARAZEN AND KIRKWOOD AT CARLOW.

Gene Sarazen and Joe Kirkwood will play an exhibition match at Carlow on next Sunday at 3.30, following which Kirkwood will amuse the company with a display of his trick shots and lecture on "the simplicity of golf." Among the Australian's shots may be mentioned: he buries a ball in the ground and drives it two hundred yards down the fairway with the brassey; standing back to the green, he "explodes" the ball over his head on to the green; he hits two balls with the club simultaneously, slicing one and pulling the other!

DEATH OF MR. W. F. THOMPSON.

The death took place on Sunday, at the age of 72, of Mr. William F. Thompson, 148 Leinster road, Rathmines, an old and much respected member of the Milltown Golf Club. In the early 'eighties Mr. Thompson was a first-class cricketer, and was one of Mr. J. M. Meldon's team who toured America in 1884. During the War years he was engaged at the War Office and on returning to Dublin was for some time secretary of the Milltown Club.

The funeral to Mount Jerome Cemetery yesterday was largely attended. Milltown Golf Club was represented by Mr V. E. Becker (captain), Dr. J. F. O'Grady (vice-president), Mr. P. Gorevan (hon. treasurer), Mr W. J. Carbery (hon. secretary), Mr. John Roy (secretary), Mr. E. J. Donovan, Mr. T. R. T. Callan, Mr. T. F. Mitchell, Mr. Stanley Lyon, Mr. Fred E. Davies, Mr. H. J. Johnston, and Mr. G. W. Beaumont.

MISS BARTON REACHES FRENCH FINAL.

Miss "Pam" Barton (Royal Mid. Surrey), the seventeen-year-old Richmond girl, who was runner-up in the Ladies' Championship last May, yesterday reached the final of the French Championship.

In the 36-holes final at Le Touquet to-day Miss Barton will meet Mdlle. Lavigne (St. Germain), a comparatively unknown player, who was not seeded in the draw.

In the semi-final matches Miss Barton defeated Mlle. Aline de Gunzbourg, the French native champion, by 4 and 3, and Mlle. Lavigne beat Mlle. Monique Fay (St. Germain), a French international, by 2 and 1.

Miss Barton played a steady game, particularly on the greens, and she missed only one easy putt. She was 2 up at the turn, and won comfortably.

LIVE-STOCK TRADERS' COMPLAINT.

That the Free State Government, by bounties, was subsidising English and Northern Ireland cattle-traders to the detriment of her own traders, was the substance of a strong complaint entered at the meeting of the Irish Live Stock Exporters' and Traders' Association, Ltd., at Prosperity Chambers, Dublin, last night.

Mr. J. P. Cuffe, who spoke on the matter, said:—"I think it is a scandal to see so many of these men coming from Great Britain and Northern Ireland and getting licences to export cattle, when men here are unable to get them. Shippers in this country cannot get store export licences, yet they are the people who have to pay taxes to support the Government. These fellows from outside can come in on Wednesday night and pack their bags on Thursday morning. It is a shame to see them taking out the Free State bounty money. They are getting money that the farmers and the cattle dealers of this country are not getting. We should get our legitimate rights. Irishmen should be able to handle their own cattle Irish people should have the quota and not outsiders. We were capable of handling the cattle trade of thirty and forty years ago, and we are capable of handling what there is now. But other people are taking the bread out of Irishmen's mouths. If Great Britain did not want our cattle she would not come and take them," concluded Mr. Cuffe.

A discussion followed, several members supporting Mr. Cuffe, but no action was taken regarding the protest.

Allegations of unfair treatment by the British Customs at Birkenhead were recalled when a letter was read from the Imperial Customs and Excise, London. This referred to the sale of Irish cattle which, shipped under the store quota, are assessed as fat, and seized at the English ports. The practice is to sell these cattle, and after deduction of a fine (up to £4) and expenses to return the money to the owner. The quota for fat cattle has, it will be remembered, been reduced by half compared with last year's figures.

The letter from the Customs and Excise Commissioners in London stated that the beasts seized at Birkenhead were sold by private treaty, the highest quotation from local traders being accepted. It was understood that this was in accordance with the practice of the cattle trade at Birkenhead. There was no evidence to support the Association's view that cattle were disposed of "far below their value." Exporters could readily ascertain the method of sale of seized animals, the prices realised, and, in the case of slaughtered animals, the weight. Such information had, in fact, already been supplied.

Members expressed the opinion that cattle were not sold at Birkenhead as the letter from London suggested, but that they were sold privately, at low prices, and the Birkenhead salesmen were not given a chance to purchase.

The meeting agreed to send copies of the letter to various cattle salesmen in Birkenhead.

WORK AT THE CURRAGH.

THE CURRAGH, Wednesday.

SELECTING BREEDING STOCK.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Poultry Correspondent says:—

Commence selecting from among both the older and younger birds for next year's breeding pens. The hens and cocks of over a year old which have been in the breeding pens should now get as much freedom as it is possible to allow them. Any of the hens which have not proved satisfactory for breeding purposes should be disposed of if they are no use for laying. If they have proved good layers of unfertile eggs t'ey can be kept among the laying hens; but if their egg yield has been poor, in addition to being unsatisfactory for breeding, it is better to dispose of them for table purposes before they become too poor through moulting. The cocks which have proved good in the breeding pen may be retained if they are still healthy and vigorous, even if they are two or three years old.

THE ERMINE MOTH.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Garden Correspondent says:—

This pretty little moth, which is making its presence felt in some orchards, coming under our observation recently, and concerning which we have been asked to place a few remarks on record, may be classed as indirectly destructive to the apple crop; that is to say, it does not attack the fruit, but seriously injures and weakens the tree by boring into the buds in early spring, and later on feeding on the surface of the leaves, the result being the falling of the apples soon after setting, and the consequent loss of crop. Whole colonies of tiny black caterpillars may be seen in the web tents spun by the parent moths among the leaves, which they weave together in a wonderful manner. Early in spring the tiny caterpillars burst their shells in which they remained dormant during winter, and commence their destructive work. In May or June the tent-building begins and the attack on the foliage is engaged in, and towards the end of the present month the caterpillars, now fully grown, spin their cocoons and turn into chrysalides until September, when they emerge as perfect moths to begin their cycle of life again. By carefully collecting and burning the webs and their contents, and by spraying the trees in winter and spring, this pest may be kept under control.

Summer SALE
HUGE REDUCTIONS IN FURNISHINGS
Prior to stock-taking we are "spring-cleaning" our entire stock of furnishing fabrics. All odd pieces left over after the season's trade and all discontinued designs have been picked out and the prices drastically revised. In many cases the new clearing price is practically half the regular price, so that there are some really unusual bargains to be picked up. For instance, in one big assortment there are some of Tootal's Art. Silk and Cotton Brocades that were 2/3, 2/6, and 2/11; a few 31" Sundour Shadow Tissues worth 2/9, and Heavy Repp Shadow Tissues that make excellent loose covers and were selling at 2/6; also Horrockses "Prestona," a lovely furnishing print in pretty sweet pea, daisy, and modernist designs (these, by the way, would make splendid beach frocks and overalls). In addition there are Art. Silk Casements, Fancy Slub Silks, and Heavy Printed Linens. ALL ONE PRICE TO CLEAR, per yard ... 1/6
